Class, ethnicity and religion in the Bengali East End Sarah Glynn, 2016-05-16 This exploration of one of the most concentrated immigrant communities in Britain combines a fascinating narrative history an original theoretical analysis of the evolving relationship between progressive left politics and ethnic minorities and an incisive critique of political multiculturalism It recounts and analyses the experiences of many of those who took part in over six decades of political history that range over secular nationalism trade unionism black radicalism mainstream local politics Islamism and the rise and fall of the Respect Coalition Through this Bengali case study and examples from wider immigrant politics it traces the development and adoption of the concepts of popular frontism revolutionary stages theory and identity politics It demonstrates how these theories and tactics have cut across class based organisation and acted as an impediment to addressing socio economic inequality and it argues for a left materialist alternative It will appeal equally to sociologists political activists and local historians      Political Identity and Social Change Jamie Frueh, 2012-02-01 Political Identity and Social Change builds upon the constructivist theory of political identity to explore the social changes that accompanied the end of apartheid in South Africa To gain a better understanding of how structures of identity changed along with the rest of South Africa s institutions Frueh analyzes three social and political conflicts the Soweto uprisings of 1976 the reformist constitutional debates of 1983 1984 and post apartheid crime Analyzing these conflicts demonstrates how identity labels function as structures of social discourse how social activity is organized through these structures and how both the labels and their power have changed during the course of South Africa s transition In this way the book contributes not only to the study of South African society but also provides lessons about the relationship between identity and social change      Blacks and Social Change James W. Button, 2014-07-14 This book is a long term empirical analysis of the impact of the civil rights movement on the real life situations of southern blacks Looking at the period from the late 1950s to the mid 1980s it assesses the role of black political participation in six Florida cities Originally published in 1989 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in heart of the analysis      Women, Philanthropy, and Social Change Elayne Clift, 2005 The definitive book on women and philanthropy essential reading for scholars students donors grantees and philanthropists      Rick Turner's Politics as the Art of the Impossible Michael Onyebuchi Eze, Lawrence Hamilton, Laurence Piper, Gideon van Riet, Paula Ensor, Daryl Glaser, Christine Hobden, Billy Keniston, Ayesha Omar, John Sodiq Sanni, Tendayi Sithole, Crain Soudien, 2024-07-01 Revisits the work of Rick Turner a South African political theorist and addresses contemporary debates Rick Turner was a South African academic and anti apartheid activist who rebelled against the apartheid state at the height of its power For this he was assassinated in 1978 at just 32 years of age but his life and work are testimony to the power of philosophical thinking for humans everywhere Turner chose to live freely in an unfree time and argued for a non racial socialist future in a context where this seemed unimaginable This book takes seriously Rick Turner s challenge that political theorising requires thinking in a utopian way Turner s seminal book The Eye of the Need Towards a Participatory Democracy laid out some of his most potent ideas on a radically different political and economic system His demand was that we work to escape the limiting ideas of the present carefully design a just future based on shared human values and act to make it a reality both politically and in our daily lives The contributors to this volume engage critically with Turner s work on race relations his relationship with Steve Biko his views on religion education and gender oppression his participatory model of democracy and his critique of enduring forms of poverty and economic inequality They show how in his life and work Turner modeled how we can dare to be free and how hope can return as the future always remains open to human construction This book makes an important contribution to contemporary thinking and activism where the need for South Africans to define their understanding of their greater common good is of crucial importance      Comparative Perspectives on Racism Jessika ter Wal, Maykel Verkuyten, 2019-06-04 This title was first published in 2000 The book gives a discussion and many empirical examples of the possibilities for comparative research on racism In the book the questions and problems are discussed and the relative costs and benefits of comparative research are pointed out The question on what should be considered and solved when doing comparative research is central and the different chapters give specific answers Moreover the comparative issue is also raised with respect to the monitoring of racism in different countries and to initiatives for combating racism      After the Dream Timothy J. Minchin, John A. Salmond, 2011-02-14 Martin Luther King s 1965 address from Montgomery Alabama the center of much racial conflict at the time and the location of the well publicized bus boycott a decade earlier is often considered by historians to be the culmination of the civil rights era in American history In his momentous speech King declared that segregation was on its deathbed and that the movement had already achieved significant milestones Although the civil rights movement had won many battles in the struggle for racial equality by the mid 1960s including legislation to guarantee black voting rights and to desegregate public accommodations the fight to implement the new laws was just starting In reality King s speech in Montgomery represented a new beginning rather than a conclusion to the movement a fact that King acknowledged in the address After the Dream Black and White Southerners since 1965 begins where many histories of the civil rights movement end with King's triumphant march from the iconic battleground of Selma to Montgomery Timothy J Minchin and John Salmond focus on events in the South following the passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act and the 1965 Voting Rights Act After the Dream examines the social economic and political implications of these laws in the decades following their passage discussing the empowerment of black southerners white resistance accommodation and acceptance and the nation's political will The book also provides a fascinating history of the often overlooked period of race relations during the presidential administrations of Ford Carter Reagan and both George H W and George W Bush Ending with the election of President Barack Obama this study will influence contemporary historiography on the civil rights movement

Race, Ethnicity and Social Theory John Solomos, 2022-07-01 Race Ethnicity and Social Theory provides a critical analysis of the main areas of scholarly research and debate about racial and ethnic relations over the past few decades The book covers substantive areas of scholarly debate in this fast changing field including race and social relations identities and the construction of the racial other feminism and race the relationship between race and nationalism antisemitism the evolution of new forms of racism race and political representation and more generally the changing debates about race and ethnicity in our global environment The book argues that there is a need for more dialogue across national and conceptual boundaries about how to develop the theoretical tools needed to understand both the historical roots of contemporary forms of racialised social and political relations and the contemporary forms through which race is made and re made A key argument that runs through the book is the need to develop conceptual frameworks that can help us to make sense of the changing forms of racial and ethnic relations in contemporary societies This means developing more dialogue across national research cultures as well as empirical research that seeks to engage with the key issues raised by contemporary theoretical debates The book will be of interest to both students wanting to develop a deeper understanding of this area of scholarship and to researchers of race ethnicity and migration working in various national and disciplinary environments
