French,Geneviève Fabre,1979 The Lever of Riches Joel Mokyr,1992-04-09 In a world of supercomputers genetic engineering and fiber optics technological creativity is ever more the key to economic success But why are some nations more creative than others and why do some highly innovative societies such as ancient China or Britain in the industrial revolution pass into stagnation Beginning with a fascinating concise history of technological progress Mokyr sets the background for his analysis by tracing the major inventions and innovations that have transformed society since ancient Greece and Rome What emerges from this survey is often surprising the classical world for instance was largely barren of new technology the relatively backward society of medieval Europe bristled with inventions and the period between the Reformation and the Industrial Revolution was one of slow and unspectacular progress in technology despite the tumultuous developments associated with the Voyages of Discovery and the Scientific Revolution What were the causes of technological creativity Mokyr distinguishes between the relationship of inventors and their physical environment which determined their willingness to challenge nature and the social environment which determined the openness to new ideas He discusses a long list of such factors showing how they interact to help or hinder a nation s creativity and then illustrates them by a number of detailed comparative studies examining the differences between Europe and China between classical antiquity and medieval Europe and between Britain and the rest of Europe during the industrial revolution He examines such aspects as the role of the state the Chinese gave up a millennium wide lead in shipping to the Europeans for example when an Emperor banned large ocean going vessels the impact of science as well as religion politics and even nutrition He questions the importance of such commonly cited factors as the spill over benefits of war the abundance of natural resources life expectancy and labor costs Today an ever greater number of industrial economies are competing in the global market locked in a struggle that revolves around technological ingenuity The Lever of Riches with its keen analysis derived from a sweeping survey of creativity throughout history offers telling insights into the question of how Western economies can maintain and developing nations can unlock their creative potential Poetry by American Women, about faith morality and God that Christian Wiman does and even fewer perhaps none do so with his urgency and eloquence Wiman an award winning poet and the author of My Bright Abyss lays the motion of his mind on the page in this genre defying work an indivisible blend of poetry criticism theology and searing memoir As Marilynne Robinson wrote Wiman's poetry and his scholarship have a purifying urgency that is rare in this world It enables him to say new things in timeless language so that the reader's surprise and assent are one and the same Zero at the Bone begins with Wiman's preoccupation with despair and through fifty brief pieces he unravels its seductive appeal The book is studded with the poetry and prose of writers who inhabit Wiman's thoughts and the voices of Wallace Stevens Lucille Clifton Emily Dickinson and others join his own At its heart and Wiman's however are his family his young children who ask their own invaluable questions like Why are you a poet I mean why his wife and those he grew up with in West Texas Wiman is the rare thinker who takes on the mantle of our greatest mystics and does so with an honest profound and contemporary sensibility Zero at the Bone is a revelation
