Out In The Midday Sun:

Out in the Midday Sun Margaret Shennan, 2015-11-01 The story of British Malaya and Singapore from the days of Victorian pioneers to the denouement of independence is a momentous episode in Britain's colonial past Through memoirs letters and interviews Margaret Shennan chronicles its halcyon years the two World Wars economic depression and diaspora revealing the attitudes of the diverse quixotic characters of this now quite vanished world The British came as fortune seekers to exploit Asian trade shipped through Penang and Singapore They found a mature Asian culture in a land of palm fringed shores and primeval jungle Like modern Romans they built townships defences communications and hill stations they spurred a rivalry between the fledgling commercial centres of Singapore Penang and Kuala Lumpur and they superimposed their law and established an idiosyncratic political system They also developed the tin and rubber of the Malay States encouraging Chinese and Indian immigrants by their open door policy The outcome was a vibrant multi racial society the most cosmopolitan in the East

My Life with Noel Coward Graham Payn, 1996-10-31 Other men made fabulous careers out of the opportunities Noel Coward declined But Coward's inner compass charted him on his own course to greatness And when he couldn't find the destination on his maps he invented Samolo his own South Sea island complete with its own indigenous rituals and customs And of course we revisit Coward's worlds constantly in revivals of his classic plays Hay Fever Private Lives Tonight at 8 30 Design for Living and Blithe Spirit This is the definitive memoir of the private Noel Coward by the only man with the compassionate insight and first hand experience to write it Graham Payn star of many of Coward's shows shared the Master's professional and private life for thirty years When Coward kept the rest of the world at bay Payn remained at his side as confidant and friend No one else was as privy to Coward's doubts and dreams

Food Culture in Colonial Asia Cecilia Leong-Salobir, 2011-05-03 Presenting a social history of colonial food practices in India Malaysia and Singapore this book discusses the contribution that Asian domestic servants made towards the development of this cuisine between 1858 and 1963 Domestic cookbooks household management manuals memoirs diaries and travelogues are used to investigate the culinary practices in the colonial household as well as in clubs hill stations hotels and restaurants Challenging accepted ideas about colonial cuisine the book argues that a distinctive cuisine emerged as a result of negotiation and collaboration between the expatriate British and local people and included dishes such as curries mulligatawny kedgeree country captain and pish pash The cuisine evolved over time with the indigenous servants preparing both local and European foods The book highlights both the role and representation of domestic servants in the colonies It is an important contribution for students and scholars of food history and colonial history as well as Asian Studies
