Pedagogies of Taking Care Dennis Atkinson, 2022-06-30 This book traces the notion of care and civic values in education that are largely devalued today by neoliberal economic concerns Through a discussion of educators and philosophers including Arendt Foucault Guattari Patocka Simondon Stengers and Whitehead Atkinson explores the gift of otherness in relation to an ethico politics of pedagogic practice and learning including art education He argues for pedagogical practices that facilitate and support each learner's pathways through what is called a pedagogy of taking care This involves paying due attention with empathy to each learner's pathway of learning and to the difference and divergence of such pathways It also requires the teacher to take care to be vigilant towards their own pedagogical frameworks that inform pedagogical work particularly when a student or child produces work that does not accord with such frameworks Atkinson not only critiques current educational policy but advocates possible futures of being not dominated by the neoliberal tools of force and power Pedagogies of taking care allow us to think differently about education and art education and reevaluate it s meaning within research classrooms non formal contexts of education and cultural institutions Feminist Interpretations of Immanuel Kant Robin May Schott,2007-10-11 This volume presents radically divergent interpretations of Kant from feminist perspectives Some essays see Kant as having contributed significantly to theories of rationality and autonomy in ways that can further feminist projects Other essays argue that Kant is a preeminent exponent of patriarchal views and that gender hierarchies are inscribed in the very structure of his theories of morality and aesthetic judgment But both sympathizers and critics challenge the accepted topography of Kantian philosophy by which central philosophical concerns are defined as those that are abstract universal and transcendental Instead these feminist writers resituate Kantian questions in the politics of everyday life and emphasize the embodied nature of knowledge morality and aesthetics They analyze dilemmas that face concentrate subjects involving issues of friendship collective responsibility xenophobia and colonialism among others Dangerous Art James Harold,James Edward Harold,2020 What grounds a judgment that a work of art is immoral This book argues that we cannot judge artworks morally in the same way that we judge people What s more there is no direct influence from moral judgments to aesthetic judgments it is possible for artworks to be both immoral and beautiful Performing Antagonism Tony Fisher,Eve Katsouraki,2017-01-20 This book combines performance analysis with contemporary political philosophy to advance new ways of understanding both political performance and the performativity of the politics of the street Our times are pre eminently political times and have drawn radical responses from many theatre and performance practitioners However a decade of conflict in the Middle East and Afghanistan the eruption of new social movements around the world the growth of anti capitalist and anti globalisation struggles the upsurge of protests against the blockades of neoliberalism and the rising tide of dissent and anger against corporate power with its exorbitant social costs have left theatre and performance scholarship confronting something of a dilemma how to theorize the political antagonisms of our day Drawing on the resources of post Marxist political thinkers such as Chantal Mouffe and Jacques Ranci re the book explores how new theoretical horizons have been made available for performance analysis Conversation Pieces Grant H. Kester,2013-04-15 Grant Kester discusses the disparate network of artists collectives united by a desire to create new forms of understanding through creative dialogue that crosses boundaries of race religion culture Design Issues ,1996 Conspiracy/Theory Joseph Masco,Lisa Wedeen,2023-12-01 In an era of intensified information warfare ranging from global disinformation campaigns to individual attention hacks what are the compelling terms for political judgment How are we to build the knowledge needed to recognize and address important forms of harm when critical information is either not to be trusted or kept hidden Rather than approach conspiratorial narrative as an irrational response to an obviously decipherable reality Conspiracy Theory identifies important affinities between conspiracy theory and critical theory It recognizes the motivation people have in their capacities as experts theorists and ordinary citizens to search for patterns in events to uncover what is covert and attend to dimensions of life that might be hiding in plain sight If it seems strange that so many find themselves living in incommensurable disorienting realities the multidisciplinary contributors to Conspiracy Theory explore how and why that came to be Across history and geography contributors inquire into the affects and imaginaries of political mobilization tracking counterrevolutionary projects while acknowledging collective futures that demand conspiratorial engagement Contributors Nadia Abu El Haj Hussein Ali Agrama Kathleen Belew Elizabeth Anne Davis Joseph Dumit Faith Hillis Lochlann Jain Demetra Kasimis Susan Lepselter Darryl Li Louisa Lombard Joseph Masco Robert Meister Timothy Melley Rosalind C Morris George Shulman Lisa Wedeen

A Wall of Our Own Paul M. Farber, 2020-02-17 The Berlin Wall is arguably the most prominent symbol of the Cold War era Its construction in 1961 and its dismantling in 1989 are broadly understood as pivotal moments in the history of the last century In A Wall of Our Own Paul M Farber traces the Berlin Wall as a site of pilgrimage for American artists writers and activists During the Cold War and in the shadow of the Wall figures such as Leonard Freed Angela Davis Shinkichi Tajiri and Audre Lorde weighed the possibilities and limits of American democracy All were sparked by their first encounters with the Wall incorporated their reflections in books and artworks directed toward the geopolitics of division in the United States and considered divided Germany as a site of intersection between art and activism over the respective courses of their careers Departing from the well known stories of Americans seeking post World War II Paris for their own self imposed exile or traveling the open road of the domestic interstate highway system Farber reveals the divided city of Berlin as another destination for Americans seeking a critical distance By analyzing the experiences and cultural creations of American Berliner artists and activists Farber offers a new way to view not only the Wall itself but also how the Cold War still structures our thinking about freedom repression and artistic resistance on a global scale

become racism Critical race studies has not come up with good answers to this question because it has overemphasized the visibility of race According to dominant theories of racial formation we see race on bodies and persons and then link those perceptions to unjust practices of racial inequality Racial Worldmaking argues that we do not just see race We are taught when where and how to notice race by a set of narrative and interpretive strategies These strategies are named racial worldmaking because they get us to notice race not just at the level of the biological representation of bodies or the social categorization of persons Rather they get us to embed race into our expectations for how the world operates As Mark C. Jerng shows us these strategies find their most powerful expression in popular genre fiction science fiction romance and fantasy Taking up the work of H. G. Wells Margaret Mitchell Samuel Delany Philip K. Dick and others Racial Worldmaking rethinks racial formation in relation to both African American and Asian American studies as well as how scholars have addressed the relationships between literary representation and racial ideology In doing so it engages questions central to our current moment In what ways do we participate in racist worlds and how can we imagine and build one that is anti racist
