

The background of the cover is a photograph of a stack of old, thick books. A fountain pen with a dark, textured barrel and a silver-colored clip and nib is resting diagonally across the top of the books. The books have worn, aged spines and pages. The lighting is warm and focused, creating a sense of history and scholarship.

Studies in the Short Fiction of Mahfouz and Idris Mona Mikhail, 1992-05 In this comparative approach to the works of two major contemporary Egyptian writers Mona Mikhail identifies existentialism as a major force in their work Her close examination of the images and metaphors that recur in the short fiction of those two writers shows strong affinities with the works of Ernest Hemingway and Albert Camus concentrating on a central preoccupation with the theme of death as a constant in the works of all four writers Mikhail shows how Mafouz and Idris not only successfully incorporate myth and folklore but also draw upon the rich heritage of classical Arabic Literature as a source for their work

The Postmodern Short Story Farhat Iftekharudin, Joseph Boyden, Mary Rohrberger, Jaie Claudet, 2003-12-30 Short stories are usually defined in terms of characteristics of modernism in which the story begins in the middle develops according to a truncated plot and ends with an epiphany This approach tends to ignore postmodernism a movement often characterized by a negation of objective reality where plots are seemingly abandoned surfaces are extraordinary and symbols turn inward on themselves This book examines postmodern forms and characteristic themes by analyzing a group of short stories that make use of postmodern narrative strategies including nonfictional fiction gender profiling and death as an image The volume begins with a discussion of the blurred lines between fiction and nonfiction in the short story and imaginative personal essay It then looks at the role of women in works by such authors as Sandra Cisneros Leslie Marmon Silko Joyce Carol Oates and Lorrie Moore This is followed by a section of chapters on postmodern masculinity and short fiction The next section focuses on death as an image and theme in works by Richard Ford Richard Brautigan and James Joyce The final set of chapters considers postmodern short fiction from South Africa and Canada

Imagining Sisterhood in Modern Chinese Texts, 1890-1937 Yun Zhu,2017-03-16 This book investigates sisterhood as a converging thread that wove female subjectivities and intersubjectivities into a larger narrative of Chinese modernity embedded in a newly conceived global context It focuses on the period between the late Qing reform era around the turn of the twentieth century and the outbreak of the Second Sino Japanese War in 1937 which saw the emergence of new ways of depicting Chinese womanhood in various kinds of media In a critical hermeneutic approach Zhu combines an examination of an outside perspective how narratives and images about sisterhood were mobilized to shape new identities and imaginations with that of an inside perspective how subjects saw themselves as embedded in or affected by the discourse and how they negotiated such experiences within texts or through writing With its working definition of sisterhood covering biological as well as all kinds of symbolic and metaphysical connotations this book exams the literary and cultural representations of this elastic notion with attention to on the one hand a supposedly collective identity shared by all modern Chinese female subjects and on the other hand the contesting modes of womanhood that were introduced through the juxtaposition of divergent sisters Through an interdisciplinary approach that brings together historical materials literary and cultural analysis and theoretical questions Zhu conducts a careful examination of how new identities subjectivities and sentiments were negotiated and mediated through the hermeneutic circuits around sisterhood
