Loving Across Our Differences Gerald Lawson Sittser, 1994 Exploring the mutuality commands of the New Testament greet one another forgive one another comfort one another admonish one another Gerald L Sittser shows why these instructions for community life have never been harder to follow and never more important than during these days of increasing cultural diversity This book will develop spiritual maturity in its readers and deepen the life of love in the church Eugene H Peterson 240 pages paper

Loving through Your Differences James L. Creighton, 2019-02-05 FIND HAPPINESS AND FULFILLMENT THROUGH RATHER THAN DESPITE YOUR DIFFERENCES Dr James Creighton has worked with couples for decades facilitating communication and conflict resolution and teaching them the tools to build healthy happy relationships He has found that many couples start out believing they like the same things see people the same way and share a united take on the world But inevitably differences crop up and it can be profoundly discouraging to find that one's partner sees a person situation or decision completely differently Although many relationships flounder at this point Creighton shows that this can actually be an opportunity to forge stronger ties In Loving through Your Differences he draws on the latest research in cognitive science and developmental psychology to show how we invent our realities with our perceptual minds He then provides clear concrete tools for shifting our perceptions and reframing our responses The result moves couples out of the fear and alienation of your way or my way and into a deep understanding of the other that allows for an our way As Creighton shows this way of being together based on the reality of individuality rather than the illusion of sameness sets the stage for long term excitement discovery and fulfillment

Love Across Difference Lara Deeb, 2024-10-08 Lebanon may be the most complicated place in the world to be a mixed couple It has no civil marriage law fifteen personal status laws and a political system built on sectarianism Still Lebanon has the most interreligious marriages per capita in the Middle East What constitutes a mixed marriage is in flux as social norms shift and reactions to mixed marriage reveal underlying social categories of discrimination Through stories of Lebanese couples Love Across Difference challenges readers to rethink categories of difference and imagine possibilities for social change Drawing on two decades of interviews and research Lara Deeb shows how mixed couples in Lebanon confront patriarchy social difference and sectarianism In the drama that ensues as women and young men make their own marital choices they push gender boundaries and reveal the ultimately empty nature of sect as a category of social difference Love won't end sectarianism but it can contribute to reducing sect's social power Through the example of Lebanon we can learn about our own social worlds about the assumptions we make around social difference and about how people react when forced to change their ideas of who can be made kin through marriage
