Racial Formation In The United States 1960 1990:

Racial Formation in the United States Michael Omi, Howard Winant, 1994 Discusses racial formation theory the idea that race is a constructed identity dependent upon social economic and political factors A History of Race in Muslim West Africa, 1600-1960 Bruce S. Hall, 2011-06-06 The mobilization of local ideas about racial difference has been important in generating and intensifying civil wars that have occurred since the end of colonial rule in all of the countries that straddle the southern edge of the Sahara Desert From Sudan to Mauritania the racial categories deployed in contemporary conflicts often harken back to an older history in which blackness could be equated with slavery and non blackness with predatory and uncivilized banditry This book traces the development of arguments about race over a period of more than 350 years in one important place along the southern edge of the Sahara Desert the Niger Bend in northern Mali Using Arabic documents held in Timbuktu as well as local colonial sources in French and oral interviews Bruce S Hall reconstructs an African intellectual history of race that long predated colonial conquest and which has continued to orient inter African relations ever since

The Invisible Workers of the U.S.-Mexico Bracero Program Ronald L. Mize, 2016-08-30 As the first and largest guestworker program the U S Mexico Bracero Program 1942 1964 codified the unequal relations of labor migration between the two nations This book interrogates the articulations of race and class in the making of the Bracero Program by introducing new syntheses of sociological theories and methods to center the experiences and recollections of former Braceros and their families From Betty Crocker to Feminist Food Studies Arlene Voski Avakian, 2005-01-01 Sheds light on the history of food cooking and eating This collection of essays investigates the connections between food studies and women s studies From women in colonial India to Armenian American feminists these essays show how food has served as a means to assert independence and personal identity Men in Place Miriam J. Abelson, 2019-03-19 Daring new theories of masculinity built from a large and geographically diverse interview study of transgender men American masculinity is being critiqued questioned and reinterpreted for a new era In Men in Place Miriam J Abelson makes an original contribution to this conversation through in depth interviews with trans men in the U S West Southeast and Midwest showing how the places and spaces men inhabit are fundamental to their experiences of race sexuality and gender Men in Place explores the shifting meanings of being a man across cities and in rural areas Here Abelson develops the insight that individual men do not have one way to be masculine rather their ways of being men shift between different spaces and places She reveals a widespread version of masculinity that might be summed up as strong when I need to be soft when I need to be using the experiences of trans men to highlight the fundamental construction of manhood for all men With an eye to how societal institutions promote homophobia transphobia and racism Men in Place argues that race and sexuality fundamentally shape safety for men particularly in rural spaces and helps us to better understand the ways that gender is created and enforced Multiracial Identity and Racial Politics in the United States Natalie Masuoka, 2017 Policy makers academic administrators scholars and members of the public are clamoring for indicators of the value and reach of research. The question of how to quantify the impact and importance of research and scholarly output from the publication of books and journal articles to the indexing of citations and tweets is a critical one in predicting innovation and in deciding what sorts of research is supported and whom is hired to carry it out. There is a wide set of data and tools available for measuring research but they are often used in crude ways and each have their own limitations and internal logics.

Measuring Research: What Everyone Needs to Know R will provide for the first time an accessible account of the methods used to gather and analyze data on research output and impact. Following a brief history of scholarly communication and its measurement from traditional peer review to crowdsourced review on the social web, the book will look at the classification of knowledge and academic disciplines, the differences between citations and references, the role of peer review, national research evaluation exercises, the tools used to measure research, the many different types of measurement indicators, and how to measure interdisciplinarity. The book also addresses emerging issues within scholarly communication including whether or not measurement promotes a publish or perish culture, fraud in research or citation cartels. It will also look at the stakeholders behind these analytical tools, the adverse effects of these quantifications, and the future of research measurement.

Anti-racism and Multiculturalism Mark Alleyne, 2017-09-08. All scholarly books are engagements with the existing literature; often the published scholarly work of one established discipline. This book originated with modest objectives to produce a work that would be in conversation with the literature of international relations, even though not of relevance only to that field. The professed goal of international relations is international peace. The ethical lens of pondering the best means to achieve world peace is used to filter media content in the field of multiculturalism and anti-racism. Although there has been little work on the impact of racial difference on the contours of contemporary international order, there has been a sizeable body of research intended to abolish the credibility of pseudo-scientific racism. Such racism has provided the ideological foundation and justification for imperialism, colonialism, the Holocaust, and apartheid. Race has been debunked as a myth. Because of this racism, the ideology bred of human classification according to racial difference has been found to be intellectually and morally barren. But the need to communicate egalitarian and scientific sentiments remains. The contributors to this volume consider five questions: How does the literature on anti-racism improve our understanding of conflict resolution? How does the analysis of the media's role in racist and anti-racist discourses improve the process of theorizing on hate and war propaganda? How can research on anti-racist discourse improve UN peacekeeping? What implications does this subject have for theory building and cultural diversity? How and why should the literature on anti-racism expand research in international relations? This is a unique, worthwhile framework for cross-disciplinary research in race and intellectual consensus and conflict.

Race, Ethnicity, And Nationality In The United States Paul Wong, 2021-09-02. This book is intended for use in advanced undergraduate and graduate level courses on race and ethnicity and on diversity in America. It was first conceived as a collective project of the Research and Resident Scholar Program in Comparative Race Relations at Washington State University which was established in 1994 with support from the Rockefeller Foundation A number of the participating authors are established scholars in racial ethnic studies and several have published award winning bestsellers Others are relative newcomers to the field who were invited to join the project because they were doing important work on less well covered topics such as relations between African Americans and Chicano Latino Americans

Latina/o Discourse in Vernacular Spaces Michelle A. Holling, Bernadette M. Calafell, 2011-02-22 Taking up the charge to study discourses of marginalized groups while simultaneously extending scholarship about Latinas in the field of Communication Latina/o Discourse in Vernacular Spaces Somos de Una Voz provides the most current work examining the vernacular voices of Latinas The editors of this diverse collection structure the book along four topics Locating Foundations Citizenship and Belonging The Politics of Self Representation and Trans National Voices that are guided by the organizing principle of voz voces voice voces Voz voces resonates not only in intellectual endeavors but also in public arenas in which perceptions of Latinas as being of one voice circulate The study of voz voces proceeds from a variety of sites including cultural myth social movement music testimonios a website and autoethnographic performance By questioning and addressing the politics of voz voces the essays collectively underscore the complexity that shapes Latina/o multivocality Ultimately the contours of Latina/o vernacular expressions call attention to the ways that these unique communities continue to craft identities that transform social understandings of who Latinas are to engage in forms of resistance that alter relations of power and to challenge self and dominant representations

Violent America Ariane Chebel d'Appollonia, 2023-02-15 In Violent America Ariane Chebel d'Appollonia counterintuitively analyzes why and how various ethnoracial groups proactively and instrumentally use different forms of violence to achieve their goals Combining a historical analysis spanning the centuries with an examination of contemporary problems she considers how and why ethnoracial groups can be both perpetrators and victims of violence why some minority groups react differently to violence in comparable situations and what the consequences are today for politics in both America and Europe Violent America thus explores the effects of physical and discursive violence on the ways in which ethnoracial groups define themselves Chebel d'Appollonia argues that the use of ethnoracial violence has been and remains an effective identity strategy by which all ethnoracial groups are able to integrate themselves into the mainstream of American society She provides an alternative way of understanding the complex relationship between migrant phobia multiethnic grievances and intergroup conflicts in America information technology Drawing upon leading experts from a wide range of professional disciplines this book addresses conceptual and technical challenges that confront both academic researchers and interviewers with more applied goals From interview theory to the nuts and bolts of the interview process the coverage is impressively broad and authoritative The Handbook of Interview Research is both encyclopedic and thematic As an encyclopedia it provides extensive discussions of the methodological issues now surrounding interview practice offering a multi faceted assessment of what has become the method of choice for obtaining personal information in today s society But the Handbook also is a story which spins a particular tale of interviewing one that moves from the commonly recognized individual interview to what is called the interview society The gist of the presentation is that we can no longer regard the interview as simply an instrument for gathering data but must now also view it an integral part of society

Culture and Difference Antonia Darder, 1995-12-30

The yearning to remember who we are is not easily detected in the qualitative dimensions of focus groups and ethnographic research methods nor is it easily measured in standard quantified scientific inquiry It is deeply rooted obscured by layer upon layer of human efforts to survive the impact of historical amnesia induced by the dominant policies and practices of advanced capitalism and postmodern culture Darder s introduction sets the tone by describing the formation of Warriors for Gringostroika and The New Mestizas In the words of Anzaldua those who cross over pass over the confines of the normal Critical essays follow by Mexicanas poets activists and educators of all colors and persuasions The collection coming out of the good work of the Southern California University system relates to all locales and spectrums of the human condition and will no doubt inspire excellent creativity of knowing and remembering among all who chance to read any part thereof
