Henriques,1926 Song King Levi S. Gibbs,2018-05-31 When itinerant singers from China s countryside become iconic artists worlds collide The lives and performances of these representative singers become sites for conversations between the rural and urban local and national folk and elite and traditional and modern In Song King Connecting People Places and Past in Contemporary China Levi S Gibbs examines the life and performances of Folksong King of Western China Wang Xiangrong b 1952 and explores how itinerant performers come to serve as representative symbols straddling different groups connecting diverse audiences and shifting between amorphous place based local regional and national identities Moving from place to place these border walkers embody connections between a range of localities presenting audiences with traditional modern rural and urban identities among which to continually reposition themselves in an evolving world Born in a small mountain village near the intersection of the Great Wall and the Yellow River in a border region with a rich history of migration Wang Xiangrong was exposed to a wide range of songs as a child The songs of Wang s youth prepared him to create a repertoire of region representing pieces and mediate between regions nations and multinational corporations in national and international performances During the course of a career that included meeting Deng Xiaoping in 1980 and running with the Olympic torch in 2008 Wang s life songs and performances have come to highlight various facets of social identity in contemporary China Drawing on extensive fieldwork with Wang and other professional folksingers from northern Shaanxi province at weddings Chinese New Year galas business openings and Christmas concerts Song King argues that songs act as public conversations people can join in on As song kings and queens fuse personal and collective narratives in performances of iconic songs they provide audiences with compelling models for socializing personal experience negotiating a sense of self and group in an ever changing world Queen's University, Volume III, 1961-2004 Duncan McDowall,2016-04-01
