Schuster,2012-12-06 During the Inaugural Meeting of the European Association of Acarologists EURAAC held in Amsterdam in 1987 it was decided that the holding of a Symposium at regular intervals should be a major objective With this in view it was agreed that Professor Reinhart Schuster the senior editor be invited to accept the Presidency of the Association and arising from that Office to organize the first Symposium in Austria in 1988 There was strong support for a main theme focused on a particular aspect of acarology From these discussions there emerged the proposal that emphasis be placed on aspects of reproduction development and life history strategies of the Acari These were topics in the forefront of the discipline with exciting developments of interest not only to acarologists but to a wider audience because of the light they cast on fundamental processes in physiology ecology and evolutionary biology The object then was to invite a small number of key workers to present extended papers related to the main theme There were seven of these all of which appear in the book The remaining 51 contributions were offered papers a number of which fit within the framework of the Symposium theme

Hormonal Regulation of Development III Richard P. Pharis,David M. Reid,2012-12-06 R P PHARIS and D M REID The idea of a separate Encyclopaedia volume dealing with the interrelations of plant hormones with factors in the environment of the plant and its organs and tissues originated with N P KEFFORD and we are most appreciative of the help and advice provided by Prof KEFFORD in the formative stages of this volume We have thus interpreted environment very broadly to include not only factors external to the plant e g gravity light temperature wind mechanical wounding water organism s including pollen and magnetic and electric stimuli but internal factors as well e g nutrients both inorganic and photoassimilate direction and time In our definition of hormonal effect or hormonal involvement we have asked our authors to take a broad approach and to examine not only phenomena that are mediated by the known plant hormones but to discuss as well a wide variety of processes and events where hormonal involvement is implied through more indirect analyses and observations The volume begins with environmental factors internal to the plant R J WEAVER and J O JOHNSON thus examine hormones and nutrients their inter relationship in movement accumulation and diversion As one studies a plant during its rapid growth phase and later as maturation and aging proceed it becomes apparent that time is an environmental cue of great significance one which may exert a major influence via hormonal messages
