Oldest Old:

The Oldest Old Richard M. Suzman, David P. Willis, Kenneth G. Manton, 1995 More than 23 million Americans are now age 85 and older and the population total in this age group is steadily expanding This book brings together leading researchers to review current knowledge about the demography health epidemiology and social status of the oldest old From discussions of the impact of Alzheimer's disease to an examination of changing social and medical policies this book provides much needed information about this often neglected but growing group The special problems attendant to information gathering among the oldest old such as interviews and research are also addressed Special intercultural perspectives inform chapters on The Black Oldest Old and Institutional Long term Care from an International Perspective This is essential reading for gerontologists public health professionals epidemiologists and policy makers The book's broad scope enlarges our understanding of the current needs of the oldest old and indicates areas of public concern

Growth of America's Oldest-old Population, 1992 Human Longevity, Individual Life Duration, and the Growth of the Oldest-Old Population

Jean-Marie Robine, Eileen M. Crimmins, Shiro Horiuchi, Yi Zeng, 2007-03-21 Old age survival has considerably improved in the second half of the twentieth century Life expectancy in wealthy countries has increased on average from 65 years in 1950 to 76 years in 2005 The rise was more spectacular in some countries the life expectancy for Japanese women rose from 62 years to 86 years during the same period Driven by this longevity extension the population aged 80 and over in those countries has grown fivefold from 8.5 million in 1950 to 44.5 million in 2005 Why has such a substantial extension of human lifespan occurred How long can we live In this book these fundamental questions are explored by experts from such diverse fields as biology medicine epidemiology demography sociology and mathematics they report on recent cutting edge studies about essential issues of human longevity such as evolution of lifespan of species genetics of human longevity reasons for the recent improvement in survival of the elderly medical and behavioral causes of deaths among very old people and social factors of long survival in old age

Inventory of Data on the Oldest Old Population, 1989 Understanding Well-Being in the Oldest Old Leonard W. Poon, Jiska Cohen-Mansfield, 2011-04-11 The demographic and social structure of most industrialized and developing countries are changing rapidly as infant mortality is reduced and population life span has increased in dramatic ways In particular the oldest old 85 population has grown and will continue to grow This segment of the population tends to suffer physical and cognitive decline and little information is available to describe how their positive and negative distal experiences habits and intervening proximal environmental influences impact their well being and how social and health policies can help meet the unique challenges they face Understanding Well Being in the Oldest Old is the outcome of a four day workshop attended by U S and Israeli scientists and funded by the U S Israel Bi National Science Foundation to examine both novel and traditional paradigms that could extend our knowledge and understanding of the well being of the oldest old

Cardiac Management in the Frail Elderly Patient and the Oldest Old Andrea Ungar, Niccolò

Marchionni,2017-03-14 This book focuses specifically on the management of cardiovascular disease in elderly patients with particular frailties and in the oldest old It is clearly explained how treatment in these patients differs from that in patients in their seventies who respond well to therapies and do not present frailties or organ failures Although not young the latter patients can be treated almost like any other patient according to established guidelines In contrast the frail compromised elderly and the oldest old require specific measures that target their needs including with respect to underlying renal conditions The book considers all those pathologies that have a high prevalence in the general population explaining advanced treatment concepts and all aspects of assessment Key clinical points are highlighted and the text is supplemented with numerous informative figures and tables The authors are respected experts for the most part geriatric physicians and the book is especially addressed to cardiologists who may lack the described targeted information and treatment tools

Living Longer and Healthier at Older Ages Li Zhang,2024-09-05 This book analyzes data from eight waves 1998 2000 2002 2005 2008 2011 12 2014 and 2018 of the Chinese Longitudinal Healthy Longevity Surveys CLHLS to explore how health status of the Chinese oldest old has changed over time and across birth cohorts It also intends to investigate how period and birth cohorts have played a role in the associations between Chinese oldest old s health and a variety of demographic socioeconomic and lifestyle factors The book applies the age period cohort APC approach and constructs cross classified random effects models CCREMs to carry out the analyses The oldest old s health is measured by self rated health SRH chronic diseases cognitive function and subjective wellbeing which is indicated by positive and negative feeling scores The results show that Chinese oldest old s health status has changed over time and across birth cohorts Significant period and cohort effects are shown when linking Chinese oldest old s health to various demographic socioeconomic and health lifestyle covariates In general period effects surpass the cohort effects Particularly the oldest old s subjective wellbeing is more likely to be influenced by period than cohort effects Period changes caused by social events such as economic hardship and natural disasters have left strong imprints on Chinese oldest old s mental than physical health status Based on these findings the book highlights some important policy implications and points out future research directions to improve the current study It provides an interesting read for researchers in gerontology and public health studies It is also of interest to general audience including practitioners in health care and policy makers who are interested in old age care and healthy aging policies

Older Women in Europe Isabella Paoletti,2022-09-30 This book is about older women s strength freedom tenacity determination resilience independence social and political involvement and in particular it is about re imagining ageing Older women represent the great majority of older people The book describes instances of age and gender discrimination and examples of social inclusion and protagonism of older women in Europe It solicits a change in perspective focusing on the necessary societal changes to make space to older people and older women in particular How is society going to address age and gender discrimination in social and institutional settings How should work settings change to effectively make space to older workers and in particular older women How should the pension system change How could public health systems could provide effective care to older people and be sustainable This edited collection focuses on older women s rights rather than their needs adopting a human rights based approach Preservation of older women s dignity autonomy and security is its central topic that is ensuring that their rights are recognised This collection offers insights valuable to a wide array of human rights activists professionals policymakers and social scientists and older women themselves Handbook of Population Dudley L. Poston, Michael Micklin, 2006-08-10 This comprehensive handbook provides an overview and update of the issues theories processes and applications of the social science of population studies The volume s 30 chapters cover the full range of conceptual empirical disciplinary and applied approaches to the study of demographic phenomena This book is the first effort to assess the entire field since Hauser and Duncan s 1959 classic The Study of Population The chapter authors are among the leading contributors to demographic scholarship over the past four decades They represent a variety of disciplines and theoretical perspectives as well as interests in both basic and applied research What Matters for Health and Happiness Among the Older Adults in Asia Nai Peng Tey, Halimah Awang, Shekhar Chauhan, 2024-03-11 People want to live a healthy and happy later life A large body of literature shows the close association between health status and happiness and between health and active engagement in work exercise and social and religious activities However the causation between the two can run both ways and it is difficult to determine the causal effect with cross sectional data Various authors have shown the significant influence of socioeconomic factors and human needs on older people s health status and happiness A better understanding of the factors affecting healthy and happy aging is essential for policymaking to improve the well being of older people The availability of data from HRS family studies in several Asian countries CHARLS in China LASI in India JSTAR in Japan KLoSA in Korea IFLS in Indonesia HART in Thailand MARS in Malaysia and Longitudinal Study of Ageing and Health in Viet Nam see Gateway to Global Aging Data provides an excellent opportunity for researchers to examine factors affecting health and happiness among older adults within and across Asian countries This research topic aims to gather papers that investigate the socioeconomic attitudinal and behavioural factors affecting the health status and happiness life satisfaction of older adults in Asia The dependent variables may include physical health mental health disability ADL IADL cognitive functioning self rated health health expenditure feeling of happiness and life satisfaction The independent variables may be age gender marital status place of residence educational level active engagement work exercise social and religious activities family and social relationship and support outlook in life smoking drinking and access to and utilization of healthcare services etc Manuscripts can be based on individual countries or cross country analysis preferably using the panel data to establish the causal effects of the independent variables on the dependent variables

The Older Population, 2010 Carrie A. Werner, 2011 Working with Older Adults: Group Process and Technique Barbara Haight, Faith Gibson, 2005-03-30 Beginning with an overview of the changing world of aging this book goes on to address practical principles and guidelines for group work Trames, 1997 Encyclopedia of Human Development Neil J. Salkind, 2005-10-14 The field of human development focuses on the growth and development of the human being including physical social psychological and emotional development Under the broad umbrella of the term human development you find countless topics that range from charting the emotional attachment of an infant to his or her parents and its long term effects on well being media violence and adolescents behavior or factors moderating the natural decline in physical and mental abilities associated with aging The Encyclopedia of Human Development is the first comprehensive authoritative and informative reference work that presents state of the art research and ready to use facts from the fields of psychology individual and family studies and education in a way that is not too technical With more than 600 entries this three volume Encyclopedia covers topics as diverse as adolescence cognitive development education family gender differences identity longitudinal research personality development prenatal development temperament and more Key Features Provides cross disciplinary coverage with contributions from experts in the fields of psychology education human development and family studies and gerontology Highlights classic studies and theories and provides brief biographies of notable researchers and theorists Takes a lifespan approach by including several anchor essays that cover specific phases of development such as prenatal infancy childhood adolescence early and middle adulthood later adulthood and aging Begins with an Introduction that details the scope rationale and audience for the work The cross disciplinary field of human development is one that captures interest among and holds practical relevance for the general public as well as academia therefore this engaging Encyclopedia will be a welcome addition to any academic or public library Internal migration of the older population, 1995 to 2000 Wan He, Jason Schachter, 2003 International Handbook of Population Aging Peter Uhlenberg, 2009-04-29 The International Handbook of Population Aging examines research on a wide array of the profound implications of population aging It demonstrates how the world is changing through population aging and how demography is changing in response to it Advanced Age Geriatric Care Nages Nagaratnam, Kujan Nagaratnam, Gary Cheuk, 2018-11-26 As the Baby Boomers age concerns over healthcare systems abilities to accommodate geriatric patients grow increasingly challenging This is especially true with the population deemed to be the oldest of the old specifically those over the age of 85 Unlike any other time in history this demographic is the fastest growing segment of most developed countries In the United States the oldest old is projected to double from 4.3 million to 9.6 million by 2030 The increased life expectancy of the population since the early 1900s has been built on the improvement of living conditions diet public health and advancement in medical care With this we have seen a steady decline in the age specific prevalence of vascular and heart diseases stroke and even dementia Older persons are healthier today than their counterparts decades ago More importantly than in any other age group the care of the oldest old must be individualized management decisions should be made taking into consideration the older persons expressed wishes quality of life function and mental capacity The inevitable consequence is that there will be an increase in the prevalence of older persons with chronic diseases multiple co existing pathologies and neuro degenerative diseases The oldest of the aging population are often excluded from drug trials and their treatments are largely based on findings extrapolated from that of the younger old Furthermore among the oldest old physiologically they are more diverse than other segments of the population Their demographic characteristics are unparalleled and different compared to that of the younger old Several studies have drawn attention to the differing attitudes among health professionals towards elderly people and many show prejudice because they are old As a result the use of age as a criteria in determining the appropriateness of treatment is of very limited validity yet there are limited resources that guide physicians through these challenges This book creates a greater awareness of these challenges and offers practical guidelines for working within the infrastructures vital to this demographic This book is designed for geriatricians primary care physicians junior medical officers specialty geriatrics nurses and gerontologists It is divided into 3 sections General Considerations Chronic diseases and Geriatric Syndromes Each chapter provides a summary of important and essential information under the heading of Key Points Case studies are included in some of the chapters to highlight the principles of management

The Oxford Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Daniel B. Kaplan, Barbara Berkman, 2016 This Second Edition of the Handbook addresses the evolving interdisciplinary health care context and the broader social work practice environment as well as advances in the knowledge base which guides social work service delivery in health and aging This includes recent enhancements in the theories of gerontology innovations in clinical interventions and major developments in the social policies that structure and finance health care and senior services In addition the policy reforms of the 2010 Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act set in motion a host of changes in the United States healthcare system with potentially profound implications for the programs and services which provide care to older adults and their families In this volume the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars address a variety of populations that social workers serve and the arenas in which they practice followed by detailed recommendations of best practices for an array of physical and mental health conditions The volume s unprecedented attention to diversity health care trends and implications for practice research policy make the publication a major event in the field of gerontological social work This is a Must Read for all social work social work educators practitioners and students interested in older adults and their families
