for more metaphors than animals Speaking of Animals is a dictionary of animal metaphors that are current in American English It is comprehensive historical and metaphor based Each entry refers to the other dictionaries that catalog that same metaphor and the dates of first appearance in writing are supplied where possible for both the metaphor and the name of the source The main text is organized alphabetically by metaphor rather than by animal or animal behavior all the metaphors are classified according to their animal source in a list at the end of the book An animal metaphor is a word phrase or sentence that expresses a resemblance or similarity between someone or something and a particular animal or animal class True metaphors are single words such as the noun tiger the verb hog and the adjective chicken Phrasal metaphors combine true metaphors with other words such as blind tiger hog the road and chicken colonel Other animal metaphors take the form of similes such as like rats leaving a sinking ship and prickly as a hedgehog Still others take the form of proverbs such as Don't count your chickens before they hatch and Let sleeping dogs lie The horse is the animal most frequently referred to in metaphors followed closely by the dog The Bible is the most prolific literary source of animal metaphors followed closely by Shakespeare

Dream Girl SANJEEV SRIVASTAVA, 2015-01-07 DREAM GIRL Set Free is the story of a man who has just come out of a good job following his Boss due to their friendship The Boss places his trust in him yet again but this time with a project that is entirely removed from what he has been doing so far in life He takes up the challenge partly owing to lack of something else to do and partly due to the very attractive offer that the Boss puts out to him He finds himself all alone and in strange waters the Boss is placed elsewhere and beyond regular touch He needs someone to share his fears and apprehensions with His family is the centre of his world But he knows better than to burden them with his problems and so he turns to his pet dog and finds in her silent acceptance an ideal anchor for that particular phase of his life like many of us who do find or create temporary anchors in life for the various phases of our lives As his project hits success his life starts to fall apart and it all ends with the death of his pet dog and on that very day he gets another chance at life Life goes on Will he make another anchor for the next phase of his life The story leaves us at speculation and expectation Told in a manner similar to Wodehouse it has its underlying humour swelling and ebbing through the course of the narrative and would keep the reader entertained throughout
