Race And Ethnicity An Anthropological Focus On The United States And The World:

Race and Ethnicity Raymond Scupin, 2003 Covering basic concepts and research this book presents state of the art highly readable essays on both the theoretical issues and empirical studies of race and ethnicity in the U S and throughout the world It introduces the concepts of race the fallacies of scientific racism and theoretical perspectives on ethnicity followed by fourteen chapters that share the empirical findings of anthropologists on race and ethnicity in the U S and the world For individuals interested in getting a global perspective on race and ethnic relations and reducing some of the superficial media based characterizations and representations of race and ethnic issues throughout the world Race and Ethnicity Raymond Scupin, How Real Is Race? Carol C. Mukhopadhyay, Rosemary Henze, Yolanda T. Moses, 2025-03-14 Biologically speaking there is no such thing as race Yet this seems to contradict the experiences of people in the United States and other countries where racial classification is used daily by individuals and institutions Race still matters whether in wealth accumulation educational achievement health the legal system or in personal safety How can race not be real when we experience its effects every day Mukhopadhyay Henze and Moses systematically deconstruct the myth of race as biology and address the reality of race as a cultural invention drawing on biocultural historical and cross cultural anthropological perspectives In doing so they shed light on the intricate interplay among race biology culture power and stratification Part I The Fallacy of Race as Biology unravels the myth that races are biologically valid divisions of humanity Part II Culture Creates Race explores race as a social construction the emergence of the racial worldview as ideological justification for inequality and how social processes especially restrictions on interracial sex and marriage maintained visible markers of racial hierarchy Part III Contemporary Issues examines current manifestations of racial stratification including the educational achievement gap health disparities and how the language of race embodies and reinforces a racial worldview New to this Edition New Chapter 11 Unpacking the Health Consequences of Racial Stratification explores the continuing impacts of the racial worldview on race related health disparities using the COVID 19 pandemic maternal health and weathering and exposure to environmental toxins as case studies New Chapter 12 Dismantling the Racial World View explores racial ideology including language and offers alternative approaches to racial language dilemmas Updated and expanded discussion of human evolution includes contemporary critiques and alternative scenarios of long standing models of human evolution and emphasizes our collective African roots Updated and expanded coverage of genomics DNA epigenetic processes and the enormous human variability at the molecular level all challenging nature versus nurture models of how we become who we are New data on immigrants languages religions socio economic and regional racial ethnic patterns interracial marriage and other trends explores contemporary diversity in the United States and suggests traditional racial ideology and categories are becoming obsolete Fundamentals of Cancer Prevention David Alberts, Lisa M. Hess, 2008-09-24 An authoritative work that provides a detailed review of the current status of cancer prevention and control practice and research This volume is an essential reference guide and tool for primary care physicians the research community and students Written as a collaborative work by the faculty of the nationally renowned Cancer Prevention and Control Program at the Arizona Cancer Center this book brings together the expertise of specialists in the field of cancer prevention and control to provide the medical and research community that does not specialize in this field with insight to the disciplines of cancer prevention and control

The New Face of America Eric J. Bailey, 2013-05-09 This unique and important book investigates what it means to be multiracial and or multiethnic in the United States examining the issues involved from personal societal and cultural perspectives More and more the idea of America as a melting pot is becoming a reality Written from the perspective of multiracial citizens The New Face of America How the Emerging Multiracial Multiethnic Majority Is Changing the United States brings to light the values beliefs opinions and patterns among these populations It assesses group identity and social recognition by others and it communicates how multiracial individuals experience America s reaction to their increasing numbers Comprehensive and far reaching this thoughtful compendium covers the cultural history of multiracials in America It looks at multiracial families today at rural and urban multiracial populations and at multiracial physical features health disparities bone and marrow transplant issues adoption matters as well as multiracial issues in other countries Multiracial entertainers athletes and politicians are considered as well Among the book s most important topics is multiracial health and health care disparity Finally the book makes clear how America s current majority institutions organizations and corporations must change their relationship with multiracial and multiethnic populations if they wish to remain viable and competitive

Race in America Patricia Reid-Merritt, 2017-01-23 Focusing on the socially explosive concept of race and how it has affected human interactions this work examines the social and scientific definitions of race the implementation of racialized policies and practices the historical and contemporary manifestations of the use of race in shaping social interactions within U S society and elsewhere and where our notions of race will likely lead More than a decade and a half into the 21st century the term race remains one of the most emotionally charged words in the human language While race can be defined as a local geographic or global human population distinguished as a more or less distinct group by genetically transmitted physical characteristics the concept of race can better be understood as a socially defined construct a system of human classification that carries tremendous weight yet is complex confusing contradictory controversial and imprecise This collection of essays focuses on the socially explosive concept of race and how it has shaped human interactions across civilization The contributed work examines the social and scientific definitions of race the implementation of racialized policies and practices and the historical and contemporary manifestations of the use of race in shaping social interactions primarily in the United States a nation where the concept of race is further convoluted by the nation s extensive history of miscegenation as well as the continuous flow of immigrant groups from countries whose definitions of race ethnicity and culture remain fluid Readers will gain insights into subjects such as how we as individuals define ourselves through concepts of race how race affects social privilege color blindness as an obstacle to social change legal perspectives on race racialization of the religious experience and how the media perpetuates racial stereotypes

This Side of Heaven Robert J. Priest, Alvaro L. Nieves, 2007 Publisher description Fundamentals of Cancer Prevention David S. Alberts, Lisa M. Hess, 2019-09-25 This authoritative work now in its fourth edition presents state of the art knowledge on all key aspects of cancer prevention In addition to detailed summaries on preventive strategies for specific cancers readers will find current knowledge on a range of relevant scientific topics including the benefits of cancer prevention the importance of diet and physical activity innate and adaptive immune responses to cancer hereditary risks cancer health disparities and the preventive role of telemedicine In this new edition of the book the coverage has been expanded to include additional disease sites and to provide up to date information across the range of disciplines in the field of cancer prevention and control Written as a collaborative work by internationally recognized leaders in the field Fundamentals of Cancer Prevention is an essential reference guide and tool for oncologists primary care physicians the research community and students with an interest in reducing the burden of cancer through the implementation of effective preventive strategies Nature, Human Nature, & Human Difference Justin E. H. Smith, 2015-06-30 People have always been xenophobic but an explicit philosophical and scientific view of human racial difference only began to emerge during the modern period Why and how did this happen Surveying a range of philosophical and natural scientific texts dating from the Spanish Renaissance to the German Enlightenment Nature Human Nature and Human Difference charts the evolution of the modern concept of race and shows that natural philosophy particularly efforts to taxonomize and to order nature played a crucial role Smith demonstrates how the denial of moral equality between Europeans and non Europeans resulted from converging philosophical and scientific developments including a declining belief in human nature s universality and the rise of biological classification The racial typing of human beings grew from the need to understand humanity within an all encompassing system of nature alongside plants minerals primates and other animals While racial difference as seen through science did not arise in order to justify the enslavement of people it became a rationalization and buttress for the practices of trans Atlantic slavery From the work of Francois Bernier to G W Leibniz Immanuel Kant and others Smith delves into philosophy s part in the legacy and damages of modern racism With a broad narrative stretching over two centuries Nature Human Nature and Human Difference takes a critical historical look at how the racial categories that we divide ourselves into came into being Anthropology Raymond Scupin, Christopher R. DeCorse, 2019-12-20 Integrating historical biological archaeological and applied approaches with ethnographic data from around the world Anthropology A Global Perspective is founded on four essential themes the diversity of human societies the similarities that tie all humans together the interconnections between the sciences and humanities and a new theme addressing psychological essentialism
