Expectation Rubin Battino, 2006-06-16 It is the author s contention that creating an environment where the client expects change is the foundation of doing effective very brief therapy His own private practice is one where he rarely sees clients more than one or two times Clients know in advance that this is the way that he works and so their expectation is that during this session they are going to get down to the hard stuff This means working as if each session were the last one So this book is about all of the things that are designed to work in a single session mode

Encyclopedia of the Sciences of Learning Norbert M. Seel, 2011-10-05 Over the past century educational psychologists and researchers have posited many theories to explain how individuals learn i e how they acquire organize and deploy knowledge and skills The 20th century can be considered the century of psychology on learning and related fields of interest such as motivation cognition metacognition etc and it is fascinating to see the various mainstreams of learning remembered and forgotten over the 20th century and note that basic assumptions of early theories survived several paradigm shifts of psychology and epistemology Beyond folk psychology and its naive theories of learning psychological learning theories can be grouped into some basic categories such as behaviorist learning theories connectionist learning theories cognitive learning theories constructivist learning theories and social learning theories Learning theories are not limited to psychology and related fields of interest but rather we can find the topic of learning in various disciplines such as philosophy and epistemology education information science biology and as a result of the emergence of computer technologies especially also in the field of computer sciences and artificial intelligence As a consequence machine learning struck a chord in the 1980s and became an important field of the learning sciences in general As the learning sciences became more specialized and complex the various fields of interest were widely spread and separated from each other as a consequence even presently there is no comprehensive overview of the sciences of learning or the central theoretical concepts and vocabulary on which researchers rely The Encyclopedia of the Sciences of Learning provides an up to date broad and authoritative coverage of the specific terms mostly used in the sciences of learning and its related fields including relevant areas of instruction pedagogy cognitive sciences and especially machine learning and knowledge engineering This modern compendium will be an indispensable source of information for scientists educators engineers and technical staff active in all fields of learning More specifically the Encyclopedia provides fast access to the most relevant theoretical terms provides up to date broad and authoritative coverage of the most important theories within the various fields of the learning sciences and adjacent sciences and communication technologies supplies clear and precise explanations of the theoretical terms cross references to related entries and up to date references to important research and publications The Encyclopedia also contains biographical entries of individuals who have substantially contributed to the sciences of learning the entries are written by a distinguished panel of researchers in the various fields of the learning sciences

Health Promotion International, 2003 Ecotherapy Linda Buzzell, Craig Chalquist, 2010-07-01 In the 14 years since Sierra Club Books published Theodore Roszak Mary E Gomes and Allen D Kanner's groundbreaking anthology Ecopsychology Restoring the Earth Healing the Mind the editors of this new volume have often been asked Where can I find out more about the psyche world connection How can I do hands on work in this area Ecotherapy was compiled to answer these and other urgent questions Ecotherapy or applied ecopsychology encompasses a broad range of nature based methods of psychological healing grounded in the crucial fact that people are inseparable from the rest of nature and nurtured by healthy interaction with the Earth Leaders in the field including Robert Greenway and Mary Watkins contribute essays that take into account the latest scientific understandings and the deepest indigenous wisdom Other key thinkers from Bill McKibben to Richard Louv to Joanna Macy explore the links among ecotherapy spiritual development and restoring community As mental health professionals find themselves challenged to provide hard evidence that their practices actually work and as costs for traditional modes of psychotherapy rise rapidly out of sight this book offers practitioners and interested lay readers alike a spectrum of safe effective alternative approaches backed by a growing body of research
