Quiet As Its Kept Shame Trauma And Race In The Novels Of Toni Morrison:

Quiet As It's Kept J. Brooks Bouson, 1999-12-02 Quiet As It's Kept draws on and extends recent psychoanalytic and psychiatric work of shame and trauma theorists to offer an in depth analysis of Toni Morrison's representation of painful and shameful race matters in her fiction Providing a frank and sustained look at the troubling if not distressing aspects of Morrison's fiction that other critics have studiously avoided or minimized in their commentaries this book challenges established views of Morrison showing her to be an author who forces readers into uncomfortable confrontations with matters of race In Quiet As It's Kept J Brooks Bouson explores these issues in Morrison's works The Bluest Eye Sula Song of Solomon Tar Baby Beloved Jazz and Paradise Morrison Nobel prize winning author has viewed part of her cultural and literary task as a writer to bear witness to the plight of black Americans Quiet as it's kept much of our business our existence here has been grotesque It really has she has commented As she exposes to public view sensitive race matters in her fiction Morrison presents jarring depictions of the trauma of slavery and the horrors of racist oppression and black on black violence

Quiet As It's Kept J. Brooks Bouson, 1999-12-02 Focuses on the role of shame and trauma as it looks at issues of race class color and caste in the novels of Toni Morrison Toni Morrison Lucille P. Fultz, 2003 In this innovative study Lucille P Fultz explores Toni Morrison's rich body of work uncovering the interplay between differences love and hate masculinity and femininity black and white past and present wealth and poverty that lie at the heart of these vibrant and complex narratives Much has already been made of Morrison's treatment of race but Playing with Difference demonstrates that throughout her work Morrison creates a sophisticated matrix of difference layering a multitude of other distinctions onto the racial one and observing how these potencies of difference play themselves out in her characters Fultz's holistic thematic approach to her subject enables her to move deftly among the novels and stories building a nuanced understanding of how markers of difference influence Morrison's narrative decisions She examines Morrison's facility with imagery and wordplay and discusses the ways in which Morrison contends with the expectations of gender and race that have stiffened into traditions or worse prejudices Discussing the issues that unite and divide characters Fultz views each novel from The Bluest Eye 1970 to Paradise 1998 along with stories such as Recitatif as parts of an elaborate and dynamic whole Dismemberment in the Fiction of Toni Morrison Jaleel Akhtar, 2014-06-19 Dismemberment in the Fiction of Toni Morrison is a multifaceted study of Toni Morrison's fiction It investigates racism and the concomitant experiences of dismemberment in Morrison's fiction from multiple perspectives including history psychology and culture Looking at dismemberment from multiple perspectives rather than the more generic and abstract expression of fragmentation likens the impact of racism on individuals to the splitting of bodies amputation phantom limbs and traumatic memories and in more concrete and visceral terms Morrison's art of story telling involves an interactive conversation from multiple perspectives demanding more attentive participation from her readers in deconstructing the meaning of her narratives Studying her fiction from multiple perspectives suggests various ways of examining the pernicious impact of racism which produces various forms of dismemberment in her characters This investigation does this without giving prominence to one perspective at the expense of other equally relevant modes of interpretation Morrison s depiction of the trauma of racism on the psyche of her characters and the concomitant experiences of dismemberment has its roots in the historical and social realities of African Americans The psychological impact of racism on Morrison s characters requires viewing through the lens of the historical and social realities that play a significant role Morrison enacts racial alienation and dismemberment as complex processes it is consequently important to look at her project from multiple perspectives Examining the lived reality of African Americans from only one perspective ignores dismemberment in the light of the socio political and historical realities of African American experience in the United States and entails reconsideration of the physical historical social and psychological realities This investigation argues for the importance of combining these historical and psychological as well as sociocultural analyses of Morrison s fiction in order to acquire a more rounded understanding of racism and its debilitating effects on the psyche By situating Morrison s fiction within a variety of discourses this study offers a multifaceted highly interdisciplinary framework for a more rewarding analysis of her fiction

Toni Morrison and the Queer Pleasure of Ghosts Juda Bennett, 2014-11-13 Offers the first queer reading of all ten of Morrison s novels Toni Morrison and the Queer Pleasure of Ghosts radically intervenes in one of the most established and sacred topics in Toni Morrison scholarship love Moving beyond Morrison s representation of ghosts as the forgotten or occluded past Juda Bennett uncovers how Morrison imagines the spectral sphere as always already queer a provocation and challenge to heteronormativity with the ghost appearing as an active participant in disruptions of compulsory heterosexuality as a figure embodying closet desires or as a disembodied emanation that counterpoints homophobia From The Bluest Eye to Home Morrison s novels have included many queer ghosts that challenge our most cherished conceptions of love and speak to cultural anxieties about black sexualities gay marriage AIDS lesbian visibility and transgender identities Not surprisingly the scene stealing ghost Beloved appears at the very heart of this book but Bennett cautions against interpretative stasis inviting readers to break free of the stranglehold Beloved has had on imaginations so as not to miss the full force of Morrison s lifelong project to queer love

The Politics of Transparency in Modern American Fiction Paula Martín Salván, Sascha Pöhlmann, 2024 A much needed contribution to and critique of debates in the newly emerging field of transparency studies from the perspective of American literary studies In the twenty first century transparency has become an ambiguous buzzword both in the public and the private realms e g Wikileaks and the Snowden affair social media This volume takes its cue from the emerging field of transparency studies recent scholarly work in sociology political theory and cultural studies that identifies a hegemonic rhetoric of transparency in public and political life While scholars in this new field routinely gesture toward literature as the realm where secrecy may be productive they rarely engage with literature directly and literary studies itself remains notably absent from their debates This collection of essays seeks to redress that state of affairs by focusing on literary texts written in an American cultural tradition steeped in the interplay between transparency and exposure fear and secrecy security and surveillance and information and disinformation The essays draw on authors ranging from Whitman James and Ellison to Pynchon Morrison and Eggers to argue that American literature complicates theoretical assumptions about transparency made in other disciplines They question the field's strong theoretical emphasis on present day technopolitical practices and discourses as the location of hegemonic discourse on transparency and instead historicize such phenomena and extend them to discursive spheres that have so far been neglected such as issues of sexuality and race Edited by Paula Mart in Salv an and Sascha P ohlmann Contributors Tomasz Basiuk Jes us Blanco Hidalgo Cristina Chevere san Julia Faisst Michel Feith Juli an Jim enez Heffernan Tiina K akel a Juan L P erez de Luque Umberto Rossi Jelena Sesni c Toon Staes Julia Straub Alice Sundman Disability and Modern Fiction A. Hall, 2011-11-11 Focusing on Faulkner Morrison and Coetzee as authors critics and Nobel Prize winning intellectuals this book explores shifting representations of disability in 20th and 21st century literature and proposes new ways of reading their works in relation to one another whilst highlighting the ethical aesthetic and imaginative challenges they pose Beloved Amy Sickels, 2009 Discusses the characters plot and writing of Beloved by Toni Morrison Includes critical essays on the work and a brief biography of the author Twentieth-Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context Linda De Roche, 2021-06-04 This four volume reference work surveys American literature from the early 20th century to the present day featuring a diverse range of American works and authors and an expansive selection of primary source materials Bringing useful and engaging material into the classroom this four volume set covers more than a century of American literary history from 1900 to the present Twentieth Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context profiles authors and their works and provides overviews of literary movements and genres through which readers will understand the historical cultural and political contexts that have shaped American writing Twentieth Century and Contemporary American Literature in Context provides wide coverage of authors works genres and movements that are emblematic of the diversity of modern America Not only are major literary movements represented such as the Beats but this work also highlights the emergence and development of modern Native American literature African American literature and other representative groups that showcase the diversity of American letters A rich selection of primary documents and background material provides indispensable information for student research Critical Companion to Toni Morrison Carmen Gillespie, 2007 Toni Morrison winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1993 is perhaps the most important living American author This work examines Morrison's life and writing featuring critical analyses of her work and themes as well as entries on related topics and relevant people places and influences The Forsaken Son Joshua Pederson, 2016-04-20 The Forsaken Son engages the provocative coincidence of the vocabularies of infanticide and Christianity specifically atonement theology in six modern American novels Flannery O'Connor's The Violent Bear It Away the first two installments of John

Updike's Rabbit tetralogy Toni Morrison's Beloved Joyce Carol Oates's My Sister My Love and Cormac McCarthy's Outer Dark Christian atonement theology explains why God lets His son be crucified Yet in recent years as an increasing number of scholars have come to reject that explanation the cross reverts from saving grace to trauma or even crime More bluntly without atonement the cross may be a filicide in which God forces his son to die for no apparent reason Pederson argues that the novels about child murder mentioned above likewise give voice to modern skepticism about traditional atonement theology

The Impact of Racism on African American Families Paul C. Rosenblatt, 2016-03-03 In spite of the existence of statistics and numerical data on various aspects of African American life including housing earnings assets unemployment household violence teen pregnancy and encounters with the criminal justice system social science literature on how racism affects the everyday interactions of African American families is limited How does racism come home to and affect African American families If a father in an African American family is denied employment on the basis of his race or a wife is demeaned at work by racist slurs how is their family life affected Given the lack of social science literature responding to these questions this volume turns to an alternative source in order to address them literature Engaging with novels written by African American authors it explores their rich depictions of African American family life showing how these can contribute to our sociological knowledge and making the case for the novel as an object and source of social research As such it will appeal to scholars and students of the sociology of the family race and ethnicity cultural studies and literature

black males offer useful insights on black women and patriarchy Many black feminists are doubtful Their skepticism derives in part from a history of explosive encounters with black men who blamed feminism for stigmatizing black men and undermining racial solidarity and in part from a perception that black male feminists are opportunists capitalizing on the current popularity of black women's writing and criticism In Breaking the Silence David Ikard goes boldly to the crux of this debate through a series of provocative readings of key African American texts that demonstrate the possibility and value of a viable black male feminist perspective Seeking to advance the primary objectives of black feminism Ikard provides literary models from Chester Himes's If He Hollers Let Him Go James Baldwin's Go Tell It on the Mountain Toni Morrison's Paradise Toni Cade Bambara's The Salt Eaters and Walter Mosley's Always Outnumbered Always Outgunned and Walkin the Dog that consciously wrestle with the concept of victim status for black men and women He looks at how complicity across gender lines far from rooting out patriarchy in the black community has allowed it to thrive This complicity Ikard explains is a process by which victimized groups invest in victim status to the point that they unintentionally concede power to their victimizers and engage in patterns of behavior that are perceived as revolutionary but actually reinforce the status quo While black feminism has fostered important and necessary discussions regarding the problems of patriarchy within the black community little attention has been paid to the intersecting dynamics of complicity By laying bare the nexus between victim status and complicity in oppression Breaking the Silence charts a new direction for conceptualizing black women's complex humanity and provides the foundations for more expansive feminist approaches to resolving intraracial gender conflicts

Unknowning Philip Weinstein, 2018-05-31 Philip Weinstein explores the modernist commitment to unknowing by addressing the work of three supreme experimental writers Franz Kafka Marcel Proust and William Faulkner In their novels the narrative props that support the drama of coming to know are refused When space turns uncanny rather than lawful when time ceases to be linear and progressive objects and others become unfamiliar So does the subject seeking to know them Weinstein argues that modernist texts work by way of surprise and arrest to subvert the familiarity and narrative progression intrinsic to realist fiction Rather than staging the drama of coming to know they stage the drama of coming to unknow The signature move of modernism is shock just as resolution is the trademark of realism Kafka Proust and Faulkner wrought their most compelling experimental effects by undermining an earlier Enlightenment project of knowing Weinstein draws on major Enlightenment thinkers to identify constituent components of the narrative of coming to know the progressive narrative underwriting two centuries of Western realist fiction The book proceeds by framing modernist unknowing between prior practices of realist knowing on the one hand and on the other certain later practices postmodern and postcolonial that move beyond knowing altogether In so doing Weinstein proposes a metahistory of the Western novel from Daniel Defoe to Toni Morrison

Our Mothers, Our Powers, Our Texts Teresa N. Washington, 2005-06-27 Washington writes supple and thoughtful prose and creatively integrates African and African derived terminology which never distract the reader I consider Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts not only a brilliant study but also a model to be emulated

Ouseyounou B Traore William Patterson University j is a Yoruba word that signifies a spiritual power of vast potential as well as the human beings who exercise that power Although both men and women can have j its owners and controllers are women the literal and cosmic Mothers who are revered as the gods of society Because of its association with female power its invisibility and profundity j is often misconstrued as witchcraft However as Teresa N Washington points out in Our Mothers Our Powers Our Texts j is central to the Yoruba ethos and cosmology Not only does it underpin the concepts of creation and creativity but as a force of justice and retribution j is essential to social harmony and balance As Africans were forced into exile and enslavement they took j with them and continued its work of creating destroying harming and healing in the New World Washington seeks out j's subversive power of creation and re creation in a diverse range of Africana texts from both men and women from both oral and contemporary literature and across space and time She guides readers to an understanding of the symbolic methodological and spiritual issues that are central to important works by Africana writers but are rarely elucidated by Western criticism She begins with an examination of the ancient forms of j in Yoruba culture which creates a framework for innovative readings of important works by Africana writers including Zora Neale Hurston Toni Morrison Ben Okri Wole Soyinka Jamaica Kincaid and Ntozake Shange This rich analysis will appeal to readers of Africana literature African religion and philosophy feminist studies and comparative literature
