Patent Office, 1933 Light on the Path Mark S. Morrisson, 2025-12-02 In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the US and UK experienced an occult revival a flourishing occulture that signalled the increasing presence of the occult in the popular imagination This period also witnessed another major cultural development a rapid expansion of print culture that offered a dizzying array of new magazines pulp fiction cheap single volume and paperback novels and emerging forms of genre fiction all designed to meet and create the demands of a growing fiction readership In Light on the Path Mark S Morrisson explores the surprising interdependence of these two phenomena As supernatural fiction moved in increasingly occult directions modern occultism itself became so entangled with popular fiction that it can almost be seen as a literary phenomenon Morrisson recounts the strategic efforts by modern occultists including Mabel Collins Aleister Crowley Dion Fortune Kenneth Morris and Talbot Mundy to use popular fiction to wrest esotericism away from its traditional modes of secrecy and make esoteric experiences of self transformation widely accessible Through experiments to forge a new esoteric fiction genre from already existing genres these occultists intended their novels to open gates for readers to offer an occult gnosis through the simple act of reading a novel In so doing they transformed genre fiction into a tool with which to launch new religious movements that persist today

The Reality of ESP Russell Targ, 2012-12-19 On February 4 1974 members of the Symbionese Liberation Army kidnapped nineteen year old newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst from her Berkeley California apartment Desperate to find her the police called physicist Russell Targ and Pat Price a psychic retired police commissioner As Price turned the pages of the police mug book filled with hundreds of photos suddenly he pointed to one of them and announced That s the ringleader The man was Donald DeFreeze who was indeed subsequently so identified Price also described the type and location of the kidnap car enabling the police to find it within minutes That remarkable event is one reason Targ believes in ESP Another occurred when his group made 120 000 by forecasting for nine weeks in a row the changes in the silver commodity futures market As a scientist Targ demands proof His experience is based on two decades of investigations at the Stanford Research Institute SRI which he cofounded with physicist Harold Puthoff in 1972 This twenty million dollar program launched during the Cold War was supported by the CIA NASA the Defense Intelligence Agency and Army and Air Force Intelligence The experiments they conducted routinely presented results could have happened by chance less than once in a million Targ describes four types of experiments Remote Viewing in which a person describes places and events independent of space and time For example while in California Price drew to scale a Soviet weapons factory at Semipalitinsk with great accuracy later confirmed by Satellite photography In another remote viewing Targ accurately sketched an airport in San Andreas Columbia himself Distant Mental Influence where the thoughts of the experimenter can positively or negatively affect the physiology heart rate skin resistance etc of a distant person Whole field isolation where someone in a state of sensory isolation accurately describes the visual experiences of someone else in another place Precognition and retrocausality showing that the future can affect the past That is the elephant you see on television in the morning can be the cause of your having dreamed about elephants the previous night Final chapters present evidence for survival after death explain how ESP works based on the Buddhist Hindu view of our selves as nonlocal eternal awareness discuss the ethics of exercising psychic abilities and show us how to explore ESP ourselves I am convinced Targ says that most people can learn to move from their ordinary mind to one not obstructed by conventional barriers of space and time Who would not want to try that

Contesting Earth's History in Transatlantic Literary Culture, 1860-1935 Richard Fallon, 2025-02-14 By the mid nineteenth century geologists and palaeontologists had reconstructed an authoritative narrative of Earth s deep history from the planet's molten origins to the rise of humanity. Many figures in transatlantic science across subsequent decades however had problems with this narrative: it was too secular, inhuman, and evolutionary, or controlled too exclusively by elite scientists. Speaking from palaeoscience's unevenly professionalized and controversy-racked borders, Christian fundamentalists, charismatic psychics, and respected scholars alike voiced their objections. Until now, no study has brought their work together for detailed comparative analysis. Spanning from the 1860s to the interwar decades, Contesting Earth's History examines the fascinating stories of five significant examples of fringe or borderline palaeoscience: old and young earth creationism, hollow earth theory, clairvoyant time travel, and sunken continent catastrophism. Innovatively combining methods from literary studies with the history of science, this book attends not just to the conceptual content of these strange sciences but also to their proponents' communication of truth claims through diverse genres ranging from the scientific textbook and the technical monograph to the lost world romance and the epic poem. By paying close attention to the hitherto overlooked textual forms and literary strategies of these works of pseudoscience, this volume throws into relief the variant conceptions of audience, evidence, and method that jostled and competed in wider scientific culture during this period. It also demonstrates that for all their diversity, authors of borderline palaeoscience shared the desire to shift the balance of power, creating textual spaces where exclusive hierarchies of scientific expertise could be levelled away. These conjurors of lost worlds often captivated wide audiences, and many of their bizarre, astonishing, and iconoclastic ideas remain with us to this day. Some even inspired early science fiction by the likes of H.P. Lovecraft and Edgar Rice Burroughs. Hijacking geologists and palaeontologists' longstanding effort at making the prehistoric past visible, authors on the borderlines of palaeoscience asserted their right to scientific authority and encouraged readers to gaze into time's abyss with bold new eyes. Picasso's Guernica - Images within Images, Third Edition Melvin E. Becraft, 2016. Analysis and criticism of Picasso's painting Guernica and key related Picasso paintings. In addition, there are two unauthenticated related drawings thought to be by Picasso by this author. Since this is a critique of art, quotes are considered by the author to be Fair Use. Jack the Ripper's Black Magic Rituals Ivor Edwards, 2013-09-05. For more than a century, the horrific, fascinating mystery of Jack the Ripper has endured. The ghastly crimes of the world's most notorious serial killer have gone down in history as the most nauseating acts one man could ever inflict upon his fellow human beings, and since they were committed, contemporary sleuths have spent many lifetimes attempting to identify the man behind the myth. Bizarrely, nobody has yet revealed the identity of the true murderer to the satisfaction of ripperologists everywhere. This book seeks to change this. Taking the reader on a step-by-step journey through the precise events at the core of the Ripper's reign of terror, the text covers a sickening, twisted melange of murder and black magic, aiming to change forever the way these crimes are perceived. Empire of Religion David Chidester, 2022-12-22 How is knowledge about religion and religions produced and how is that knowledge authenticated and circulated David Chidester seeks to answer these questions in Empire of Religion documenting and analyzing the emergence of a science of comparative religion in Great Britain during the second half of the nineteenth century and its complex relations to the colonial situation in southern Africa In the process Chidester provides a counterhistory of the academic study of religion an alternative to standard accounts that have failed to link the field of comparative religion with either the power relations or the historical contingencies of the imperial project In developing a material history of the study of religion Chidester documents the importance of African religion the persistence of the divide between savagery and civilization and the salience of mediations imperial colonial and indigenous in which knowledge about religions was produced He then identifies the recurrence of these mediations in a number of case studies including Friedrich Max Müller's dependence on colonial experts H. Rider Haggard and John Buchan's fictional accounts of African religion and W. E. B. Du Bois's studies of African religion By reclaiming these theorists for this history Chidester shows that race rather than theology was formative in the emerging study of religion in Europe and North America Sure to be controversial Empire of Religion is a major contribution to the field of comparative religious studies
