Our Time Together:

Maribeth R. Ditmars, 2005-01-01 Take him home and enjoy the time that you have left the doctors said Fourteen year old Christopher was losing his battle with leukemia Christopher's Journey is the story of a remarkable young man's four years of cancer treatments and the many lives that he touched along the way Christopher's Journey chronicles Chris's chemotherapy treatments his irrepressible antics and finally his insightful acceptance of his own mortality In many ways the book is like a pediatric version of Tuesdays With Morrie by Mitch Albom because it also alternates between journal entries reflection and narrative Walk in the shoes of the Ditmars family as they face a childhood devastated by terminal cancer Share Chris's unique character and unflappable humor such as the time he glued a quarter to the floor in his hospital room and kept a tally of the ill fated attempts to retrieve it or when he found out he was terminal and he asked his favorite nurse to hurry up and marry him before it was too late Follow Christopher's Journey as it winds its way through the tears and the laughter to a place of peace and hope

Collective Improvisation in a Teacher Education Community Linda Farr Darling, Gaalen Erickson, Anthony Clarke, 2007-06-04 As has been well illustrated in the other books in this series the notion of self study of teaching and teacher education practices has been taken up by teachers and teacher educators as they have searched for new ways of better understanding the complex work of teaching and learning Self study appears to be attractive to practitioners because a self study approach to researching practice is largely driven by their questions issues and concerns Therefore one immediate value of self study is in the way it can inform and almost immediately influence practice This book edited by Linda Farr Darling Gaalen Erickson and Tony Clarke offers an in depth investigation of the CITE program A Community of Inquiry in Teacher Education and is one of the few examples of that which might be described as an institutional self study Loughran 2005 As such the book illustrates the level of commitment and concern that these teacher educators have for their teacher education practices and for the learning about teaching of their student teachers They demonstrate that it is crucial to question the taken for granted and that in so doing to be careful to seek to be appropriately responsive to disconfirming data

Publisher's note: This is a young adult adaptation of Doniga Markegard's Dawn Again. Polyamorous Elders Kathy Labriola, 2022-11-08. This book explores the unique group of elders, ages fifty-five and older, who practice some form of consensual nonmonogamy. It covers both the joys and challenges of multiple relationships for elders and explores how their relationships develop and evolve. Polyamorous elders have the complexities of juggling multiple relationships as well as navigating all the issues of aging: managing medical conditions and disabilities, their own and/or their partners', assuming caregiving responsibilities for aging relatives, grieving the deaths of parents, siblings, and partners, retiring from careers and starting new lives, and potentially moving into some form of senior living. Drawing from her extensive clinical and personal experience working with this population, Kathy Labriola provides anecdotes from polyamorous elders' lives, including the constellation of relationships surrounding each individual couple or triad. This guide will help health care and mental health clinicians, researchers, and professionals, as well as polyamorous elders and their loved ones, better understand the concerns and diverse lifestyles of this population to better represent and support them. Love in a Fearful Land Henri J. M. Nouwen, 2006. This is Henri Nouwen's personal account of a pilgrimage to Santiago Atitlán, a Mayan town in the highlands of Guatemala. It was there that an American priest, Father Stanley Rother, was murdered by a death squad in the parish where he served. In traveling to Santiago, Nouwen hoped to learn more about this modern martyr, about the faith that drew him there and the love that held him in place even when his life was threatened.
