Race Politics Partnership In The Feder:

The Politics and Economics of Decolonization in Africa Andrew Cohen, 2017-05-26 The slow collapse of the European colonial empires after 1945 provides one of the great turning points of twentieth century history With the loss of India however the British under Harold Macmillan attempted to enforce a second colonial occupation supporting the efforts of Sir Andrew Cohen of the Colonial Office to create a Central African Federation Drawing on newly released archival material The Politics and Economics of Decolonization offers a fresh examination of Britain's central African territories in the late colonial period and provides a detailed assessment of how events in Britain Africa and the UN shaped the process of decolonization The author situates the Central African Federation which consisted of modern day Zambia Zimbabwe and Malawi in its wider international context shedding light on the Federation's complex relationships with South Africa with US Presidents Dwight Eisenhower and John F Kennedy and with the expanding United Nations The result is an important history of the last days of the British Empire and the beginnings of a more independent African continent Politics and Government in African States Peter Duignan, Robert H. Jackson, 2022-08-01 Originally published in 1986 Politics and Government in African States 1960 1985 deals with the politics of sub Saharan African states since independence Each chapter considers the formal structure of government at the time of independence and traces the subsequent changes Each chapter also describes the development of the state machinery the civil service the parastatals defence and police forces party structure the political opposition and trade unions The economics of African states are dealt with insofar as they affect politics and government

The British Labour Movement and Imperialism Billy Frank, Craig Horner, David Stewart, 2010-05-11 With Foreword by Tony Benn This edited collection explores the British labour movement s relationship with imperialism in the period 1800 1982 through nine inter connected articles Labour historians have tended to neglect the labour movement s interaction with imperialism preferring to concentrate on industrial relations internal factionalism the Labour Party trade union alliance and economic policymaking In order to redress the balance this book takes a broad chronological overview of the subject and engages with key themes ranging from trade union interaction with empire and the influence of popular imperial culture to post war colonial development and responses to post colonialism Taking stock both of the labour movement in a broader context and of new approaches to the history of British imperialism the collection combines the work of leading authorities on labour history with recent scholarly research By blending this combination of economic social political and cultural analyses it makes a substantial contribution to the debates surrounding the legacy of imperialism and the evolution of the British labour movement The book will be of interest to academics researchers teachers and students of modern British political social economic and cultural history It will also appeal to Labour Party members and labour movement activists

Race, Government and Politics in Britain Zig Layton-Henry, Paul B. Rich, 2016-07-27 Political Power and Colonial Development in British Central Africa 1938-1960s Alan Cousins, 2022-12-30 This book focuses on the late

colonial history of Zambia and Malawi which between 1953 and 1963 were part of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland Although there were many links in their history and between their populations the two territories British protectorates under Colonial Office control contrasted greatly in power structures in their economies and in their development Europeans living in Northern Rhodesia with a power base in the mining economy were able to establish a dominant position in the territory after the Second World War By the 1950s it looked as though they would have with Southern Rhodesian Europeans a long hegemony gaining independence from Britain as a new Dominion which would mean control over both Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland through the Federation Thus white ethnicity and ideology are essential factors in this book relating to the struggle for power from just before the Second World War up to the 1960s However crises in 1959 and 1960 led to the collapse of the Federation A second focus is on issues of social and economic development For Africans in Nyasaland and in rural parts of Northern Rhodesia there was a relatively weak economy in this period a pattern of limited cash crop production while many people became caught up in labour migration subordinate to powerful European dominated economic forces within southern Africa This meant that colonial policies aimed at rural development were fundamentally flawed The book also looks at the actual nature of rural economic change as opposed to colonial policies and discusses alternative visions of the future which were put forward The argument is put that historians have often concentrated on the activities of the main nationalist movements in Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia seeing them as bringing progress away from colonialism and towards independence Here there is an attempt to draw out the complexities of life and a variety of responses in the colonial situation progress coming in a number of forms but not always being achieved Multiracial Identity and Racial Politics in the United States Natalie Masuoka, 2017-08-30 While pundits point to multiracial Americans as new evidence of a harmonious ethnic melting pot in reality mixed race peoples have long existed in the United States Rather than characterize multiracial Americans as a new population this book argues that instead we should view them as individuals who reflect a new culture of racial identification Today identities such as biracial or swirlies are evoked alongside those more established racial categories of white black Asian and Latino What is significant about multiracial identities is that they communicate an alternative viewpoint about race that a person s preferred self identification should be used to define a person s race Yet this definition of race is a distinct contrast to historic norms which has defined race as a category assigned to a person based on certain social rules which emphasized things like phenotype being one drop of African blood or heritage In Multiracial Identity and Racial Politics in the United States Natalie Masuoka catalogues how this cultural shift from assigning race to perceiving race as a product of personal identification came about by tracing events over the course of the twentieth century Masuoka uses a variety of sources including in depth interviews public opinion surveys and census data to understand how certain individuals embrace the agency of self identification and choose to assert multiracial identities At the same time the book shows that the meaning and consequences of multiracial identification can only be understood when contrasted against those who identify as white black Asian or Latino An included case study on President Barack Obama also shows how multiracial identity narratives can be strategically used to reduce anti black bias among voters Therefore rather than looking at multiracial Americans as a harbinger of dramatic change for American race relations this Multiracial Identity and Racial Politics in the United States shows that narratives promoting multiracial identities are in direct dialogue with rather than in replacement of the longstanding racial order Administration in Zambia William Tordoff,1980 Foreign Relations of the United States United States. Department of State, 1989 The Long Crisis Benjamin Holtzman, 2021-02-01 Across all the boroughs The Long Crisis shows New Yorkers helped transform their broke and troubled city in the 1970s by taking the responsibilities of city governance into the private sector and market steering the process of neoliberalism Newspaper headlines beginning in the mid 1960s blared that New York City known as the greatest city in the world was in trouble They depicted a metropolis overcome by poverty and crime substandard schools unmanageable bureaucracy ballooning budget deficits deserting businesses and a vanishing middle class By the mid 1970s New York faced a situation perhaps graver than the urban crisis the city could no longer pay its bills and was tumbling toward bankruptcy The Long Crisis turns to this turbulent period to explore the origins and implications of the diminished faith in government as capable of solving public problems Conventional accounts of the shift toward market and private sector governing solutions have focused on the rising influence of conservatives libertarians and the business sector Benjamin Holtzman however locates the origins of this transformation in the efforts of city dwellers to preserve liberal commitments of the postwar period As New York faced an economic crisis that disrupted long standing assumptions about the services city government could provide its residents organized within block associations non profits and professional organizations embraced an ethos of private volunteerism and eventually of partnership with private business in order to save their communities streets parks and housing from neglect Local liberal and Democratic officials came to see such alliances not as stopgap measures but as legitimate and ultimately permanent features of modern governance The ascent of market based policies was driven less by a political assault of pro market ideologues than by ordinary New Yorkers experimenting with novel ways to maintain robust public services in the face of the city's budget woes Local people and officials The Long Crisis argues built neoliberalism from the ground up creating a system that would both exacerbate old racial and economic inequalities and produce new ones that Women and Power in Zimbabwe Carolyn Martin Shaw, 2015-10-30 The revolt continue to shape metropolitan areas today against white rule in Rhodesia nurtured incipient local feminisms in women who imagined independence as a road to gender equity and economic justice But the country's rebirth as Zimbabwe and Robert Mugabe's rise to power dashed these hopes Using history literature participant observation and interviews Carolyn Martin Shaw surveys Zimbabwean feminisms from the colonial era to today She examines how actions as clearly disparate as baking scones for self protection carrying guns in the liberation and feeling morally superior to men represent sources of female empowerment She also presents the ways women across Zimbabwean society rural and urban professional and domestic accommodated or confronted post independence setbacks Finally Shaw offers perspectives on the ways contemporary Zimbabwean women depart from the prevailing view that feminism is a Western imposition having little to do with African women The result of thirty years of experience Women and Power in Zimbabwe addresses the promises of feminism and femininity for generations of African women The Rise of an African Middle Class Michael O. West,2002-08-19 An in depth look at Africans who challenged the status quo in colonial Zimbabwe Impeccable and original scholarship American Historical Review Tracing their quest for social recognition from the time of Cecil Rhodes to Rhodesia's unilateral declaration of independence Michael O West shows how some Africans were able to avail themselves of scarce educational and social opportunities in order to achieve some degree of upward mobility in a society that was hostile to their ambitions Though relatively few in number and not rich by colonial standards this comparatively better off class of Africans challenged individual and social barriers imposed by colonialism to become the locus of protest against European domination This extensive and original book opens new perspective into relations between colonizers and colonized in colonial Zimbabwe Offers an extremely sophisticated nuanced view of the social and political construction of an African middle class in colonial Zimbabwe Elizabeth Schmidt

Decolonization And The State In Kenya David F. Gordon, 2019-04-11 In this book the author examines the efforts of the colonial regime to shape the process of decolonization in Kenya from the end of World War II until independence in 1963 focusing on the conflict between the state s two imperatives promoting economic development and establishing and maintaining control Dr Gordon reviews the different political Federal Measures of Race and Ethnicity and the Implications for the 2000 Census United States. Subcommittee on Intergovernmental Relations, 1967 Black Heart Robert I. Rotberg, 2023-04-28 Black Heart unveils the dual legacy of Stewart Gore Browne a remarkable figure whose journey intertwined with the colonial and post colonial histories of Northern Rhodesia now Zambia On one hand Gore Browne was a statesman and advocate for African rights championing progressive legislation and fostering dialogue that challenged the colonial status quo As Northern Rhodesia s representative at pivotal conferences he tirelessly advanced African interests in imperial circles On the other he was a quintessential English squire managing his sprawling Shiwa Ngandu estate while hosting an eclectic mix of titled guests political figures and African leaders long before such integration was socially acceptable among the settler elite His life exemplified the rare convergence of privilege reformist ideals and a profound commitment to equitable race relations in colonial Africa Drawing from an extraordinary archive of personal letters diaries and official documents this biography sheds light on the forces that shaped Gore Browne s transformation from aristocratic officer to a pioneer of African nationalism The work examines his family ties his wartime experiences and the moral convictions that led him to embrace African self governance Through interviews with key figures including President Kenneth Kaunda and meticulous research across continents the book delves into Gore Browne's complex identity and enduring influence Combining political history with personal narrative Black Heart offers an intimate portrait of a man who stood out as both a settler and a champion of African liberation making a profound impact on the trajectory of modern Zambia This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was Intergovernmental Manpower Act of 1967 United States. Congress. Senate. Government originally published in 1977 Operations, 1967 Hate Crimes Prevention Act of 1997 United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary, 2000 Racial Politics And Urban Planning Robert A. Catlin, 2014-10-17 When Richard G Hatcher became the first black mayor of Gary Indiana in 1967 the response of Gary's white businessmen was to move the entire downtown to the suburbs thereby weakening the city core Meanwhile white business and institutional leaders in Atlanta Detroit and Newark worked with black mayors heading those majority black cities to rebuild their downtowns and neighborhoods Why not Gary Robert A Catlin who served as Mayor Hatcher's planning advisor from 1982 to 1987 here analyzes the racial conflicts that tore Gary apart He asserts that two types of majority black cities exist Type I including Atlanta Baltimore Detroit and Newark have Fortune 500 corporate headquarters major universities and large medical centers institutions that are placebound and their leaders must work with black mayors Type II cities like Gary lack these resources thus their white leaders feel less compelled to cooperate with black mayors Unfortunately in Gary's case black politicians and white executives fell victim to pettiness and mistrust and as a result Gary and the entire northwest Indiana region suffered Racial Politics and Urban Planning is required reading for citizens interested in urban affairs Leaders in cities such as Albany and Macon Georgia Monroe Louisiana Mount Vernon New York and Pine Bluff Arkansas should also take note Those cities have just become
