Duncan, 2008-10-30 The three waves of feminism are explored through the lives of the women who made history in bringing women s issues to the forefront of American society Many early feminists supported not only women s rights but also rights of slaves and contributed to the passing of the Thirteenth Amendment granting emancipation to slaves They continued to work towards women s suffrage and were hopeful the Fourteenth Amendment would provide universal suffrage However women were not granted suffrage until the passing of the Nineteenth Amendment nearly fifty years later It was women s fundamental need for independence and an identity of their own separate from that of men which thrust the women s movement forward and continues to propel it today Many notable women such as Susan B Anthony Elizabeth Cady Stanton Billie Jean King Betty Friedan Helen Gurley Brown Jane Fonda and Sandra Day O Connor are included in this history of the women's movement in America The biographical entries cite works for further reading and the volume closes with a bibliography The Shapers of the Great Debate series takes a biographical approach to history following the premise that people make history in the circumstances in which they find themselves Each volume in this series examines the lives and experiences of the individuals involved in a particular debate through both major and minor biographies Feminist Perspectives on Pastoral Theology Zoe Bennett Moore, 2002-12-12 This book introduces feminist perspectives in pastoral theology It is concerned both with pastoral care and practice and also with pastoral theology and theory It seeks to explore why the inclusion of women s experiences and of feminist perspectives is of vital importance to Christian pastoral practice and to a Christian understanding of God The book is designed for concerned practitioners and also has specifically in mind the needs of students of pastoral theology It begins with the lived experience of violence in Church and society moving through to the implications of this for our understanding of the human community and the divine Ending Auschwitz Marc H. Livingston, Violence forgiveness and healing Domestic violence is a widespread in the topic though largely invisible problem often exacerbated by the pastoral urge to keep the family together at all costs Yet if that is not a solution how should the church relate to batterers I believe that the Christian community if it is to be genuinely a community of healing and hope must attend to both the victims and the perpetrators of domestic violence says David Livingston Addressing the complex phenomenon of intimate violence against wives lovers and children Livingston profiles batterers and battering and traces it to larger cultural pathologies He explores the ambiguous role of religion and then offers practical advice of pastoral and programmatic efforts to embrace simultaneously the twin Christian imperatives of The Concept of Woman, v3 Allen, 1997 The culmination of a lifetime s scholarly work this forgiveness and responsibility pioneering study by Sister Prudence Allen traces the concept of woman in relation to man in Western thought from ancient times to the present Volume I uncovers four general categories of questions asked by philosophers for two thousand years These are the categories of opposites of generation of wisdom and of virtue Sister Prudence Allen traces several recurring strands of sexual and gender identity within this period Ultimately she shows the paradoxical influence of Aristotle on the question of woman and on a philosophical understanding of sexual coomplemenarity Supplemented throughout with helpful charts diagrams and illustrations this volume will be an important resource for scholars and students in the fields of women s studies philosophy history theology literary studies and political science In Volume 2 Sister Prudence Allen explores claims about sex and gender identity in the works of over fifty philosophers both men and women in the late medieval and early Renaissance periods Touching on the thought of every philosopher who considered sex or gender identity between A D 1250 and 1500 The Concept of Woman provides the analytical categories necessary for situating contemporary discussion of women in relation to men Adding to the accessibility of this fine discussion are informative illustrations helpful summary charts and extracts of original source material some not previously available in English In her third and final volume Allen covers the years 1500 2015 continuing her chronological approach to individual authors and also offering systematic arguments to defend certain philosophical positions over against others Women's Studies Index .1993 Mary Lyon and the Mount Holyoke Missionaries Amanda Porterfield, 1997-10-23 American women played in important part in Protestant foreign missionary work from its early days at the beginning of the nineteenth century This work allowed them to disseminate the Prostestant religious principles in which they believed and by enabling them to acquire professional competence as teachers to break into public life and create new opportunities for themselves and other women No institution was more closely associated with women missionaries than Mount Holyoke College In this book Amanda Porterfield examines Mount Holyoke founder Mary Lyon and the missionary women she trained Her students assembled in a number of particular mission fields most importantly Persia India Ceylon Hawaii and Africa Porterfield focuses on three sites where documentation about their activities is especially rich northwest Persia Maharashtra in western India and Natal in southeast Africa All three of these sites figured importantly in antebellum missionary strategy missionaries envisioned their converts launching the conquest of Islam from Persia overturning Satan's seat in India and drawing the African descendants of Ham into the fold of Christendom Porterfield shows that although their primary goal of converting large numbers of women to Protestant

Christianity remained elusive antebellum missionary women promoted female literacy everywhere they went along with belief in the superiority and scientific validity of Protestant orthodoxy the necessity of monogamy and the importance of marital affection and concern for the well being of children and women In this way the missionary women contributed to cultural change in many parts of the world and to the development of new cultures that combined missionary concepts with traditional ideals Re-visioning Gender in Philosophy of Religion Dr Pamela Sue Anderson, 2013-01-28 A passion for justice and truth motivates the bold challenge of Revisioning Gender in Philosophy of Religion Unearthing the ways in which the myths of Christian patriarchy have historically inhibited and prohibited women from thinking and writing their own ideas this book lays fresh ground for re visioning the epistemic practices of philosophers Pamela Sue Anderson seeks both to draw out the salient threads in the gendering of philosophy of religion as it has been practiced and to re vision gender for philosophy today The arguments put forth by contemporary philosophers of religion concerning human and divine attributes are epistemically located yet the motivation to recognize this locatedness has to come from a concern for justice This book presents invaluable new perspectives on the philosopher's ever increasing awareness of his or her own locatedness on the gender often unwittingly given to God the ineffability in both analytic and Continental philosophy the still critical role of reason in the field the aims of a feminist philosophy of religion the roles of beauty and justice the vision of love and reason and a gendering which opens philosophy of religion up to diversity Gender Inclusive Adam Jones, 2008-12-02 Gender Inclusive offers a challenging and unconventional reinterpretation of gender and mass violence compiling two decades of writing on this theme by noted genocide scholar Adam Jones On Learning, Volume 2 David Scott, 2024-01-16 This edited book as you can see from its title is about learning or at least about the concept and practice of learning The contributors to this volume are focusing on two meta concepts knowledge and learning on the relationship between the two and the way these can be framed in epistemic social political and economic terms Knowledge and learning as meta concepts are positioned in various networks or constellations of meaning principally the antecedents of the concepts their relations to other relevant concepts and the way the concepts are used in the lifeworld In this book the various authors explore a number of important concepts that are relevant to the idea of learning These are meta concepts such as epistemology inferential role semantics phenomenology rationality thinking hermeneutics critical realism and pragmatism and meso concepts such as probability woman training assessment education system race friendship Bildung curriculum ecology and pedagogy Like David Scott's first volume of On Learning this collection focusing on philosophy concepts and practices is a response to empiricist and positivist conceptions of knowledge It challenges detheorised and reductionist ideas of learning that have filtered through to the management of our schools colleges and universities over simplified messages about learning knowledge curriculum and assessment and fostered the denial that values are central to understanding how we live and how we should live the normative dimension to social policy and social theorising This book is also an attempt at a

Bildungstheorie On Learning and Ethics David Scott, 2025-01-03 This book focuses on the concepts of learning and ethics and the relationships between them their semantic and epistemic dimensions and how they are used The meaning of a concept object proposition or meta theory lies in the mediations and negotiations we undertake in the world This formulation does not deny the existence of a referent as some semantic theorists are inclined to do What it does is distinguish between an unknowable world and the way we can perceive or come to know that world This positions the truth value of a linguistic utterance or proposition about a concept object object configuration object relation or person in mind world and world mind relationships The book provides for a distinctive understanding of the concepts of learning and ethics and the relationships between them and it develops a unifying framework for their overarching contribution to social theory It addresses one of the key issues of our times that of the relationship between learning and ethics an issue that is neglected in the field of social ontology The audience for this book is the global scholarly and philosophical community The book avoids being narrowly focused on one particular discipline or area of knowledge A secondary audience is students in the English speaking parts of the world focusing their studies on these philosophical matters Woman the Hunter Mary Zeiss Stange,1998-07-01 Over two million American women hunt By taking up weapons for the explicit purpose of killing they are shattering one of Western culture s oldest and most firmly entrenched taboos The image of a woman armed and dangerous is profoundly threatening to our collective psyche and it is rejected by macho males and radical feminists alike Woman the Hunter juxtaposes unsettlingly beautiful accounts of the author's own experiences hunting deer antelope and elk with an argument that builds on the work of thinkers from Aldo Leopold to Clarissa Pinkola Estes Exploring how women and men relate to nature and violence Mary Zeiss Stange demonstrates how false assumptions about women and about hunting permeate contemporary thought Her book is a profound critique of our society s evasion of issues that make us uncomfortable and it culminates in a surprising claim that only by appreciating the value of hunting can we come to understand what it means to be human Controversial and original defying easy stereotypes Woman the Hunter is sure to provoke strong reactions in almost every reader

Women Curriculum Theorists Sandra Leaton Gray, David Scott, 2023-04-21 Most published bodies of work relating to curriculum theory focus exclusively or almost exclusively on the contributions of men This is not representative of influences on educational practices as a whole and it is certainly not representative of educational theory generally as women have played a significant role in framing the theory and practice of education in the past Their contribution is at least equal to that of men even though it may not immediately appear as visible on library shelves or lecture lists This book addresses this egregious deficit by asking readers to engage in an intellectual conversation about the nature of women s curriculum theory as well as its impact on society and thought in general It does this by examining the work of twelve women curriculum theorists Maxine Greene Susan Haack Julia Kristeva Martha Nussbaum Nel Noddings Jane Roland Martin Marie Battiste Dorothea Beale Susan Isaacs Maria Montessori Mary Warnock and Lucy Diggs Slowe The book is not an encyclopaedia nor is it a history book It aims to bring to the reader's attention through a semantic rendition of the world those seminal relationships that exist between the three meta concepts that are addressed in the work feminism learning and curriculum It will appeal to scholars and researchers with interests in curriculum and the philosophy and sociology of education
