they offer and the rhizomatic writing and presentational styles they use promote a form of educational activism through theory They interrogate the conference space as a regulated normalized and standardized mode of academic knowledge production which they call the AcademicConferenceMachine and playfully subvert the dominant meanings and modes of conferences and workshops to show how we can better interact and produce research with and for each other The authors indicate how creative conference practices promote playful possibilities to imagine and produce knowledge differently This book will appeal to audiences ranging from established professionals to early career scholars doctoral and master s students in Education and the social sciences
