Negotiating Empire Solsiree del Moral, 2013-03-15 After the United States invaded Puerto Rico in 1898 the new unincorporated territory sought to define its future Seeking to shape the next generation and generate popular support for colonial rule U S officials looked to education as a key venue for promoting the benefits of Americanization At the same time public schools became a site where Puerto Rican teachers parents and students could formulate and advance their own projects for building citizenship In Negotiating Empire Solsiree del Moral demonstrates how these colonial intermediaries aimed for regeneration and progress through education Rather than seeing U S empire in Puerto Rico during this period as a contest between two sharply polarized groups del Moral views their interaction as a process of negotiation Although educators and families rejected some tenets of Americanization such as English language instruction they also redefined and appropriated others to their benefit to increase literacy and skills required for better occupations and social mobility Pushing their citizenship building vision through the schools Puerto Ricans negotiated a different school project one that was reformist yet radical modern yet traditional colonial yet nationalist
