Nadin Beckmann, Robert E. Wood

New Kind Of Knowledge Evocations Exhibitions Extensions Excavations:

A New Kind of Knowledge Tarthang Tulku, 2004 This book offers articles by 17 students of the Time Space and Knowledge vision introduced by Tarthang Tulku in 1977 exploring how to think and perceive in new ways In a wide range of styles and approaches they demonstrate forms of inquiry that can illuminate the context of our existence A New Kind of Knowledge features penetrating reflections on knowledge time and experience as well as practical applications in psychology teaching business and time management

Art Nouveau Charlotte Ashby, 2021-10-21 Art Nouveau presents a new overview of the international Art Nouveau movement Art Nouveau represented the search for a new style for a new age a sense that the conditions of modernity called for fundamentally new means of expression Art Nouveau emerged in a world transformed by industrialisation urbanisation and increasingly rapid means of transnational exchange bringing about new ways of living working and creating This book is structured around key themes for understanding the contexts behind Art Nouveau including new materials and technologies colonialism and imperialism the rise of the modern woman the rise of the professional designer and the role of the patron collector It also explores the new ideas that inspired Art Nouveau nature and the natural sciences world arts and world religions psychology and new visions for the modern self Ashby explores the movement through 41 case studies of artists and designers buildings interiors paintings graphic arts glass ceramics and jewellery drawn from a wide range of countries

Experiencing the Past Michael Shanks, 2005-11-16 In Experiencing the Past Michael Shanks presents an animated exploration of the character of archaeology and reclaims the sentiment and feeling which are so often lost in purely academic approaches

Dynamic Personality Science. Integrating Between-Person Stability and Within-Person Change Nadin Beckmann, Robert E. Wood, 2017-12-28 Personality can be understood from at least two perspectives One focuses on stable between person differences or traits The other perspective focuses on within person differences and dynamics i e fluctuations in personality in response to situations and across time This Research Topic reflects recent developments in personality research to integrate both trait and dynamic perspectives An integrated view on personality recognizes both stability in between person differences and within person change Contributors are drawn from research teams across Europe North America and Australasia and from basic and applied fields including organizational educational and clinical The studies reported provide new evidence in support of an integrative approach highlight currently active areas of research and propose new directions of research Current streams of research include the study of contingent units of personality and within person processes underlying traits the comparisons of findings based on within vs between person data the conceptualisation and operationalization of perceived and objective change in situation variables the malleability of personality and the potential for personality interventions Integrative approaches using within person designs provide new bottom up insights into general principles of personality that explain differences between people while reflecting the complexities of within person personality dynamics at the level of the individual
