

OUTDOOR FIRST AID

A PRACTICAL MANUAL

Whether you are a walker, cyclist, canoeist, camper, horse rider, mountain biker, wild swimmer, paddler or hot air balloonist, all outdoor activities carry inherent risks and dangers.

It is often tempting not to let an accident occur, particularly if you are alone, but it is essential to know first aid and medical care when things go wrong. However, since you are in an outdoor location with little immediate help, you need a different approach.

It is often easy to be over-optimistic and think that you will be able to deal with any situation that you find. It is essential to know what to do when things go wrong.

There is a lot of information in this book, but it is not a substitute for a first aid course.
