Loving Her Northeastern Library Of Black Literature:

Loving Her Ann Allen Shockley, 1997-10-30 Terry awakens in Renay a love and sexual desire beyond her erotic imaginings Despite the sexist racist and homophobic prejudices they must confront the mutually supportive couple finds physical and emotional joy Writing in the Kitchen David A. Davis, Tara Powell, 2014-08-04 Scarlett O Hara munched on a radish and vowed never to go hungry again Vardaman Bundren ate bananas in Faulkner s Jefferson and the Invisible Man dined on a sweet potato in Harlem Although food and stories may be two of the most prominent cultural products associated with the South the connections between them have not been thoroughly explored until now Southern food has become the subject of increasingly self conscious intellectual consideration The Southern Foodways Alliance the Southern Food and Beverage Museum food themed issues of Oxford American and Southern Cultures and a spate of new scholarly and popular books demonstrate this interest Writing in the Kitchen explores the relationship between food and literature and makes a major contribution to the study of both southern literature and of southern foodways and culture more widely This collection examines food writing in a range of literary expressions including cookbooks agricultural journals novels stories and poems Contributors interpret how authors use food to explore the changing South considering the ways race ethnicity class gender and region affect how and what people eat They describe foods from specific southern places such as New Orleans and Appalachia engage both the historical and contemporary South and study the food traditions of ethnicities as they manifest through the written word Black No More George Samuel Schuyler, 1989-11-07 Max Disher a black 1930s insurance salesman undergoes a process to turn him white Black Empire George Samuel Schuyler, 1991 George Samuel Schuyler was a noted black satirist of the early 20th century This book is an intricate tale of black nationalism science fiction and incredible feats of derring do intended to bolster black pride and accomplishment in the uneasy years before World War II The book originally ran as weekly serialized fiction in the Philadelphia Courier from 1936 to 1938 Principal character Dr Henry Belsidus is obsessed with releasing blacks from the crushing tyranny of racism and poverty and he plans to take over the world and enlists black intellectuals to help him Underlying the story is an attempt to resolve the philosophical economic and cultural chasms between blacks and whites The book reflects the hope and despair felt by blacks during this time From Library Journal All-night Visitors Clarence Major, 1998 All Night Visitors is devoted to lush description Mr Major is unquestionably a sincere and passionate writer New York Times Home to Harlem Claude McKay, 2012-09-11 A novel that gives voice to the alienation and frustration of urban blacks during an era when Harlem was in vogue The Black Sleuth John Edward Bruce, 2002 A novel featuring the first black detective in American fiction boldly attacking white prejudice and racial injustice in the U S and abroad The Seeking Will Thomas, 2013-09-03 The Seeking is the moving and uplifting story of the Thomas family s time among the people of Westford Vermont a life writes Thomas not based on race but on what we and they were like as human beings Back in print for the first time in fifty years this edition includes a new introduction that situates The Seeking in the canon of twentieth century black literature and a new afterword that follows the fortunes of Thomas and his family in the years after its initial publication The Seeking is both a story of one remarkable African American family and a story of race relations in mid century New England Loving Her Ann Allen Shockley, 2014-02-11 DIVDIVA groundbreaking novel of two very different women one black and one white and a remarkable love threatened by prejudice rage and violence divDIV A struggling African American musician Renay married Jerome Lee when she discovered she was pregnant with his child Yet even before their daughter Denise was born Renay realized what a terrible mistake she had made tying herself to a violent abusive alcoholic Then while performing at an upscale supper club Renay met Terry Bluvard Beautiful wealthy and white Terry awakened feelings that the talented black pianist had never realized she possessed and before long Renay was leaving the nightmare of Jerome Lee behind and moving with little Denise into Terry s world of luxury and privilege divDIV Now in this strange and exciting new place Renay can experience for the first time what it is to have everything she needs for herself and her little girl The rules here are different often confusing and sometimes troubling but in Terry s home and in Terry s arms Renay can be who she truly is and be loved with caring tenderness and respect Yet the storm clouds of her previous life still threaten and Terry s love alone may not be enough to protect Renay and her little girl from the tragedy that looms on the horizon divDIV div div At the Dusk of Dawn Albery Allson Whitman, 2009 Restores Whitman s place in the canons of African American literature and nineteenth century American poetry There is Confusion Jessie Redmon Fauset, 1989 Set in Philadelphia some 60 years ago There Is Confusion traces the lives of Joanna Mitchell and Peter Bye whose families must come to terms with an inheritance of prejudice and discrimination as they struggle for legitimacy and respect Black Talk, Blue Thoughts, and Walking the Color Line Erin Aubry Kaplan, 2011 This lively and thoughtful book explores what it means to be black in an allegedly postracial America Alien Land Willard Savoy, 2006-12 Action packed and absorbing a grim but sensitive picture of race and identity in America "Face Zion Forward" Joanna Brooks, John Saillant, 2002 Brings together for the first time the memoirs sermons and speeches of the early writers of the black Atlantic Infants of The Spring Wallace Thurman, 2012-02-14 A satirical novel of the Harlem Renaissance Oreo Fran Ross, 2000 Born to a Jewish father and black mother who divorce before she is two Oreo grows up in Philadelphia with her maternal grandparents while her mother tours with a theatrical troupe Soon after puberty Oreo heads for New York with a pack on her back to search for her father but in the big city she discovers that there are dozens of Sam Schwartzes in the phone book and Oreo s mission turns into a wickedly humorous picaresque quest The ambitious and playful narrative challenges accepted notions of race ethnicity culture and even the novelistic form itself Platitudes Trey Ellis, 2003-10-02 A playful irreverent look at the African American literary community Iron City Lloyd Louis Brown, 1994 A groundbreaking work of African American proletarian literature first published in 1951 and now back in print Encyclopedia of African American Women Writers Yolanda

Williams Page, 2007-01-30 African American women writers published extensively during the Harlem Renaissance and have been extraordinarily prolific since the 1970s This book surveys the world of African American women writers Included are alphabetically arranged entries on more than 150 novelists poets playwrights short fiction writers autobiographers essayists and influential scholars The Encyclopedia covers established contemporary authors such as Toni Morrison and Gloria Naylor along with a range of neglected and emerging figures Each entry is written by an expert contributor and provides a brief biography a discussion of major works a survey of the author's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies Literature students will value this book for its exploration of African American literature while social studies students will appreciate its examination of social issues through literature African American women writers have made an enormous contribution to our culture Many of these authors wrote during the Harlem Renaissance a particularly vital time in African American arts and letters while others have been especially active since the 1970s an era in which works by African American women are adapted into films and are widely read in book clubs Literature by African American women is important for its aesthetic qualities and it also illuminates the social issues which these authors have confronted This book conveniently surveys the lives and works of African American women writers Included are alphabetically arranged entries on more than 150 African American women novelists poets playwrights short fiction writers autobiographers essayists and influential scholars Some of these figures such as Toni Morrison and Gloria Naylor are among the most popular authors writing today while others have been largely neglected or are recently emerging Each entry provides a biography a discussion of major works a survey of the writer's critical reception and primary and secondary bibliographies The Encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography Students and general readers will welcome this guide to the rich achievement of African American women Literature students will value its exploration of the works of these writers while social studies students will appreciate its examination of the social issues these women confront in their works Writing

African American Women Elizabeth A. Beaulieu, 2006-04-30 Women have had a complex experience in African American culture The first work of its kind this encyclopedia approaches African American literature from a Women's Studies perspective While Yolanda Williams Page's Encyclopedia of African American Women Writers provides biographical entries on more than 150 literary figures this book is much broader in scope Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries on African American women writers as well as on male writers who have treated women in their works Entries on genres periods themes characters historical events texts places and other topics are included as well Each entry is written by an expert contributor and relates its subject to the overall experience of women in African American literature Entries cite works for further reading and the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography African American culture is enormously diverse and the experience of women in African American society is especially complex Women were among the first African American writers and works by black women writers are popular among students and general readers alike At the same time African American women have been oppressed and texts by black male authors represent women in a variety of ways The first of its kind this encyclopedia approaches African American literature from a Women s Studies perspective and thus significantly illuminates the African American cultural experience through literary works Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries written by numerous expert contributors In addition to covering male and female African American authors the encyclopedia also discusses themes major works and characters genres periods historical events places and other topics Included are entries on such authors as Maya Angelou James Baldwin Frederick Douglass Nikki Giovanni June Jordan Claude McKay Ishmael Reed Sojourner Truth Phillis Wheatley And many others In addition the many works discussed include Beloved Blanche on the Lam I know Why the Caged Bird Sings The Men of Brewster Place Quicksand The Street Waiting to Exhale And many more The many topical entries cover Black Feminism Black Nationalism Conjuring Children s and Young Adult Literature Detective Fiction Epistolary Novel Motherhood Sexuality Spirituality Stereotypes And many others Entries relate their topics to the experience of African American women and cite works for further reading Features and Benefits Includes hundreds of alphabetically arranged entries Draws on the work of numerous expert contributors Includes a selected general bibliography Offers a range of finding aids such as a list of entries a guide to related topics and an extensive index Supports the literature curriculum by helping students analyze major writers and works Supports the social studies curriculum by helping students use literature to understand the experience of African American women Covers the full chronological range of African American literature Fosters a respect for cultural diversity Develops research skills by directing students to additional sources of information Builds bridges between African American history literature and Women s Studies
