Y. Leong, 2002 You don't have to look very far these days to see the influence that the film industry of Hong Kong has had on moviemaking around the world Hong Kong film stars such as Jackie Chan Chow Yun fat Jet Li and Michelle Yeoh have become household names headlining Hollywood blockbusters while directors such as John Woo Tsui Hark and Wong Kar wai are closing deals in Tinseltown and developing huge international followings Despite achieving such recognition abroad the luster on Hong Kong's homegrown film industry has faded quite a bit over the past decade However many Hong Kong cinema aficionados who passionately followed the rise of the Hong Kong New Wave during the Eighties and early Nineties only to become increasingly disenchanted since then are now looking to South Korea for Asia's boldest and most innovative films Since 1998 South Korea's local film industry has undergone a remarkable transformation A new generation of Korean moviemakers is revitalizing the industry with bold arthouse productions big budget actioners thought provoking dramas and subversive satires In some circles South Korea is even being likened to the new Hong Kong with its film industry on the verge of exploding onto the world stage similar to how the Hong Kong New Wave catapulted the former British colony and its groundbreaking films into the international spotlight Already some Korean films have found success in the North American market arthouse circuit while Korean directors are being courted by major Hollywood studios for lucrative U S remake rights
