Race, Ethnicity, and Entrepreneurship in Urban America Ivan Hubert Light, Carolyn Nancy Rosenstein, The authors have assembled a vast body of census data to address cutting edge issues in entrepreneurship immigration urban studies economic sociology and social policy In a novel research formulation they compare the 272 largest metropolitan regions of the United States in respect to the entrepreneurship of various ethno racial groups Such a method permits them to vary the local economic environment and resource profiles of all major categories Virtually all previously available data on these issues relied upon averages and overlooked inter local variation within and among groups Interpreting the voluminous data which summarize the economic behavior of 100 million people Ivan Light and Carolyn Rosenstein first explain resources theory a supply side formulation providing a complete review of the large theoretical literature on immigrant and ethnic entrepreneurship They then address the other major theoretical concerns in the existing literature of social science among them the interactionist theory of entrepreneurship and the possible effect of disadvantage upon entrepreneurship The latter issue an important and long standing one receives careful and decisive examination that eventuates in a theoretically elegant solution A final chapter discusses social policy The authors contrast liberal and conservative assumptions about entrepreneurship faulting both Locating entrepreneurship outside the usual framework of manpower policy the authors make a case for a supply side policy science of entrepreneurship that is neutral in political implication Light and Rosenstein then suggest how policy might proceed to integrate two generations of social science research Their closing discussion relates policy implications to the economic development of inner cities in America

Vietnamese Diaspora in a Transnational Context, 2022-02-14 The Vietnamese diaspora is now a truly global diaspora. This collection one of the first of its kind traces the Vietnamese diaspora's multifaceted roots in late 19th and early 20th century French colonialism the end of the War in Vietnam and economic migrations to fellow communist states in the 1970s and 1980s. Out of these migrations Vietnamese communities have now formed in many of the major immigrant receiving countries around the world. This collection traces the connection between the historically traumatic forms of dispersal from Vietnam and today's transnational Vietnamese communities. It considers questions about how conditions of exit from Vietnam shape Vietnamese diaspora identities and patterns of settlement and economic integration. It also addresses questions of how memory politics shape the ways in which various segments of the Vietnamese diaspora engage with contemporary Vietnam and shape what is now an intergenerational diaspora.
