

The eldest ones said that the laughter and tears are sewn right into the quilt, part and parcel, stitch by stitch. Emotions, experiences, heartbreak, mourning, pain and regret, stitched into the cloth, along with happiness, satisfaction, cheer, comfort, and love. The finished quilts were a living thing, a reflection of the spirits of its creators.

Keeper of Reflections Durlabh Singh, 2011-06-01 Description Collection of 32 thought provoking poignant beautiful tales Mental Ward deals with the descent of a woman into mental distress and a hallucinatory world while the Paper Boat depicts the first confrontation of an innocent child with harsh realities of living In Lice Cure and Designer Monkey there is undercurrent of humour to lighten burden of existence while other pieces explore the unexplored world of literature and life Readers with wider taste will find plenty of material to wet their appetites About the Author Durlabh Singh is a writer and an artist based in London England He has been published widely in over 300 publications worldwide His other book publications include Chrome Red Collected Poems Spaces of Heart Illustrated Verse Kama Sutra of Love Collections of Short Stories Keeper of Reflections Other Stories In The Days of Love Novel Throughout his life he had to struggle against the odds Having lost his father at very early age he had to take up the role of head of family being the only male member in the household Facing all the injustices of Indian social class system where he had to provide big dowries for marrying his sisters and getting into debts The things took turn for worse when he came to England as extreme racism was rampant there when he was constantly ridiculed and set upon by gangs of youths Landlords refused to rent him even a room and shopkeepers refused to serve He was subject to racial taunts in streets and at work He suffered number of physical attacks and partially lost sight of an eye as he was beaten in a busy London street That constant harassment eventually resulted in acute depression and a mental breakdown and as a result he was admitted to a mental hospital He took up painting and writing as a therapy and developed these arts where he could find it easier to breath from constant atmosphere of suffocation It helped him to survive and to keep his mental balance in finding transcendence and wider fields of human creativity People suffering from mental distress may find solace in his works

Reflections on Aesthetic Judgment and other Essays Benjamin Tilghman, 2017-11-28 Benjamin Tilghman has been a leading commentator on analytic philosophy for many years This book brings together his most significant and influential work on aesthetics Spanning a period of thirty years and covering topics in aesthetics from literature to painting the collection traces the development of Tilghman's two principal themes a rejection of philosophical theory as a way of resolving problems about our understanding and appreciation of art and the importance of the representation and presentation of the human and human concerns in art Tilghman is profoundly influenced by the philosophy of Ludwig Wittgenstein and his work is informed throughout by his conception and practice of philosophy Written with exceptional clarity and with many references to original work in both painting and literature this collection will be an invaluable resource not only for professional philosophers but for those working in the arts generally art historians critics and literary theorists

Critical Reflections on Women, Family, Crime and Justice Isla Masson, Lucy Baldwin, Natalie Booth, 2021-05-18 Drawing on original research from the Women Family Crime and Justice research network this edited collection sheds new light on the challenges and experiences of women and families who encounter the criminal justice system in the UK Each contribution demonstrates how these groups are often ignored oppressed and repeatedly victimised The book addresses crucial issues including short term imprisonment trauma specific interventions schools supporting children affected by parental imprisonment and visibility and voice in research Bringing together contemporary knowledge from both research and practice this ambitious volume offers valuable insights and practical recommendations for positive action and change
