James William Tutt

Macrolepidoptera Of Buckinghamshire:

The Macrolepidoptera of Buckinghamshire Sir Eric Cecil Ansorge, 1969 Records of Buckinghamshire, 1971
Local Lists of Lepidoptera J. M. Chalmers-Hunt, 1989 The Entomologist's Record and Journal of Variation James William Tutt, 1909 Large White Butterfly J. Feltwell, 2012-12-06

The literature is still one of our biggest frustrations to day There is in one sense too much of it and in another not enough for there are insufficient and inadequate published guidelines through this jungle Last year two excellent books for students of ecological chemistry were published one in France and one in England The concordance of the references was a mere overall 3% rising to 7% in the chapters on pheromones Even in the computer age the channel remains a formidable barrier to the rapid exchange of biological information At the present time we are in urgent need of compilations similar to John Feltwell's The Large White Butterfly since the literature has become virtually unmanageable This insect is now a demonstration object in the sixth form schoolroom an experimental rabbit in the University laboratory a test animal in virus and bacterial research projects a tool for the study of flight mechanisms migration plant biochemistry hormones genetics allergies pigments mimicry etc etc John Feltwell has by this massive compilation rendered us a great service in fact he has given us a present of 4 000 hours of library time spent in 50 different libraries in seven countries In the process he has collected 8000 references to the Large White Of these 4000 have been selected and we are given a brief indication of their contents Entomologist's Gazette, 1996 The Moths and Butterflies of Great Britain and Ireland: Micropterigidae-Heliozelidae John Heath, A. M. Emmet, John R. Langmaid, Keith P. Bland, 1976 Each volume in this series contains introductory chapters on important aspects of the study of British Lepidoptera keys to families and species and a full description details of life history and a distribution map for each species as well as structural drawings where necessary Woodland Conservation and Research in the Clay Vale of Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire K. J. Kirby, F. J. Wright, 1988 Proceedings and Transactions of the British Entomological and Natural History Society British Entomological and Natural History Society, 1985 The Natural History of Blenheim's High Park Aljos Farjon, 2024-08-08 High Park at Blenheim in Oxfordshire UK is a SSSI of great significance for its numerous ancient oaks and the organisms associated with these trees This book gives a detailed lavishly illustrated and thoroughly researched description of the biodiversity and natural history of what is by several measures the most significant site for ancient oaks in Europe It draws together the expertise of more 60 specialists and reports on the results of in depth surveys of High Park Chapters cover different groups including flora including bryophytes fungi lichens molluscs arachnids flies hymenoptera butterflies moths beetles with a special focus on saproxylic species bugs reptiles and amphibians birds and mammals Despite their undoubted importance very few sites with ancient oaks in England the most important European country for these magnificent trees have seen a comprehensive published account adding to the value of this study Several of the contributing authors describe their survey techniques in some detail some of which are not widely known Records are analysed in the various chapters and often compared with data from other similar sites Overall the book gives encouraging evidence of the great biodiversity still to be found in England and should help to stimulate similar efforts to uncover the biodiversity and describe the natural history of ancient parkland and woodland so that conservation of these sites can be based on firm scientific data Colour Identification Guide to Caterpillars of the British Isles. Macrolepidoptera Jim Porter,2013-01-21 This is the first comprehensive photo illustrated guide to the caterpillars of butterflies and macro moths The book illustrates over 850 different species or about 95% of resident extinct regular or irregular immigrant species to the British Isles All specimens are photographed in natural situations upon the relevant foodplants including many varieties indigenous to continental Europe Many of the species have never been illustrated as caterpillars before either by artwork or by photography This work has received unreserved support from the best and most competent entomologists Though the book illustrates British species it is most valuable for lepidopterists all over Europe and especially in North and Central Europe Never before have so many superb colour photographs of Lepidoptera been brought together in a book After Preface Acknowledgements Introduction and List of larvae required for photographs the systematic part with descriptions of the species follows The text is for each species divided into the following chapters Larva with description Foodplant Habits incl information on how to breed the species The book should appeal to anyone with an interest in European Macrolepidoptera Who's who ,1975 Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index ,1971 Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress,1970 Beginning with 1953 entries for Motion pictures and filmstrips Music and phonorecords form separate parts of the Library of Congress catalogue Entries for Maps and atlases were issued separately 1953 1955 Kingfisher ,1968 The Butterflies of the London Area Colin W. Plant,1987 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1976 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1979 The British National Bibliography ,1968 The Zoological Record ,2003
