Women, Men, & Gender Mary Roth Walsh, 1997-01-01 Offers pro and con positions on eighteen gender studies issues including research priorities pornography sexual orientation gender impact on knowledge discrimination and working mothers

Race, Culture, Psychology, and Law Kimberly Barrett, William George, 2005 In a diverse democracy law must be open to all All too often however our system of justice has failed to live up to our shared ideals because it excludes individuals and communities even as they seek to use it or find themselves caught up in it The research presented here offers hope The abstract doctrines of the law are presented through real cases Judges lawyers scholars and concerned citizens will find much in these pages documenting the need for reform along with the means for achieving our aspirations. The issues presented by race, ethnicity, and cultural differences are obviously central to the resolution of disputes in a nation made up of people who have in common only their faith in the great experiment of the United States Constitution. Here the challenges are met in an original, accessible, and thoughtful manner. Frank H. Wu, Howard University and author of Yellow Race in America: Beyond Black and White, Kim Barrett, and William George have taken on an enormous task which is matched only by its timeliness. Cultural competence and cultural diversity pass off our lips as eternally valued ideals, but Barrett and George have brought a critical and edifying eye to these ideas. Racism is similarly easy to acknowledge but difficult to account for in the everyday lives of ordinary people of color. What we discover in this impressive volume is not only that race and culture matter, but how they matter in the minds of people who are clients and the minds of people who attempt to serve them and in the courts of law that attempt to mete out justice. Race, Culture, Psychology, and the Law is essential reading for anyone with a professional or personal interest in social justice and psychological well-being. James M. Jones, Ph.D., Director, Minority Fellowship Program, American Psychological Association. This is an extraordinary and daring compilation of cutting-edge commentaries that should prove invaluable to students, scholars, and practitioners working in social work, clinical and forensic psychology, juvenile justice, immigration, adjustment, Native American advocacy, and child and adult abuse. It is a quality text that tackles key topics bridged by psychology and the law with clarity, succinctness, complexity, and evenhandedness. William E. Cross, Jr., Ph.D., Graduate Center, City University of New York. American ethnic and racial minority groups, immigrants, and refugees to this country are disparately impacted by the justice system of the United States. Issues such as racial profiling, disproportionate incarceration, deportation, and capital punishment all exemplify situations in which the legal system must attend to matters of race and culture in a competent and humane fashion. Race, Culture, Psychology, and Law is the only book to provide summaries and analyses of culturally competent psychological and social services encountered within the U.S. legal arena. The book is broad in scope and covers the knowledge and practice crucial in providing comprehensive services to ethnic, racial, and cultural minorities. Topics include the importance of race relations, psychological testing and evaluation, racial profiling, disparities in death penalty conviction, immigration and domestic violence, asylum seekers, deportations, and civil rights, juvenile justice, cross-cultural lawyering, and cultural competency in the administration of justice. Race, Culture, Psychology, and Law offers a compendium of knowledge, historical background, case examples, guidelines, and practice standards pertinent to professionals in the fields of psychology and law to help them recognize the importance of racial and cultural contexts of their clients. Editors Kim Holt Barrett and William H. George have drawn together contributing authors from a variety of academic disciplines including law, psychology, sociology, social work, and family studies. These contributors illustrate the delivery of psychological, legal, and social services to individuals and families from racial minority, ethnic minority, immigrant, and refugee groups who are involved in legal proceedings Race Culture Psychology and Law is a unique and timely text for undergraduate and graduate students studying psychology and law The book is also a vital resource for a variety of professionals such as clinical psychologists forensic psychologists psychiatrists counselors social workers and attorneys dealing with new immigrants and people from various ethnic communities

Religious Attachment Eun Sim Joung, 2020-11-30 Exploration of religious attachment from a psychodynamic perspective this book provides a coherent and convincing account of the roots and characteristics of Christian women's faith experience which will complement and in some respects correct existing accounts Drawing on attachment theory as a conceptual framework this book employs a qualitative methodological approach focusing analysis on linguistic meanings and using autobiographical narrative in depth interviews with a group of ten Korean Christian women Examining the patterns of religious attachment in relation to human attachments the key characteristics in women's faithing are explored the language means and context and the relational and affective accounts of faith with or in which women practice their faith Three major patterns of religious attachment are identified in which the women's faithing strategies and their representations of self and God are presented these are Distance Avoidance Anxiety Ambivalence and Security Interdependence Integrating theoretical and practical implications of religious attachment for Christian education and pastoral practice this book will be a good use to all concerned with women's religious attachment faith development spirituality and education and those working in the field of practical theology pastoral care Christian education counselling and psychotherapy

Assessing Children in the Urban Community Barbara L Mercer, Tricia Fong, Erin Rosenblatt, 2015-12-22 This book illuminates the process of child psychological assessment in community psychology through discussion theory and case studies of collaborative systemic treatment of children and their parents Assessing Children in the Urban Community presents a semi structured form of collaborative psychological assessment designed to help clients gain new insights and make changes in their lives Traditional psychological assessment focuses on diagnosis and treatment but has been slow to include contextual elements particularly social and cultural contexts into the assessment process and psychological report Clients receiving services in a community psychology clinic pay for their treatment through state welfare coverage They cannot choose their providers they cannot always determine the length and course of their mental health care they often do not have access to transportation to begin services to continue them or to take advantage of follow up recommendations The Therapeutic Assessment model is particularly adaptable to community psychology because it allows maximum interaction in the assessment process and promotes participation and collaboration in an often disempowering system This book will be relevant to clinical psychologists community psychologists social workers family therapists graduate students in psychology social work marriage and family therapists and counseling programs

People, Spaces and Places in Gendered Environments Vasilikie (Vicky) Demos, Marcia Texler Segal, 2024-06-03 Demonstrating how women and other marginalized groups respond to the limits and options imposed by the history and structure of spaces this volume envisions a world beyond colonial able bodied class and patriarchal limitations where freedom of movement functions for all

Feminine, Feministic, Feminists, and Feminisms Bushra Naz, Sadia Irshad, Farzana Masroor, Maria Farooq Maan, Stacy Blythe, Abida Sharif, 2025-08-20 This Research Topic aims at bringing together writings across various disciplines to deliberate on how women as a philosophical aesthetic and political category are represented negotiated and transformed in the world of today The representation of women as a philosophical aesthetic and political category has been shaped by cultural and societal norms as well as by historical and political factors While progress has been made in recent years towards greater equality and representation for women there is still much work to be done to fully recognize and celebrate the diversity and complexity of women's experiences and identities There have been continued debates around the notion of feminism becoming obsolete because perceptions exist that feminism has achieved all of its goals However while certain fights have been partially won such as the right to vote and equal access to education women continue to be adversely impacted by all sorts of violence and discrimination in all facets of life Both the United Nations UN and World Health Organization WHO have published various reports on injustice to women and the four key findings suggest 1 approximately 1 in 3 women worldwide according to WHO has experienced physical or psychological violence at some point in their lives UN reports that both women and girls face gender based violence in the form of domestic violence human trafficking and sexual harassment 2 Women face economic injustice as the UN reports that women are often less paid than men for the same work and are more likely to work in low paying jobs in poor working conditions 3 According to a report by the UN women worldwide have less than 25% of parliamentary seats and only 21 countries have women as heads of state 4 WHO reports that women face serious and significant health disparities especially in low income countries including maternal mortality cervical cancer and mental health

Finding Our Voice Matthew D. Kim, Daniel L. Wong, 2020-06-17 No one preaches in a cultural vacuum The message of what God has done in Christ is good news to all but to have the greatest impact on its hearers or even to be understood at all it must be culturally contextualized Finding Our Voice speaks clearly to an issue that has largely been ignored preaching to Asian North American ANA contexts In addition to reworking hermeneutics theology and homiletics for these overlooked contexts Kim and Wong include examples of culturally specific sermons and instructive questions for contextualizing one's own sermons Finding Our Voice is essential reading for all who preach and teach in ANA contexts But by examining this kind of contextualization in action all who preach in their own unique contexts will benefit from this approach
