Race Relations In Britain Since 1945:

Race Relations in Britain Since 1945 Harry Goulbourne, 1998-10-19 Race Relations in Britain since 1945 provides a critical overview of the origins development and present state of race relations in Britain Highly contentious the field of race relations is closely related to a number of issues which are regarded to be at the very heart of contemporary British life Professor Goulbourne draws on a variety of historical sociological anthropological and political analyses to construct and advance a convincing and persuasive argument about differential incorporation into British society or inequality based on colour in the imperial and colonial era as well as the contemporary period

Learie Constantine and Race Relations in Britain and the Empire Jeffrey Hill, 2018-12-13 Who was Learie Constantine And what can he tell us about the politics of race and race relations in 20th century Britain and the Empire Through examining the life times and opinions of this Trinidadian cricketer turned politician Learie Constantine and Race Relations in Britain and the Empire explores the centrality of race in British politics and society Unlike conventional biographical studies of Constantine this unique approach to his life and the racially volatile context in which it was lived moves away from the good man narrative commonly attributed to his rise to pre eminence as a spokesman against racial discrimination and as the first black peer in the House of Lords Through detailing how Constantine s idea of assimilation was criticized then later rejected by successive activists in the politics of race Jeff rey Hill off ers an alternative and more sophisticated analysis of Constantine s contributions to and complex relationship with the fight against racial inequalities inherent in British domestic and imperial society

Racism After 'race Relations' Robert Miles, 1993 Discusses the shifting definitions of racism and challenges the common conception that racism is experienced exclusively by black people The book aims to occupy the centre of debate on the sociology of racism and ethnic studies

Britain since the Seventies Jeremy Black, 2004-04-04 In Britain since the Seventies well known historian Jeremy Black examines the most recent developments in British political social cultural and economic history Taking the triumph of consumerism as an organizing theme he charts the rise and fall of the Conservative Party developments in British society culture and politics environmental issues questions of identity and changes in economic circumstance and direction Iconic issues such as BSE transport asylum seekers and the NHS are viewed from both national and international perspectives Black s account of contemporary Britain challenges as well as entertains seeking to engage the reader in the process of interpretation Through the lens of the last three decades the author unveils his image of a country in which uncertainty contingency and change are the defining features In charting the impact of increasing individualism longevity and secularization Black is drawn repeatedly to examine a fundamental paradox of modern Britain At the start of both century and millennium the British were more prosperous than ever before but happiness has not risen with prosperity Britain since the Seventies is a wide ranging and cogent evaluation of recent British history and as such will appeal to all those interested in the condition of modern Britain and how it came to be so as well as being an ideal

introduction for students of the subject      The Official History of Criminal Justice in England and Wales Tim Newburn, 2024-09-12 This is the fifth and final volume in the Official History of Criminal Justice in England and Wales This volume covers the uneven and often irresolute evolution of policing from the late 1940s to the end of the 1990s concentrating on the impact of a succession of scandals on the reputation and regulation of the police and the fluctuating relations between central government local authorities and police forces in shaping the control of police funding policy and organisation particularly in response to a growth in the scale and intensity of social protest and above all on the shifting sands of the policing of public order illustrated in the prolonged miners strike and urban unrest of the 1980s It is a complement to earlier volumes in the series that focused on the liberalisation of the laws on capital punishment abortion and homosexual relations between adult men in the 1960s the founding of the Crown Court in 1971 and the Crown Prosecution Service in 1985 transformations in penal policy and the politics of law and order It will be of much interest to scholars of British political history criminology and sociology      Britain Since 1707 Hamish Fraser, Callum G. governmental archive sources contemporary newspaper articles and nearly eighty biographically oriented interviews with German migrants this outstanding volume a must read for students and scholars in the fields of social history sociology and migration studies expertly encompasses political as well as social historical questions and engages with the social economic and cultural situation of German immigrants to Britain from a life historical perspective Holocaust Memory and Racism in the Postwar World Shirli Gilbert, Avril Alba, 2019-07-08 Holocaust Memory and Racism in the Postwar World is intended for students and scholars of Holocaust and genocide studies professionals working in museums and heritage organizations and anyone interested in building on their knowledge of the Holocaust and the discourse of racism Modern British History Jeremy Black, 2000-05-23 Jeremy Black's compelling text provides a thematic account of British history centering on the twentieth century To the traditional chronological account of historic events Black adds long range thematic chapters reflecting the full range of topics These include political structures ideologies wars and international relations economic history social history as well as consumerism media and mass communication The coverage is further enlivened with exhibits providing supplementary background information on key personalities and pivotal events and numerous illustrations

(Re-)Mobilizing Voters in Britain and the United States Gregory Benedetti, Veronique Molinari, 2021-02-22 This collective work offers a historical approach to the issue of voters mobilisation and through case studies aims to expand the field's research agenda by taking into account less familiar mobilising strategies from various groups or parties both in Britain and the United States Two different yet complementary approaches are used one from the top down with political parties the other from the bottom up with grassroots organisations to analyze how these groups either re connect citizens with politics or give birth to social movements which durably occupy and change the political landscape of the United States and Britain

Violence and Racism in Football Brett Bebb, 2015-10-06 This study based on government records newspaper articles and fanzines explores the complex interaction between politicians police and the perpetrators of football violence Bebb looks at how successive governments tried to impose law and order on football hooligans whilst inadvertently escalating the violence Britain's Experience of Empire in the Twentieth Century Andrew Thompson, 2016-11-24 Written by specialists from various fields this edited volume is the first systematic investigation of the impact of imperialism on twentieth century Britain The contributors explore different aspects of Britain's imperial experience as the empire weathered the storms of the two world wars was subsequently dismantled and then apparently was gone How widely was the empire's presence felt in British culture and society What was the place of imperial questions in British party politics Was Britain's status as a global power enhanced or underpinned by the existence of its empire What was the relation of Britain's empire to national identities within the United Kingdom The chapters range widely from social attitudes to empire and the place of the colonies in the public imagination to the implications of imperialism for demography trade party politics and political culture government and foreign policy the churches and civil society and the armed forces The volume also addresses the fascinating yet complex question of how after the formal end of empire the colonial past has continued to impinge upon our post colonial present as contributors reflect upon the diverse ways in which the legacies of empire are interpreted and debated in Britain today

Secular War Stacey Gutkowski, 2013-11-27 How have long standing and unconscious secular assumptions about religion shaped the post 9 11 climate and its wars Stacey Gutkowski explores this little examined yet crucial element of British perceptions of and policy towards Jihadism over the last decade to draw critical conclusions about the relationship between war and the secular She points to a surprisingly coherent body of secular beliefs that have fuelled policies in Iraq Afghanistan and counter terrorism and that have had mixed results responsible for both positive strategies and tragic errors The theory Gutkowski develops on the impact of this secular approach to warfare holds a broader global significance and cannot be viewed as just a British phenomenon This book addresses ongoing and critical debates such as the overreach of Western liberal interventionism in the Middle East and speaks to policy makers security analysts and students of IR Foreign Policy and Security Studies

Migrants, Immigration and Diversity in Twentieth-century Northern Ireland Jack Crangle, 2023-01-01 Addressing questions about what it means to be British or Irish in the twenty first century this book focuses its attention on twentieth century Northern Ireland and demonstrates how the fragmented and disparate nature of national identity shaped and continues to shape responses to social issues such as immigration Immigrants moved to Northern Ireland in their thousands during the twentieth century continuing to do so even during three decades of the Troubles a violent and bloody conflict that cost over 3 600 lives Foregrounding the everyday lived experiences of settlers in this region this ground breaking book comparatively examines the perspectives of Italian Indian Chinese and Vietnamese migrants in Northern Ireland outlining the specific challenges of migrating to this small intensely divided part of the UK The book explores whether it was possible for migrants and minorities to remain neutral within an intensely politicised society and how internal divisions affected the identity and belonging of later generations An analysis of diversity and immigration within this divided society enhances our understanding of the forces that can shape conceptions of national insiders and outsiders not just in the UK and Ireland but across the world It provokes and addresses a range of questions about how conceptions of nationality race culture and ethnicity have intersected to shape attitudes towards migrants In doing so the book invites scholars to embrace a more diverse four nation approach to UK immigration studies making it an essential read for all those interested in the history of migration in the UK

Female Subjectivities in African Literature Smith, Charles, Ce, Chin, 2015-09-23 In literature the ambiguous portraiture of female characters by some male writers and the phallic nature of men s writings have proved a matter of concern to female writers in Africa For decades within African writing the issue of silencing was interrogated particularly as it addressed the muting and marginalisation of black women by male writers through the script of patriarchy which men follow In this series we continue the literary and dramatic tradition of feminist concern for women s issues and we review novels plays and poetry which demonstrate a commitment to exploring the challenges facing modern women in changing times and excerpting the issues of gender feminism identity race history national and international politics specifically as they affect women Female Subjectivities collectively answers the need to question and adumbrate the possibilities of literary revisions showing what it would mean to revise even the Feminist psychoanalyst in a discourse on the subjectivity of women of colour Migrant City Panikos Panayi,2020-04-07 The first history of London to show how immigrants have built shaped and made a great success of the capital city London is now a global financial and multicultural hub in which over three hundred languages are spoken But the history of London has always been a history of immigration Panikos Panayi explores the rich and vibrant story of London from its founding two millennia ago by Roman invaders to Jewish and German immigrants in the Victorian period to the Windrush generation invited from Caribbean countries in the twentieth century Panayi shows how migration has been fundamental to London s economic social political and cultural development br Migrant City sheds light on the various ways in which newcomers have shaped London life acting as cheap labour contributing to the success of its financial sector its curry houses and its football clubs London s economy has long been driven by migrants from earlier continental financiers and more recent European Union citizens Without immigration fueled by globalization Panayi argues London would not have become the world city it is today We Europeans? Tony Kushner,2017-03-02 We Europeans is the first book length study of the original mass observation project It is also the first detailed historical study of the formation of ordinary people s racial attitudes in Britain Drawing upon historical literary cultural and anthropological approaches this book examines the sources of cultural identity in Britain in the twentieth century and how these were shaped through the influences of family education and everyday high and low culture The examination focuses on the archives of the British social anthropological organization Mass Observation and is the first detailed history of it to be published Founded in the 1930s by poets psychoanalysts surrealists and sociologists among others the purpose of the organization was to create an anthropology of the British people by the natives themselves through the use of diaries directives and special surveys The organization was active from 1937 to 1951 then revived in the 1980s when a new group of Mass Observers were recruited to keep diaries and respond to directives Both the historical archive of Mass Observation and the more recent material provide fascinating insight into the everyday lives and formation of identities of ordinary people in Britain Kushner places the material from these archives in the context of other contemporary writings through them he explores grassroots identities in Britain in relation to the outside world especially Europe but also the former Empire and the USA This study will be of interest to scholars of sociology cultural studies literary studies and history who are particularly interested in race race relations immigration and cultural difference Civic Hopes and Political Realities S. Karthick Ramakrishnan,Irene Bloemraad,2008-07-10 For many Americans participation in community organizations lays the groundwork for future political engagement But how does this traditional model of civic life relate to the experiences of today s immigrants Do community organizations help immigrants gain political influence in their

neighborhoods and cities In Civic Hopes and Political Realities experts from a wide range of disciplines explore the way civic groups across the country and around the world are shaping immigrants quest for political effectiveness Civic Hopes and Political Realities shows that while immigrant organizations play an important role in the lives of members their impact is often compromised by political marginalization and a severe lack of resources S Karthick Ramakrishnan and Irene Bloemraad examine community organizations in six cities in California and find that even in areas with high rates of immigrant organizing policymakers remain unaware of local ethnic organizations Looking at new immigrant destinations Kristi Andersen finds that community organizations often serve as the primary vehicle for political incorporation a role once played by the major political parties Floris Vermeulen and Maria Berger show how policies in two European cities lead to very different outcomes for ethnic organizations Amsterdam s more welcoming multicultural policies help immigrant community groups attain a level of political clout that similar organizations in Berlin lack Janelle Wong Kathy Rim and Haven Perez report on a study of Latino and Asian American evangelical churches While the church shapes members political views on issues such as abortion and same sex marriage church members may also question the evangelical movement s position on such issues as civil rights and immigration Els de Graauw finds that many non profit organizations without explicitly political agendas nonetheless play a crucial role in advancing the political interests of their immigrant members Recent cuts in funding for such organizations she argues block not only the provision of key social services but also an important avenue for political voice Looking at community organizing in a suburban community Sofya Aptekar finds that even when immigrant organizations have considerable resources and highly educated members they tend to be excluded from town politics Some observers worry that America s increasing diversity is detrimental to civic life and political engagement Civic Hopes and Political Realities boldly advances an alternative understanding of the ways in which immigrants are enriching America s civic and political realms even in the face of often challenging circumstances

Multiculturalism in the British Commonwealth Richard T. Ashcroft, Mark Bevir, 2019-07-12 At publication date a free ebook version of this title will be available through Luminos University of California Press s Open Access publishing program Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more Multiculturalism as a distinct form of liberal democratic governance gained widespread acceptance after World War II but in recent years this consensus has been fractured Multiculturalism in the British Commonwealth examines cultural diversity across the postwar Commonwealth situating modern multiculturalism in its national international and historical contexts Bringing together practitioners from across the humanities and social sciences to explore the legal political and philosophical issues involved these essays address common questions What is postwar multiculturalism Why did it come about How have social actors responded to it In addition to chapters on Australia Britain Canada and New Zealand this volume also covers India Malaysia Nigeria Singapore and Trinidad tracing the historical roots of contemporary dilemmas back to the intertwined legacies of imperialism and liberalism In so doing it demonstrates that multiculturalism has implications that stretch far beyond its current formulations in public and academic discourse      Race and Racism in Contemporary Britain John Solomos, 1989-09-08 A critical study of the issues which are fundamental to the understanding of race and racism in modern Britain this book examines the history of recent issues the development of central and local government policies the role of racist organizations urban unrest and social change
