The Significance of Interpersonal Forgiveness in the Gospel of Matthew Isaac Kahwa Mbabazi, 2013-10-21 Isaac Mbabazi makes a major contribution to the field of New Testament by arguing that the relevant Matthean theme of interpersonal forgiveness is quite central to the first Gospel In The Significance of Interpersonal Forgiveness in the Gospel of Matthew he delineates five sets of evidence in support of his argument Beginning with a survey of all Matthean forgiveness and forgiveness related texts he then carries out an in depth exegesis of two key Matthean texts in which the idea of interpersonal forgiveness is explicit Discourse analysis informs his discussion offering valuable insight into Matthew s point of view Mbabazi notes that the forgiveness pattern that emerges from contemporary Greco Roman literature differs remarkably from the pattern found in Matthew where granting forgiveness appears not only as a reasonable act but reluctance or failure to grant it makes the unforgiving person accountable to God

Beyond Retribution Christopher D. Marshall, 2001 Recently a growing number of Christians have actively promoted the concept of restorative justice and attempted to develop programs for dealing with crime based on restorative principles But is this approach truly consistent with the teaching of Scripture To date very little has been done to test this claim Beyond Retribution fills a gap by plumbing the New Testament on the topics of crime justice and punishment Christopher Marshall first explores the problems involved in applying ethical teachings from the New Testament to mainstream society He then surveys the extent to which the New Testament addresses criminal justice issues looking in particular at the concept of the justice of God in the teachings of Paul and Jesus He also examines the topic of punishment reviewing the debate in social thinking over the ethics and purpose of punishment including capital punishment and he advocates a new concept of restorative punishment The result of this engaging work is a biblically based challenge to imitate the way of Christ in dealing with both victims and offenders
