Parents Speak Out Then And Now:

Family-Centred Assessment and Intervention in Pediatric Rehabilitation Mary Law, 2014-10-29 Family Centred Assessment and Intervention in Pediatric Rehabilitation analyzes the effectiveness of Family Centred Services FCS for children with disabilities or chronic illnesses This text provides you with the exact definition of FCS and offers proof that parent involvement in children s treatment greatly enhances therapy You can use the suggestions and methods to integrate parents into therapy maximizing the family s intervention experiences and making your work more successful and effective Many clinicians agree that families play a crucial part in deciding what intervention strategies are best for their children From this text you will learn that listening to parents and valuing parental input will give you insight into the goals needs and ambitions families have for their children This enables you to choose with the parent the interventions that best suit your patients needs and the needs of their families In addition to information on how to integrate parents and families into intervention Family Centred Assessment and Intervention in Pediatric Rehabilitation offers suggestions that will improve your existing FCS or help you implement a family centred approach including performing therapy in natural settings such as school or home to make changes in the children s social and physical environments acknowledging the grieving and adaptation process of families while being compassionate and understanding letting parents describe what they would like their child to be able to do and accomplish in the future putting the parents concerns and requests first enabling parents to deal with caring for their child supporting parents and reinforcing them when they have innovative and helpful ideas informing parents on the progress of their children and educating parents on methodologies and strategies used in FCS Many of the suggestions derived from the analysis of current data and original research in Family Centred Assessment and Intervention in Pediatric Rehabilitation have immediate clinical applicability allowing you to quickly adapt methods into your intervention processes This text also provides you with information on types of evaluative methods such as Measure of Processes of Care MPOC and Family Centred Program Rating Scale Fam PRS that will help you determine if your FCS program is working efficiently Emphasizing the goal of parent interaction in FCS services Family Centred Assessment and Intervention in Pediatric Rehabilitation offers methods that will improve your work with families and patients making services more beneficial and relevant to the child and to their families Parents Speak Out for America's Children, 1992

Partnering with Parents Barry Trute, Diane Hiebert-Murphy, 2013-02-07 Internationally recognized as the gold standard in providing services to children with special needs and their family members family centred practice has developed substantially over the past two decades However there has not been until now a basic practice text for guiding professional education and skill building across diverse areas Filling this significant gap Partnering with Parents is a primer on family centred practice for professionals working in children s health and developmental services The material in this textbook spans interdisciplinary training across key child service sectors particularly child development child mental health and children's health The authors identify and discuss the key principles of the model as it is practiced in Canada with a focus on working alliances empowerment methods and the development of social support resources Providing examples of the application of family centred practice in a wide range of service settings Partnering with Parents will be useful for the social workers nurses psychologists and allied health professionals who work together in complex service situations Meeting Families Where They Are Beth Harry, Lydia Ocasio-Stoutenburg, 2020 This book presents an in depth discussion of how human disability and parental advocacy have been constructed in American society including recommendations for a more authentically inclusive vision of parental advocacy The authors provide a cultural historical view of the conflation of racism classism and ableism that have left a deeply entrenched stigma one that positions children with disabilities and children of color as less valuable than others To redress these inequities the authors offer a working model of co constructed advocacy designed to benefit all families Because advocacy is not a one size fits all endeavor the authors propose meeting families where they are and learning their strengths and needs while preparing and repositioning families to empower themselves The authors intend to challenge us and they do They engage us in a secular liberation ethic That is why this book is important Rud Turnbull distinguished professor emeritus University of Kansas Of value to educators doctors parents and parent advocates this text purposefully centers the experiences of parents of color who have children with disabilities David J Connor professor emeritus City University of New York An enlightening and stimulating read for those committed to better understanding the complexity of the plight of parents of color as they attempt to advocate for the educational needs of their child with a disability Wanda J Blanchett dean Rutgers University Graduate School of Education Families and People with Mental Retardation and Quality of Life Ann P. Turnbull, Ivan Brown, H. Rutherford Turnbull, 2004 Revision of papers presented at the Eloisa de Lorenzo Symposium on Family Quality of Life held July 30 Aug 1 2000 in Seattle Wash

School-Parent Collaborations in Indigenous Communities Iris Manor-Binyamini, 2013-10-31 Poverty Lack of social support Limited access to education High risk for health problems Indigenous communities face an inordinate number of hardships But when children have special needs these problems multiply exponentially making existing difficulties considerably worse School Parent Collaborations in Indigenous Communities Providing Services for Children with Disabilities begins with an in depth overview of indigenous experience and psychology and situates disabilities within the contexts of indigenous communities and education services The pilot study at the core of the book conducted among the Bedouins of southern Israel shows this knowledge in action as special education personnel engage parents in interventions for their children Going beyond facile concepts of cultural sensitivity the model recasts professionals as cultural mediators between school and family This practice oriented information has the potential to improve not only the well being of children and families but of the greater community as well Featured in the coverage Unique characteristics of indigenous communities and children with disabilities Psychological models of reactions to disability Benefits of multidisciplinary teams Factors affecting collaboration between indigenous parents of children with disabilities and school professionals Core principles of indigenously attuned collaboration An extended case study on collaboration between parents of children with disabilities and school professionals in a Bedouin community School Parent Collaborations in Indigenous Communities is a breakthrough resource for researchers graduate students and professionals working with special needs children in child and school psychology international and comparative education social work cross cultural psychology public health and educational psychology

It Takes More than Love Brittany Salmon, 2022-04-05 Embrace the beauty and challenges of transracial adoption Being an adoptive parent is hard enough But when your family is multiracial things get even trickier Parenting transracially doesn't come naturally nor does it just happen with time Love is essential yet by itself love isn't enough Cross cultural parenting also takes intentionality listening learning growing repenting changing then starting all over and doing it again It's hard work And yet when an adoptive family honors the ethnic heritages of their children the whole family as well as the watching world gets to see the beauty of a gloriously creative God In It Takes More Than Love Brittany Salmon shares her own family's story of transracial adoption and offers a biblically based guide for others following the same path Brittany recognizes that we live in divided times and there are extra challenges whenever race is part of the conversation But with wise insight and hard won experience she provides guidance about topics such as Maintaining a Gospel perspective throughout the journey Celebrating your child's history and heritage Confronting racism Responding to comments about your family Avoiding pitfalls in adoption Helping your kids feel represented in your home and community No one is promising transracial adoption will be easy least of all Brittany Yet the extra effort is balanced by a beauty that images our eternal destiny Until the day God makes all things new the welcoming an inclusive transracial family can help fulfill Jesus's words on earth as it is in heaven

Critical Perspectives on Project Head Start Jeanne Ellsworth, Lynda J. Ames, 1998-09-11 This book offers critical perspectives on the complex dynamics of politics class gender power race and ethnicity in Project Head Start past and present Moving beyond the literature on Head Start's effects on children's achievement this volume considers how the program has operated sometimes effectively and comfortably sometimes not with families in communities and with other institutions Contributors address historical background parent involvement and governance cultural diversity and relationships with other institutions The research reported is rich with the voices of parents community members and staff and is complemented by first person chapters written by participants themselves Head Start's appeal and its reputation for success are both championed and critically questioned in this book with an eye toward where Head Start might be going where it should be going and how we can better understand poverty social programs and education

The Schoolmaster of Abbach: and Other Stories W. O. von Horn, 1870 Sexuality and Disabilities Romel W. Mackelprang, Deborah P. Valentine, 1993 Individuals with disabilities are often desexualized in our society yet they have the same need for intimacy self worth and social belonging as people without disabilities Sexuality and Disabilities addresses persons with physical sensory intellectual and cognitive disabilities and their concerns in the areas of intimacy family issues sexuality and sexual functioning It offers suggestions for professionals who work with persons with these disabilities to help them work more competently with disabled persons in the sexuality arena These concrete ideas are excellent for staff training and education and for enhancing professional development for those working with persons with physical disabilities The contributing authors create an awareness that all people need individualized consideration and that the special needs of all individuals are important especially for those who may have previously been left to discover things on their own usually unsuccessfully Sexuality and Disabilities focuses on a wide range of disabilities including physical developmental and learning disabilities mental retardation and conditions that may have an impact on people later in life such as strokes heart disease or other chronic illness Chapters discuss education and support issues for both practitioners and clients Some of the topics examined include components of a staff training program on sexuality and disability specific recommendations for sexuality education and counseling with people with spinal cord injuries and other acquired severe neurological disabilities a program model serving parents with mental retardation and their children specific ways educational programming social work intervention and policy efforts can address the special learning needs of people with cognitive impairments sources of support and stress for families caring for developmentally disabled children an analysis of special vulnerabilities and challenges relating to sexual victimization that confront people with disabilities An extremely helpful tool for human service practitioners Sexuality and Disabilities is also a valuable resource for graduate and undergraduate students who have an interest in working with people with physical cognitive or mental disabilities and helping them explore this basic facet of their lives

Quality of Life and Disability Ivan Brown, 2003 The authors apply ideas about quality of life to the field of disability to assist front line professionals managers and policy makers in effective service provision They examine the historical context of the concept of quality of life and discuss the application of quality of life in the daily lives of people who have disabilities

Kids in the Middle Marshall Strax, Carol Strax, Bruce S. Cooper, 2012-03-14 Kids in the Middle The Micro Politics of Special Education takes the reader on a fascinating journey through special education in the past present and future On this journey the micro politics of special education are seen through the eyes and experiences of children with disabilities their parents and advocates adult educators and school administrators Supplementing these perspectives to develop an understanding of special education that goes beyond its administrative and political aspects such as the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act IDEA are scholars with expertise in special education law administration severe and profound disabilities ethics finance teaching and disability rights Together these voices explain the micro political issues that affect how children with disabilities are educated Kids in the Middle promotes a new model of special education to help transform special education Instead of perpetuating a system grounded in the concepts of promises privilege and power this book considers how to build a system based on caring compassion and the common good a system that will elevate the status of special education children who are lost in the middle
