
Anatomy of the heart questions with complete solutions.

Location of the heart - ANSWER The heart sits in the the chest within the mediastinum, between the two lungs. Two thirds of the heart is located to the left of the midline of the sternum, and one third is located to the right. The upper flat portion of the heart called the base is located at the level of the second rib. The lower, more pointed end of the heart is the apex; it is located at the level of the fifth intercostal space. The precordium refers to the area of the anterior chest wall overlaying the heart and the great vessels.

Layers and covering of the heart - ANSWER The heart is made up of 3 layers. Endocardium, myocardium and epicardium.

Endocardium - ANSWER The endocardium is the hearts inner most layer. The endocardium also lines the valves and is continuous with the blood vessels that enter and leave the heart. The smooth and shiny surface allows blood to flow over it easily.

Myocardium - ANSWER The myocardium is the middle layer of the heart. It is the thickest of the three layers. The myocardium is composed of cardiac muscle that contracts and pumps blood through the blood vessels.

Epicardium - ANSWER The epicardium is the thin outermost layer of the heart. The epicardium also helps form the pericardium.

Pericardium - ANSWER The heart is supported by a sling like structure called the pericardium. The pericardium attaches the heart to other structure, such as the diaphragm and the large blood vessels.

Pulmonary circulation - ANSWER The path that the blood follows from the right side of the heart to and through the lungs and back to the left side of the heart is called pulmonary circulation. The right heart receives deoxygenated blood from the superior and inferior venae cavae, large veins that collect blood from all parts of the body.

The hearts chambers and great vessels - ANSWER The heart has four chambers: two atria and two ventricles. The atria are the upper chambers and receive the blood into the heart. The ventricles are the lower chambers and pump blood of of the heart. The right and left hearts are separated from one another by two

Where does the left side of the heart pump too? - ANSWER Rest of the body
