modern Dalit writing in Hindi and its pivotal role in the creation rise and reinforcement of a distinctive Dalit identity The book challenges the existing impression of Hindi Dalit literature as stemming from the Dalit political assertion of the 1980s and as being chiefly imitative of the Marathi Dalit literature model Arguing that Hindi Dalit literature has a much longer history in north India it examines two differing strands that have taken root in Dalit expression the early popular production of smaller literary pamphlets and journals at the beginning of the 20th century and more contemporary modes such as autobiographies short stories and literary criticism The author highlights the ways in which such various forms of literary works have supported the proliferation of an all encompassing identity for the so called untouchable castes She also underscores how these have contributed to their evolving political consciousness and consolidation of newer heterogeneous identities making a departure from their long perceived image The work will be important for those in Dalit studies subaltern history Hindi literature postcolonial studies political science and sociology as well as the informed general reader Dalit Text Judith Misrahi-Barak, K. Satyanarayana, Nicole Thiara, 2019-06-18 This book companion to the much acclaimed Dalit Literatures in India examines questions of aesthetics and literary representation in a wide range of Dalit literary texts It looks at how Dalit literature born from the struggle against social and political injustice invokes the rich and complex legacy of oral folk and performative traditions of marginalised voices The essays and interviews systematically explore a range of literary forms from autobiographies memoirs and other testimonial narratives to poems novels or short stories foregrounding the diversity of Dalit creation Showcasing the interplay between the aesthetic and political for a genre of writing that has change as its goal the volume aims to make Dalit writing more accessible to a wider public for the Dalit voices to be heard and understood The volume also shows how the genre has revolutionised the concept of what literature is supposed to mean and define Effervescent first person accounts socially militant activism and sharp critiques of a little explored literary terrain make this essential reading for scholars and researchers of social exclusion and discrimination studies literature especially comparative literature translation studies politics human rights and culture studies

The Political Philosophies of Antonio Gramsci and B. R. Ambedkar Cosimo Zene, 2013-10-23 Bridging two generations of scholarship on social inequality and modern political forms this book examines the political philosophies of inclusion of subalterns Dalits in Gramsci and Ambedkar s political philosophies It highlights the full range of Gramsci s philosophy of praxis and presents a more critical appreciation of his thought in the study of South Asian societies Equally Ambedkar s thought and philosophy is put to the forefront and acquires a prominence in the international context Overcoming geographical cultural and disciplinary boundaries the book gives relevance to the subalterns Following the lead of Gramsci and Ambedkar the contributors are committed apart from underscoring the historical roots of subalternity to uncovering the subalterns presence in social economic cultural educational literary legal and religious grounds The book offers a renewed critical approach to Gramsci and Ambedkar and expands on their findings in order to offer a present day political focus into one of the most crucial themes of contemporary society This book is of interest to an interdisciplinary audience including political theory post colonial studies subaltern studies comparative political philosophy Dalit studies cultural studies South Asian studies and the study of religions Sculpting the Middle Class Deepa Sreenivas,2013-07-04 This book is an analysis of the Amar Chitra Katha genre historical comic books that capture and promote a middle class masculine identity as culture became the new site for right wing hegemonic politics in India over the last 4 decades of the 20th century Southeast Review of Asian Studies ,2006 Caste and nature Mukul Sharma,2017-09-25 Rarely do Indian environmental discourses examine nature through the lens of caste Whereas nature is considered as universal and inherent caste is understood as a constructed historical and social entity Mukul Sharma shows how caste and nature are intimately connected He compares Dalit meanings of environment to ideas and practices of neo Brahmanism and certain mainstreams of environmental thought Showing how Dalit experiences of environment are ridden with metaphors of pollution impurity and dirt the author is able to bring forth new dimensions on both environment and Dalits without valourizing the latter's standpoint Rather than looking for a coherent understanding of their ecology the book explores the diverse and rich intellectual resources of Dalits such as movements songs myths memories and metaphors around nature These reveal their quest to define themselves in caste ridden nature and building a form of environmentalism free from the burdens of caste The Dalits also pose a critical challenge to Indian environmentalism which has until now marginalized such linkages between caste and nature mirrorview Edited Kousik Shastri,2021-03-17 mirrorview seeks to represent not only actual view as mirrored but also the vistas that remain hidden somehow whatever and however small it may be it is our primary aim to publish this journal Welcome to our first issue and thanks to all We hope that you will enjoy reading and continue your support to our initiative Shadows at Noon Joya Chatterji,2025-08-30 Shadows at Noon is an ambitious synthesis of decades of research and scholarship which explores the key strands of South Asian history in the twentieth century with clarity and authority Unlike other narrative histories of the subcontinent that concentrate exclusively on politics here food leisure and the household are given equal importance to discussions of nationhood the development of the state and patterns of migration While it tells the subcontinent's story from the British Raj to independence and partition and on to the forging of the modern nations of India Pakistan and Bangladesh the book's structure is thematic rather than chronological Each of the chapters illuminates on overarching theme or sphere that has shaped South Asia over the course of the century This format allows the reader to explore particular issues such as the changing character of nationalism or food consumption over time and in depth Shadows at Noon is a bold innovative and personal work that pushes back against standard narratives of inherent differences between India Pakistan and Bangladesh Its purpose is to make contemporary South Asia intelligible to readers who are fascinated by the subcontinent's cultural vibrancy and diversity but are often perplexed by its social and political make up And it illuminates the many aspects that its people have in common rather than what divides them
