The Art and Culture of Scandinavian Central Europe, 1550-1720 Kristoffer Neville, 2019-12-10 Politically and militarily powerful early modern Scandinavia played an essential role in the development of Central European culture from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century In this volume Kristoffer Neville shows how the cultural ambitions of Denmark and Sweden were inextricably bound to those of other Central European kingdoms Tracing the visual culture of the Danish and Swedish courts from the Reformation to their eventual decline in the eighteenth century Neville explains how and why they developed into important artistic centers He examines major projects by figures largely unknown outside of Northern Europe alongside other more canonical artists including Cornelis Floris Adriaen de Vries and Johann Bernhard Fischer von Erlach to propose a more coherent view of this part of Europe one that rightly includes Scandinavia as a vital component The seventeenth century has long seemed a bleak moment in Central European culture Neville's authoritative and unprecedented study does much to change this perception showing that the arts did not die in the Reformation and Thirty Years War but rather flourished in the Baltic region

Nuremberg Miscellany on the one hand and the naïve untrained illustrations on the other hand are puzzling. Its illustrations are hardly mindful of volume depth or perspective and their folk art nature suggests that an unprofessional artist possibly even the scribe himself may have executed them. Whoever the illustrator was, his vast knowledge of Jewish lore unfolds layer after layer in a most intricate way. His sharp eye for detail renders the images he executed a valid representation of contemporary visual culture. The iconography of the Nuremberg Miscellany with its 55 decorated leaves featuring 25 text illustrations falls into two main categories: biblical themes and depictions of daily life, both sacred and mundane. While the biblical illustrations rely largely on artistic rendering and interpretation of texts, the depictions of daily life are founded mainly on current furnishings and accoutrements in Jewish homes. The customs and rituals portrayed in the miscellany attest not only to the local Jewish Minhag but also to the influence and adaptation of local Germanic or Christian rites. They thus offer first-hand insights to the interrelations between the Jews and their neighbors. Examined as historical documents, the images in the Nuremberg Miscellany are an invaluable resource for reconstructing Jewish daily life in Ashkenaz in the early modern period. In a period from which only scanty relics of Jewish material culture have survived, retrieving the pictorial data from images incorporated in literary sources is of vital importance in providing the missing link. Corroborated by similar objects from the host society and with descriptions in contemporary Jewish and Christian written sources, the household objects as well as the ceremonial implements depicted in the manuscript can serve as effective mirrors for the material culture of an affluent German Jewish family in the Early Modern period. The complete Nuremberg Miscellany is reproduced in the appendix of this book.

Re-inventing Ovid's Metamorphoses, 2020-10-26. This volume explores early modern recreations of myths from Ovid's immensely popular Metamorphoses, focusing on the creative ingenuity of artists and writers and on the peculiarities of the various media that were applied. The contributors try to tease out what pictorial devices, perspectives, and interpretative markers were used that do not occur in the original text of the Metamorphoses; what aspects were brought to the fore or emphasized and how these are to be explained. Expounding the whatabouts of these differences, the contributors discuss the underlying literary and artistic problems, challenges, principles, and techniques; the requirements of the various literary and artistic media; and the role of the cultural, ideological, religious, and gendered contexts in which these recreations were produced. Contributors are: Noam Andrews, Claudia Cieri Via, Daniel Dornhofer, Leonie Drees, Drylie Karl, A. E. Enenkel, Daniel Fulco, Barbara Hryszko, Gerlinde Huber, Rebenich Jan, L. de Jong, Andrea Lozano, V. Squez, Sabine L. tkemeyer, Morgan J.
