Revitalizing Faith Through Pastoral Counseling:

Revitalizing Faith Through Pastoral Counseling Ryan LaMothe, 2001 Ryan LaMothe believes that pastoral counseling involves the practice and process of offering and creating a relationship and communal space where persons can revitalize their faith. He provides a faith psychological model for understanding the practice of pastoral counseling as one of revitalizing faith. LaMothe explores how the experience of faith emerges in human development and how the organizations of these experiences are present in the counseling relationship. LaMothe sets the stage by describing faith as vital concern and studying the dynamics of faith in human interactions. He argues that it is not so much efficacy meaning purpose or pleasure that motivate people but rather the desire to experience being alive and real which are understood as faith experiences. He addresses the development of embodied experiences of faith how a child's developing capacities to make use of objects in concert with caregivers responses partially transform embodied organizations of faith experience into more complex and differentiated organizations of faith experience. A person's capacities for symbolization narrative construction and self reflexivity are seen as critical to shared experiences of faith. Later LaMothe offers three manifestations of corrupted faith in human development and pastoral counseling namely fused faith and the disrupted self protected faith and the defective self and collective faith and the borrowed self. Finally a trinitarian theology is used as a lens for understanding the theory and model of faith development that is offered in this book. Ryan LaMothe in my opinion joins the ranks of those select few who are able to give voice to a comprehensive and coherent faith perspective in the practice of pastoral counseling. He has used technical concepts without being obtuse he has spoken prophetically in confronting lazy pragmatic embracing of whatever works and he has given to the discipline a well articulated construct of faith as vital concern. The metaphor of life or vitality he says alters the very process and goals of therapy. Those who teach and train and supervise pastoral counseling will be grateful for his labor. Human Development and Faith (Second Edition) Felicity B. Kelcourse, 2015-07-28 This book now in its second edition brings together the best available understandings of human development from a multidisciplinary perspective. Uniquely inclusive of the moral and faith dimensions of context and life cycle development Human Development and Faith examines the interplay of mind body family community and soul at every stage of development. It addresses two central questions: What are the good enough conditions of parenting family and community in each phase of life from birth to death which support growth and development? What gives life adequate meaning as development proceeds? If human development describes the normative and hoped for passages of life then faith provides the necessary component of meaning. Throughout the various perspectives offered in this volume is the premise that faith is that quality of living that makes it possible to fully live. The Journal of Pastoral Theology called the first edition of Human Development and Faith an excellent text for pastoral theology courses.

because it fulfills its ambitious goal of bringing a holistic faith perspective to the usual topics of development This second edition includes a new chapter on infancy updates reflecting our growing awareness of cultural diversity and a new preface

Outside of Eden: Part One Fannie M. Buchanan-Featherstone, 2006-08 Beyond Simple Belief JF Jeff Etchberger with JL Julie Lopes, 2021-03-16 This book focuses on how God transforms simple belief that which enables us to believe in Jesus Christ as the Son of God who died for our sins into genuine faith like that of Abraham Jacob David and others The biblical texts of the lives of these individuals reveal that genuine belief is the beginning of movement in the process of becoming of being transformed over time This process moves a person s faith beyond simple belief comprised of mental assent to facts to a genuine faith that encompasses trust in God surrender to his will and a heartfelt embrace of what is believed This genuine faith results in obedience to the one believed Many biblical texts make it explicit that it is God the Holy Spirit who does this work of transformation Scripture provides no direct explanation about how that work is accomplished however the texts reveal it when you look for it This book reexamines some of the familiar biblical stories of well known and important biblical characters We focus on how God brought about his transforming work through daily life events to move each one over time from simple belief to genuine faith anchored in deep trust This trust enabled them to obey God in challenging circumstances We pray that this analysis of the great biblical characters as revealed in Scripture will help you understand how God might be working in your own life to transform your simple belief into genuine faith Converging
