Children of Strangers Kathryn L. Morgan, 1980 Collecting her family's own stories and photographs Kathryn Morgan has brought to life the attempts of five generations of black women to cope with the fears, angers and anxieties of life in a hostile white society Compiled in three parts the Caddy Legends childhood reminiscences and Maggie's memories of color and race these tales are written in the southern black oral tradition and were told and re-told as emotional buffers against an inherently inhuman situation According to the author family folklore was the antidote used by our parents, grandparents and great grandparents to help us counteract the poison of self-hate engendered by racism The two principal warriors in these stories are Caddy the author's great grandmother slave born fountainhead of the family's oral tradition and Maggie the author's mother who could often pass because her skin was so light Through their recollections we receive an intense portrayal of everyday black life in a variety of settings and periods as well as characters and personalities From Caddy's home in Lynchburg Virginia to the successive generations that settled in North Philadelphia the psychological effects of emotional and physical segregation are recounted in many telling and ironic episodes Stories such as How Caddy Found Her Mother The Whipping and the Promise and God and Lice are profound in the truths they reveal Attempting to make the family's past applicable to the present the stories invariably had the function of bolstering the individual's self-esteem The fifteen photographs included in the book help introduce the reader to the Morgan family Too often traditional scholarship has presented black family life only in statistical aggregates or as a social problem Children of Strangers is a new kind of evidence about black urban and ethnic life it provides striking insights into the successful strategies used by black families to raise their children in a white dominated world Author note Kathryn L. Morgan teaches History at Swarthmore College

The Child's Friend, 1858 Maggie's Mistake: a Schoolgirl's Story Maggie, 1874 The Child's own magazine ,1867 Pain Through a Child's Eyes Joyce Turner,2011-02 This book is based on a true story of the life of a child who became the victim of cruel circumstances that led to years of rejection pain heartache and abuse Her blue eyes saw more in her young life than most see in a lifetime She felt she would always be a product of her past and could never see any way to a brighter future Shame and disgrace had taken a toll in her young life heart and soul She had lost all hope from the pain and struggles at such a tender young age that she contemplated suicide on many occasions Her life seemed to be spiraling down a slippery slope of no return Each day she stared in a mirror at a pale reflection of emptiness that gave her no reason to live or have hope for a brighter tomorrow Her heart wrenching home situation of abuse lack of love insecurity and turmoil drove her into a deep anger that almost destroyed her life Her world was shaken and turned upside down and she felt there was no one she could turn to for help or advice Yet something deep inside continually nudged her along the way to continue her fight for survival It took an extreme amount of energy to push the mess of life and the tears of rejection and abuse out of sight in order to maintain her sanity The longing in Joyce s tender heart for a better tomorrow was a driving force that would keep her from abandoning all hope Pain Through A Child s Eyes is a story that will touch the very core of your heart and bring tears to your eyes as you feel in your own heart the pain her blue eyes and heart encountered
