Macnab Of Dundurn:

MacNab of Dundurn Marion MacRae, 1971 Dundurn Castle Edward Smith, 2007-09-25 One of the most fascinating figures in Canadian history Hamilton's Sir Allan Napier MacNab was a charismatic character who lived large in the political and business world of his day Born into a genteel family on the fringe of the powerful Family Compact MacNab began his career as a boy soldier in the War of 1812 then dabbled in the theatre before beginning a law practice A banker financing his own ventures he made his fortune in land development and railways and spent half of his adult life in politics serving as premier and acting as speaker for both houses during his more than a quarter century in parliament He built his fort on the water that would become known as Dundurn Castle in 1835 Throughout his career the castle with its picturesque setting dozens of rooms the latest in plumbing and an embellishing dovecote and cockpit embodied his aspirations and approach to life in a young enterprising city Within its walls he experienced triumphs and loss including the death of his wife defeat in politics and finally the crumbling of his finances leaving him penniless at his death in 1862 This book tells the colourful story of MacNab family man politician and entrepreneur and describes the grand and beautiful setting of home and grounds The Scottish Nation William Anderson, 1877 against which he played out his life Roots of Entanglement Myra Rutherdale, Kerry Abel, P. Whitney Lackenbauer, 2018-01-31 Roots of Entanglement offers an historical exploration of the relationships between Indigenous peoples and European newcomers in the territory that would become Canada Various engagements between Indigenous peoples and the state are emphasized and questions are raised about the ways in which the past has been perceived and how those perceptions have shaped identity and in turn interaction both past and present Specific topics such as land resources treaties laws policies and cultural politics are explored through a range of perspectives that reflect state of the art research in the field of Indigenous history Editors Myra Rutherdale Whitney Lackenbauer and Kerry Abel have assembled an array of top scholars including luminaries such as Keith Carlson Bill Waiser Skip Ray and Ken Coates Roots of Entanglement is a direct response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's call for a better appreciation of the complexities of history in the relationship between Indigenous and non Indigenous peoples in Canada Scottish Nation; or the Surnames, Families, Literature, Honours, and Biographical History of the People of Scotland William Anderson, 2021-10-29 Reprint of the original first published in 1867 The Scottish Nation; Or The Surnames, Families, Literature Honours, and Biographical History of the People of Scotland. [With Illustrations, Including Portraits, and Genealogical Tables.] William Anderson (Miscellaneous Writer.),1863 Records of the Family of Cassels and Connexions Robert CASSELS (of Edinburgh.),1870 Records of the family of Cassels and connexions [ed. by R. Cassels. With 1980 suppl., by D.K. and F.K. Cassels Robert Cassels, 1870 Housing the North American City Michael Doucet, John C. Weaver, 1991-08-06 Doucet and Weaver begin this empirical analytical and narrative study with an analysis of the evolution of land development as an enterprise and continue with an examination of house design and construction practices the development of the apartment building and an account of class and age as they relate to housing tenure They also relate developments in Hamilton to the current state of urban historiography using their case study to resolve discrepancies and contradictions in the literature Among the major themes the authors deal with is a controversial exploration of what they see as a central North American urge the desire to own a home Other themes include the social allocation of urban space the quality and affordability of housing the increased interest of large corporations in the land development and financial service industries and a comparative analysis of housing in Canada and the United States The authors have drawn on civic and business records dating from the early nineteenth century to the latest planning data Combining this information with their comprehensive analysis Doucet and Weaver show that current housing problems and potential solutions are better understood when seen as part of a historical process They provide a critical assessment of the ways in which contemporary society produces shelter and question the use of technical innovations alone to resolve housing crises Ontarian Families Edward Marion Chadwick, 1894

The Masonic observer (and grand lodge chronicle).

The People and the Bay Nancy B. Bouchier, Ken Cruikshank, 2016-01-15 This masterful social and environmental history raises questions about how decisions being made about the natural world today will shape the cities of tomorrow In 1865 John Smoke braved the ice on Burlington Bay to go spearfishing Soon after he was arrested by a fishery inspector and then convicted by a magistrate who chastised him for thinking that he was at liberty to do as he pleased with Her Majesty s property With this story Nancy Bouchier and Ken Cruikshank launch their history of the relationship between the people of Hamilton Ontario and Hamilton Harbour aka Burlington Bay From the time of European settlement through to the city's rise as an industrial power townsfolk struggled with nature and with one another to champion their particular vision of the bay as a place to live work and play As Smoke discovered the outcomes of those struggles reflected the changing nature of power in an industrial city From efforts to conserve the fishery in the 1860s to current attempts to revitalize a seriously polluted harbour each generation has tried to create what it believed would be a livable and prosperous city Hamilton Street Names Margaret Houghton, 2002-10-22 Beach Boulevard Mud Street Sulphur Springs Road Paradise Road the Jolley Cut street names are a vivid and living embodiment of a city s history of the dreams passions and workaday concerns of its citizens Love murder betrayal political intrigue all are present in this engaging new book about Hamilton's past Most Hamiltonians know that MacNab Street was named after Allan Napier MacNab a famous native son but who were the people who gave their names to James King or Barton streets Fennell Avenue or Kitty Murray Lane Street names offer a unique meandering path through Hamilton's fascinating past full of curious biographical culs de sac and occasional sweeping historical vistas Hamilton Street Names includes more than 120 routes in the new city Each alphabetically organized entry offers fascinating insights into the city's social political cultural or military history Richly illustrated with archival photographs this book offers fascinating views into the past of the new Hamilton Family Ties Andrea Terry, 2015-06-01

House museums act as both sources and suppliers of history Functioning first as private residences they are then preserved as commemorative monuments and become living history museums offering theme based tours led by period costumed interpreters so that visitors might experience what it felt like to live back then In Family Ties Andrea Terry considers the appeal and relevance of domesticated representations of Victorian material culture in a contemporary multicultural context Through three case studies Terry examines Victorian homes that have been repurposed as living history museums that host speculative performances of the past The credibility of Dundurn Castle in Hamilton William Lyon Mackenzie House in Toronto and the Sir George tienne Cartier National Historic Site of Canada in Montreal Terry argues relies on the belief that architectural monuments and the objects they contain are evidence of the time culture nation or people that produced them Family Ties connects residential artifacts to performance by examining the Victorian Christmas programs offered annually at each site to demonstrate the complex nuances of living history Through a detailed exploration of the relationship between heritage living history and memory Family Ties illuminates the effects of institutional interpretations of the past that privilege nationalist myths The Tartans of the Clans and Septs of Scotland ,1906 From Bloody Beginnings David R.
