Screaming Life A Chronicle Of The Seattle Music Scene:

Screaming Life Charles Peterson, Michael Azerrad, 1995 Traces the growth of the grunge music scene in Seattle during the early 1990s in an illustrated book that includes a compact disc recording of the scene's leading bands The Pleasures of Death Arthur Flannigan Saint-Aubin, 2020-12-09 The year 2019 marked the twenty fifth anniversary of the death of Kurt Cobain an artist whose music words and images continue to move millions of fans worldwide As the first academic study that provides a literary analysis of Cobain's creative writings Arthur Flannigan Saint Aubin's The Pleasures of Death Kurt Cobain's Masochistic and Melancholic Persona approaches the journals and songs crafted by Nirvana's iconic front man from the perspective of cultural theory and psychoanalytic aesthetics Drawing on critiques and reformulations of psychoanalytic theory by feminist queer and antiracist scholars Saint Aubin considers the literary means by which Cobain creates the persona of a young white heterosexual man who expresses masochistic and melancholic behaviors On the one hand this individual welcomes pain and humiliation as atonement for unpardonable sins on the other he experiences a profound sense of loss and grief seeking death as the ultimate act of pleasure The first person narrators and characters that populate Cobain's texts underscore the political and aesthetic repercussions of his art Cobain's distinctive version of grunge understood as a subculture a literary genre and a cultural practice represents a specific performance of race and gender one that facilitates an understanding of the self as part of a larger social order Saint Aubin approaches Cobain's writings independently of the artist's biography positioning these texts within the tradition of postmodern representations of masculinity in twentieth century American fiction while also suggesting connections to European Romantic traditions from the nineteenth century that postulate a relation between melancholy or depression and creativity In turn through Saint Aubin's elegant analysis Cobain's creative writings illuminate contradictions and inconsistencies within psychoanalytic theory itself concerning the intersection of masculinity masochism melancholy and the death drive By foregrounding Cobain's ability to challenge coextensive links between gender sexuality and race The Pleasures of Death reveals how the cultural politics and aesthetics of this tragic icon's works align with feminist strategies invite queer readings and perform antiracist critiques of American culture This Ain't the Summer of Love Steve Waksman, 2009-02-04 Waksman brings a new understanding to familiar material by treating it in an original and stimulating manner This book tells the other side of the story Philip Auslander author of Performing Glam Rock Gender and Theatricality in Popular Music While there are a number of histories of punk and metal and numerous biographies of important bands within each genre there is no comparable book to This Ain't the Summer of Love The ultimate contribution the book makes is to provoke the reader into rethinking the ongoing fluid relationship between punk a music that enjoyed considerable critical support and metal a music that has been systematically denigrated by critics This book is the product of superior scholarship it truly breaks fresh ground and as such it is an important book that will be regularly cited in future work Rob Bowman Professor of Music at York University and author of

Soulsville USA The Story of Stax Records Debunking simplistic assumptions that punk rebelled and heavy metal conformed Steve Waksman demonstrates with precisely chosen examples that for decades the two shared strategies and concerns As a result this important volume is among the first to extend to rock history the same much needed revisionism that elsewhere has transformed our understanding of minstrelsy blues country music and pop Eric Weisbard author of Use Your Illusion I II

Please Allow Me to Introduce Myself: Essays on Debut Albums George Plasketes,2016-04-22 Debut albums are among the cultural artefacts that capture the popular imagination especially well As a first impression the debut album may take on a mythical status whether the artist or group achieves enduring success or in rare cases when an initial record turns out to be an apogee for an artist Whatever the subsequent career trajectory the debut album is a meaningful text that can be scrutinized for its revelatory signs and the expectations that follow Please Allow Me to Introduce Myself: Essays on Debut Albums tells the stories of 23 debut albums over a nearly fifty year span ranging from Buddy Holly and the Crickets in 1957 to The Go Team in 2004 In addition to biographical background and a wealth of historical information about the genesis of the album each essay looks back at the album and places it within multiple contexts particularly the artist s career development In this way the book will be of as much interest to sociologists and historians as to culture critics and musicologists

Stars Don't Stand Still in the Sky Karen Kelly, Evelyn McDonnell, 1999 Music industry insiders on the nature of fame. Our cultural darlings make music; we make them mythic. Every musical genre begets a community of listeners, performers, and critics, and quite often those categories are blurred. From the principled punk refusal of celebrity to hip-hop's celebration of its power, the music world is self-obsessed. Stars Don't Stand Still in the Sky assembles scholars, music writers, industry workers, and musicians who offer a range of opinions and experience of the nature of fame. The collection focuses on commerce, the crowd, performance, and image, history, and memory, and romance. Contributors discuss black women icons, love songs, the legacy of the blues, the image of the tortured rock star, MTV, the politics of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, the joy of line dancing, and more. The contributors are James Bernard, Anthony DeCurtis, Katherine Dieckmann, Chuck Eddy, Paul Gilroy, Daniel Glass, Lawrence Grossberg, Jessica Hagedorn, Kathleen Hanna, James Hannaham, Dave Hickey, Jon Langford, Greil Marcus, Angela McRobbie, Paul D.
