Of Life and Love Freddy Fynn, 2010 Of Life and Love Eight Moral Tales is a collection of short stories written within the African tradition of storytelling. As the subtitle suggests, all eight tales have a strong moralistic twist and a range of settings. Written to offer insight into how life's choices are influenced by life experience and to show a range of different perspectives on moral issues, this collection is also a refreshing take on the short story genre. Author Freddy Fynn was born in Ghana, West Africa. Growing up in a community of storytellers had a big impact upon him and has helped him to create his unique writing voice. The eight tales contained within this collection are all influenced by African themes and a touch of Christian ideology. The collection includes tales such as A King's Lullaby in a small African village, a wise King's sayings are chronicled. In The Tenderness of Love, a housewife must choose forgiveness or divorce after discovering her husband's infidelity.

N. Meyer, 2022-01-27 During the Standing Rock Sioux protest against the Dakota Access Pipeline an activist observed Forced removal isn't just in the history books Sabine N Meyer concurs noting the prominence of Indian Removal the nineteenth century policy of expelling Native peoples from their land in Native American aesthetic and political praxis across the centuries Removal has functioned both as a specific set of historical events and a synecdoche for settler colonial dispossession of Indigenous communities across hemispheres and generations It has generated a plethora of Native American writings that negotiate forms of belonging the identities of Native collectives their proprietary relationships and their most intimate relations among one another By analyzing these writings in light of domestic settler colonial international and tribal law Meyer reveals their coherence as a distinct genre of Native literature that has played a significant role in negotiating Indigenous identity Critically engaging with Native Removal writings across the centuries Meyer's work shows how these texts need to be viewed as articulations of Native identity that respond to immediate political concerns and that take up the question of how Native peoples can define and assert their own social cultural and legal political forms of living being and belonging within the settler colonial order Placing novels in conversation with nonfiction writings Native Removal Writing ranges from texts produced in response to the legal and political struggle over Cherokee Removal in the late 1820s and 1830s to works written by African Native writers dealing with the freedmen disenrollment crisis to contemporary speculative fiction that links the appropriation of Native intangible property culture with the earlier dispossession of their real property land In close contextualized readings of John Rollin Ridge John Milton Oskison Robert J Conley Diane Glancy Sharon Ewell Foster Zelda Lockhart and Gerald Vizenor as well as politicians and scholars such as John Ross Elias Boudinot and Rachel Caroline Eaton Meyer identifies the links these writers create between historical past narrated present and political future Native Removal Writing thus testifies to both the ongoing power of Native Removal writing and its significance as a critical practice of resistance

Voices in the Drum R. David Edmunds, 2023-10-24 The history of indigenous peoples in North America is long and complex Many scholarly accounts now rely on statistical data to reconstruct this past but amid all the facts and figures it is easy to lose sight of the human side of the story How did Native people express their thoughts and feelings and what sources of strength did they rely on to persevere through centuries of change In this engaging narrative acclaimed historian R David Edmunds combines careful research with creative storytelling to give voice to indigenous individuals and families and to illustrate the impact of pivotal events on their lives A nonfiction account accompanies each narrative to provide necessary historical and cultural context Voices in the Drum features nine stories each of which focuses on a fictional character who is a composite or representation of historical people This series of portrayals takes the reader on an epic journey through time beginning in the early 1400s with the Mound Builder cultures and ending with the modern day urbanization of Native people Along the way we observe fictional characters interacting with real historical figures such as Anthony Wayne Tecumseh and John Sutter and taking part in actual events such as the Battle of Fallen Timbers the Trail of Tears the California gold rush and the forced removal of Native children to off reservation boarding schools The people portrayed in these pages belong to various tribes including Potawatomis Lakotas Oneidas and Cherokees Their individual stories ranging from humorous to tragic give readers a palpable sense of how tribal peoples reacted to the disruptive changes forced on them by European colonizers and U S government policies Both entertaining and insightful the stories in this volume traverse a range of time periods events themes and genres As such they reverberate like voices in the drum inviting readers of all backgrounds to engage anew with the rich history and cultures of indigenous peoples
