Rifenburg, 1955 Appraising the Appraisal Richard C. Sorenson, 2010 Megatrends in Retail Real Estate John D. Benjamin, 2012-12-06 Retail real estate properties and their marketplaces are in a constant state of change. The emergence of such new and growing value formats as warehouse clubs, factory outlet malls, and other powerful discount

formats provide traditional shopping centers and malls with increasingly competitive challenges These value and discount retail formats generate higher sales per square foot and have lower construction costs than many traditional retail properties Combined with the slow growth in retail sales and the increasing alternatives to in store retailing a question mark hangs over the future of retail marketplaces and the retail formats that will be the leaders of the future Megatrends in Retail Real Estate allows the reader to analyze and forecast changes in the retail marketplace The book presents a simple model to analyze and predict mall and shopping center investment returns It then examines the financing of retail properties and securitization of their mortgages as well as the operations of retail properties Finally the book analyzes new retail marketplaces and the international retail arena

Going Concern Valuation L. Deane Wilson MA ASA, Robin G. Wilson, 2012-02-09 Our purpose in writing this book is multifaceted First this book aims to present a clear understanding of going concern valuations at the same time resolving the current misrepresentations surrounding the issue Additionally this book offers a new set of rules readers can use to determine which property types qualify as going concern valuations and which do not This book presents an understanding that in performing a Going Concern Valuation of properties which are perceived to have a business component it may not be possible to segregate allocate or value the components individually For example when appraising the going concern value of a motel with occupancy of 75% it could be argued and possibly proven that there is a value that can be separated from the overall value or going concern value to the business component On the other hand however appraising that same motel with only 40% occupancy presents a completely different set of circumstances that could easily draw completely opposite conclusions It simply may be a lack of sufficient tools or data to argue and prove that the business component in fact has value separate from the real estate To do so with authority is tantamount to ignorance or arrogance challenges posed by the market to return our attention to real estate fundamentals and to strike a proper balance between Main Street and Wall Street The authors and editors hope that this book will influence the industry to incorporate many of Grasskamp s ideas into mainstream real estate education and practice Over the course of his career Graaskamp made many noteworthy contributions to real estate theory and practice ideas that if resurrected could offset some of the pressure in the industry to move away from market fundamentals The authors try to capture the essence of Graaskamp s messages and intend that the papers serve as a point of departure for discussing the future role and nature of real estate education Part I focuses on the major contributions to the real estate discipline made by Graaskamp and the Wisconsin Real Estate Program Part II contains some personal recollections and photos of Graaskamp and also a summary of the groups that make up the Wisconsin Real Estate Program a major co sponsor of this volume The rest of the book s three main parts are structured around major topics that reflect the multidisciplinary nature of real estate as espoused by Graaskamp Part III treats real estate feasibility and development Part IV concentrates on real estate valuation and Part V discusses institutional economics
