Sound Design is the New Score Danijela Kulezic-Wilson, 2019-11-01 The practice of blurring the line between score and sound design has transformed contemporary film soundscape by challenging not only the long established hierarchical relationships between dialogue music and sound effects but also the modes of perception shaped by classical soundtrack practices The methods of this new trend rely on the language of contemporary popular and art music producing soundtracks in which it is difficult to tell the difference between score and ambient sound where pieces of electroacoustic music are merged with diegetic sound sound effects are absorbed into the score or treated as music and diegetic sound is treated as musique concr te In Sound Design is the New Score Kulezic Wilson explores theoretical aesthetic and sensuous dimensions of this new trend providing a multifaceted portrait of a practice which recognizes the interconnectedness of all soundtrack elements and emphasizes their inherent musicality The aesthetic concerns of this practice are illuminated through the concept of the aesthetics of reticence which rejects classical narrative and scoring conventions and uses integrated soundtrack strategies to create the space for mystery in art and for individuality in the cinematic experience The book s emphasis on sensuous and musical aspects of this practice informed by the feminist discourse on the erotics of art challenges popular notions about sensory cinema demonstrating that the sensuousness of film form and its soundscapes is more sophisticated than simply being the result of excessive sensory stimulation facilitated by the use of digital technology or the intensified aesthetics it inspires The discussion is supported by a wide range of case studies from American Independent Asian Australian and European cinemas including films by Shane Carruth Claire Denis Hou Hsiao Hsien Harmony Korine David Mich d Gus Van Sant and Peter Strickland

The Measurement and Development of Empathy in Nursing William Reynolds, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 Empathy is known to be crucial to helping relationships but professional helpers including nurses do not normally display much empathy as it has not been measured in clients terms and accordingly taught This text examines a study in which a client centred empathy scale was developed the client centred measure of empathy was found to be reliable and valid and a course designed to teach nurses to offer empathy in clients terms was effective The findings of the study have implications for the future design of nurse education and the goals of the health service approach the poetry he sets as raw material to be remade a pretext for self expression a sanctified artefact or a message to be illustrated with music In my book I examine Franz Liszt s songs for voice and piano which remain little known to scholars artists and music lovers alike The objective is to present Liszt s songs in all their complexity and diversity as well as identifying the key elements of the composer s broadly understood song writing technique both those that make him unique and those that relate him to the European tradition This approach also makes it possible to shed light on a major though previously neglected aspect of the composer s workshop namely his work with the poetic text which to Liszt was just as important as the musical setting Michael Cavendish.

Franz Liszt's Songs for Voice and Piano Małgorzata Gamrat, 2023-11-27 How does a Romantic composer
