The SAGE Encyclopedia of African Cultural Heritage in North America Mwalimu J. Shujaa, Kenya J. Shujaa, 2015-07-13

The Encyclopedia of African Cultural Heritage in North America provides an accessible ready reference on the retention and continuity of African culture within the United States Our conceptual framework holds first that culture is a form of self knowledge and knowledge about self in the world as transmitted from one person to another Second that African people continuously create their own cultural history as they move through time and space Third that African descended people living outside of Africa are also contributors to and participate in the creation of African cultural history Entries focus on illuminating Africanisms cultural retentions traceable to an African origin and cultural continuities ongoing practices and processes through which African culture continues to be created and formed Thus the focus is more culturally specific and less concerned with the broader transatlantic demographic political and geographic issues that are the focus of similar recent reference works We also focus less on biographies of individuals and political and economic ties and more on processes and manifestations of African cultural heritage and continuity FEATURES A two volume A to Z work available in a choice of print or electronic formats 350 signed entries each concluding with Cross references and Further Readings 150 figures and photos Front matter consisting of an Introduction and a Reader s Guide organizing entries thematically to more easily guide users to related entries Signed articles concluding with cross references

Creolization in the Americas David Buisseret, Steven G. Reinhardt, 2000 Creolization the process of cultural interchange in this case between peoples of the continents bordering the Atlantic Ocean is an important aspect of the American experience Language literature food dress and social relations are all affected by the interplay of cultures Only recently though have scholars fully begun to understand creolization as a mutual exchange rather than the acculturation of colonized peoples to a dominant culture Focusing on diverse settings and different aspects of culture five scholars here examine the process of creolization its origins historical and modern meanings of the term and the various manifestations of the complex continuing process of cultural exchange and adaptation that began when Africans American Indians and Europeans came into contact with each other While the authors vary in their approaches and in some respects their conclusions they essentially agree that the notion of cultural syncretism whether described as acculturation or creolization is a conceptual tool of crucial importance for analyzing the interchange that occurred between peoples of Europe and the Americas Contributors to this ground breaking volume and their respective chapters are David Buisseret The Process of Creolization in Seventeenth Century Jamaica Daniel H Usner Jr The Facility Offered by the Country The Creolization of Agriculture in the Lower Mississippi Valley Mary L Galvin Decoctions for Carolinians The Creation of a Creole Medicine Chest in Colonial South Carolina Richard Cullen Rath Drums and Power Ways of Creolizing Music in Coastal South Carolina and Georgia 1730 1790 and J L Dillard The Evidence for Pidgin Creolization in Early American English Buisseret also contributes an introduction that places the other articles within the context of recent scholarship on creolization

A Stitch in Time Aimee E. Newell, 2014-03-15 Drawing from 167 examples of decorative needlework primarily samplers and quilts from 114 collections across the United States made by individual women aged forty years and over between 1820 and 1860 this exquisitely illustrated book explores how women experienced social and cultural change in antebellum America The book is filled with individual examples stories and over eighty fine color photographs that illuminate the role that samplers and needlework played in the culture of the time For example in October 1852 Amy Fiske 1785 1859 of Sturbridge Massachusetts stitched a sampler But she was not a schoolgirl making a sampler to learn her letters Instead as she explained The above is what I have taken from my sampler that I wrought when I was nine years old It was w rough t on fine cloth and it tattered to pieces My age at this time is 66 years Situated at the intersection of women s history material culture study and the history of aging this book brings together objects diaries letters portraits and prescriptive literature to consider how middle class American women experienced the aging process Chapters explore the physical and mental effects of old age on antebellum women and their needlework technological developments related to needlework during the antebellum period and the tensions that arose from the increased mechanization of textile production and how gift needlework functioned among friends and family members Far from being solely decorative ornaments or functional household textiles these samplers and quilts served their own ends They offered aging women a means of coping of sharing and of expressing themselves These threads of time provide a valuable and revealing source for the lives of mature antebellum women Publication of this book was made possible in part through generous funding from the Coby Foundation Ltd and from the Quilters Guild of Dallas Helena Hibbs Endowment Fund
