Education and Conflict Lynn Davies, 2003-12-16 First place winner of the Society for Education Studies 2005 book prize Education and Conflict is a critical review of education in an international context Based on the author's extensive research and experience of education in several areas afflicted by conflict the book explores the relationship between schooling and social conflict and looks at conflict internal to schools It posits a direct link between the ethos of a school and the attitudes of future citizens towards others It also looks at the nature and purpose of peace education and war education and addresses the role of gender and masculinity In five lucid vigorously argued sections the author brings this thought provoking and original piece of work to life by Setting out the terms of the debate defining conflict and peace and outlining the relevant aspects of complexity theory for education Exploring the sources of conflict and their relations to schooling in terms of gender masculinity pluralism nationalism and identity Focusing on the direct education war interface Examining educational responses to conflict Highlighting conflict resolution within the school itself This is the first time that so many aspects of conflict and education have been brought together in one sustained argument With its crucial exposure of the currently culpable role of formal schooling in maintaining conflict this book will be a powerful and essential read for educational policy makers managers teachers and researchers dealing with conflict in their own contexts

Enduring Conflict Adrian Little, 2014-02-13 This unique text challenges the notion that absence of conflict is the foundation and norm of a stable political environment Combining complexity theory and the notion of signature with case studies it argues that political processes need to be understood within their social and cultural contexts It thus develops the idea of enduring conflict referring to both the enduring nature of political conflict and the endurance of people in conflict ridden societies looking at countries involved in conflict transformation such as Northern Ireland Cambodia Indonesia and South Africa Examining debates around trauma memory and reconciliation the work shows how conflicts are so socially and culturally ingrained and protracted that political agreements alone cannot bring substantive change In addition key texts such as peace agreements along with interviews of politicians participants and NGOs help identify the conditions under which notions like peace democracy and conflict resolution can even be conceived let alone implemented This innovative text is a significant contribution to the literature as it highlights the limitations of conflict resolution strategies and identifies the issues that pertain to conflicts throughout global politics Written in an accessible manner it will be highly attractive to students in conflict processes peace studies and international relations theory

Church Conflict Charles H. Cosgrove,Dennis D. Hatfield,1994 If church is like a family it fights like one too As in any family conflict in the church family is natural and inevitable But the way the church family handles its fights can make or break ministry By using stories and examples of real problems at actual churches Cosgrove and Hatfield have applied family systems theory to help us identify the hidden structural boundaries in any group relationship They show how the dynamics and family rules operating in the informal family like church system powerfully influence how church members relate to each other

National Cyber Emergencies Greg Austin,2020-01-23 This book documents and explains civil defence preparations for national cyber emergencies in conditions of both peace and war The volume analyses the escalating sense of crisis around state sponsored cyber attacks that has emerged since 2015 when the United States first declared a national emergency in cyberspace It documents a shift in thinking in the USA from cooperative resilience oriented approaches at national level to more highly regulated state led civil defence initiatives Although the American response has been mirrored in other countries the shift is far from universal Civil defence strategies have come into play but the global experience of that has not been consistent or even that successful Containing contributions from well placed scholars and practitioners this volume reviews a selection of national experiences from the USA Australia India China Estonia and Finland and a number of key thematic issues information weapons alliance coordination and attack simulations These demonstrate a disconnect between the deepening sense of vulnerability and the availability of viable solutions at the national level Awareness of this gap may ultimately lead to more internationally oriented cooperation but the trend for now appears to be more conflictual and rooted in a growing sense of insecurity This book will be of much interest to students of cyber security homeland security disaster management and international relations as well as practitioners and policy makers
