For All Waters Lowell Duckert, 2017-03-31 Recent years have witnessed a surge in early modern ecostudies many devoted to Shakespearean drama Yet in this burgeoning discipline travel writing appears moored in historicization inorganic subjects are far less prevalent than organic ones and freshwater sites are hardly visited For All Waters explores these uncharted wetscapes Lowell Duckert shows that when playwrights and travel writers such as Sir Walter Raleigh physically interacted with rivers glaciers monsoons and swamps they composed hydrographies or bodily and textual assemblages of human and nonhuman things that dissolved notions of human autonomy and its singular narrativity With a playful punning touch woven deftly into its theoretical rigor For All Waters disputes fantasies of ecological solitude that would keep our selves high and dry and that would try to sustain a political ecology excluding water and the poor The lives of both humans and waterscapes can be improved simultaneously through direct engagement with wetness For All Waters concludes by investigating waterscapes in peril today West Virginia's chemical rivers and Iceland's vanishing glaciers and outlining what we can learn from early moderns' eco ontological lessons By taking their soggy and storied matters to heart and arriving at a greater realization of our shared wetness we can conceive new directions to take within the hydropolitical crises afflicting us today
