Racial Sensitivity And Multicultural Training:

Racial Sensitivity and Multicultural Training Martin Strous, 2004-01-30 Offering implications for democratizing psychology on a global scale this work illustrates how professional training for mental health practitioners is often inadequate on issues pertaining to race and racism The author shows prime examples in his homeland South Africa and focuses on how those practices reflect assumptions concerning racial superiority Also addressed is how therapists may be influenced by prevailing ideologies unaware of how prejudices translate into discriminatory work practices and ignorant of the power of their own discriminatory discourses The author also investigates how positive attitudes by counselors and therapists reflect positions related to racial sensitivity He proposes a new model for multicultural and multiracial sensitivity training Racial and Ethnic Tensions in American Communities United States Commission on Civil Rights, 1993

Race Talk and the Conspiracy of Silence

Derald Wing Sue, 2016-02-01 Turn Uncomfortable Conversations into Meaningful Dialogue If you believe that talking about race is impolite or that colorblindness is the preferred approach you must read this book Race Talk and the Conspiracy of Silence debunks the most pervasive myths using evidence easy to understand examples and practical tools This significant work answers all your questions about discussing race by covering Characteristics of typical unproductive conversations on race Tacit and explicit social rules related to talking about racial issues Race specific difficulties and misconceptions regarding race talk Concrete advice for educators and parents on approaching race in a new way His insistence on the need to press through resistance to have difficult conversations about race is a helpful corrective for a society that prefers to remain silent about these issues Christopher Wells Vice President for Student Life at DePauw University In a Canadian context the work of Dr Derald Wing Sue in Race Talk and the Conspiracy of Silence is the type of material needed to engage a populace that is often described as Too Polite The accessible material lets individuals engage in difficult conversations about race and racism in ways that make the uncomfortable topics less threatening resulting in a true dialogue rather than a debate Darrell Bowden M Ed Education and Awareness Coordinator Ryerson University He offers those of us who work in the Diversity and Inclusion space practical tools for generating productive dialogues that transcend the limiting constraints of assumptions about race and identity Rania Sanford Ed D Associate Chancellor for Strategic Affairs and Diversity Stanford University Sue s book is a must read for any parent teacher professor practioner trainer and facilitator who seeks to learn understand and advance difficult dialogues about issues of race in classrooms workplaces and boardrooms It is a book of empowerment for activists allies or advocates who want to be instruments of change and to help move America from silence and inaction to discussion engagement and action on issues of difference and diversity Integrating real life examples of difficult dialogues that incorporate the range of human emotions Sue provides a masterful illustration of the complexities of dialogues about race in America More importantly he provides a toolkit for those who seek to undertake the courageous journey of understanding and facilitating difficult conversations about race Menah Pratt Clarke JD PhD Associate Provost for Diversity University of Illinois Urbana Champaign

Suicide Among Racial and Ethnic Minority Groups

Frederick T.L. Leong, Mark M. Leach, 2010-04-15 Suicide is increasingly understood and predicted as an intersection of biological psychological cognitive and sociocultural factors We have some basic knowledge of these factors and how they interact but presently we know very little about how culture can play a role as a variable that influences suicide Suicide Among Racial and Ethnic Minority Groups will go a long way towards filling that gap by pulling together cutting edge empirical research from general cultural diversity literature and applying it to suicide assessment treatment and prevention theory and practice. By looking outside of the limited cross cultural studies done within suicidal populations the contributors all established experts in both multicultural counseling and suicidology expand the available empirical literature base in order to provide a deeper look into how culture can act as an important catalyst in suicidal intentions. Following theoretical overviews the text focuses on six broad ethnic groups classified in the literature: African American, American Indian, Asian American, European American, Hawaiian Pacific Islander, and Hispanic, with a main chapter devoted to each relating each culture to suicide research, highlighting specific variables within the culture that can influence suicide and presenting appropriate treatment considerations. A final section of the book consists of practical applications within specific settings: therapy, outreach, schools, psychiatric services, and prevention and training issues.

Developing, Delivering, and Sustaining School Counseling Practices Through a Culturally Affirming Lens Brant-Rajahn, Sarah N., Gibson, Eva M., Cook Sandifer, Mariama, 2022-05-06

Systemic oppression continues to disenfranchise students at the intersections of race, ethnicity, gender, identity, sexual orientation, immigrant status, religion, ableism, and economic status. Because of this, school counselors are called to function as advocates and change agents but often find themselves underprepared to address these oppressive systems in schools. It is vital that school counselors are provided resources that enable them to increase their preparedness and allow them to address oppressive practices within schools as well as work with diverse populations using culturally affirming and antiracist practices. Developing, Delivering, and Sustaining School Counseling Practices Through a Culturally Affirming Lens informs culturally affirming and antiracist professional practice and advocacy work by school counselors. It serves as a learning tool that better prepares school counselors to address the needs of marginalized students and work as effective change agents to disrupt systemic oppression in school settings. Covering topics such as professional identity, racial trauma, and social justice, this book serves as a dynamic resource for school counselor educators, school counselors in training, school counselors, directors, supervisors, district leaders, and administration, researchers, and academicians as they implement antiracist, social justice, and culturally affirming practices in school settings and academia.
