Outlandish English Subjects In The Victorian Domestic Novel:

Outlandish English Subjects in the Victorian Domestic Novel T. Carens, 2005-10-19 Victorian domestic novels routinely detect a savage otherness lurking within the English state and subject Outlandish English Subjects in the Victorian Domestic Novel charts the development of this irony within evangelical and anthropological discourses and studies its emergence in the major works of Charles Dickens Charlotte Bront Wilkie Collins and George Meredith Each of these writers disrupts the certitudes of imperial ideology by appropriating the language of ethnography and using it to describe the social domestic field Providing fresh readings of both canonical and neglected novels this original volume will be of interest to students and scholars of Nineteenth Century literature and Postcolonial studies

The Victorian Geopolitical Aesthetic Lauren M. E. Goodlad, 2015 How did realist fiction alter in the effort to craft forms and genres receptive to the dynamism of an expanding empire and globalizing world Do these nineteenth century variations on the geopolitical aesthetic continue to resonate today Crossing literary criticism political theory and longue dur e history The Victorian Geopolitical Aesthetic explores these questions from the standpoint of nineteenth century novelists such as Wilkie Collins George Eliot Gustave Flaubert and Anthony Trollope as well as successors including E M Forster and the creators of recent television serials By looking at the category of sovereignty at multiple scales and in diverse contexts Lauren M E Goodlad shows that the ideological crucible for high realism was not a hegemonic liberalism It was rather a clash of modern liberal ideals struggling to distill themselves from a powerful conservative vision of empire while striving to negotiate the inequalities of power which a supposedly universalistic liberalism had helped to generate The material occasion for the Victorian era s rich realist experiments was the long transition from an informal empire of trade that could be celebrated as liberal to a neo feudal imperialism that only Tories could warmly embrace The book places realism s geopolitical aesthetic at the heart of recurring modern experiences of breached sovereignty forgotten history and subjective exile The Coda titled The Way We Historicize Now concludes the study with connections to recent debates about surface reading distant reading and the hermeneutics of suspicion

Autobiography, Sensation, and the Commodification of Identity in Victorian Narrative Sean Grass, 2019-10-31 An exploration of the commodification of autobiography 1820 1860 in relation to shifting fictional representations of identity

Novel Cultivations Elizabeth Hope Chang, 2019-03-25 Shortlisted for the Best Book Prize from the British Society of Literature and Science Nineteenth century English nature was a place of experimentation exoticism and transgression as site and emblem of the global exchanges of the British Empire Popular attitudes toward the transplantation of exotic species botanical and human to Victorian greenhouses and cities found anxious expression in a number of fanciful genre texts including mysteries science fiction and horror stories Situated in a mid Victorian moment of frenetic plant collecting from the far reaches of the British empire Novel Cultivations recognizes plants as vital and sentient subjects that serve often more so than people as actors and narrative engines in the nineteenth century novel Conceptions of native and natural were decoupled by the revelation that nature was globally sourced a disruption displayed in the plots of gardens as in those of novels Elizabeth Chang examines here the agency asserted by plants with shrewd readings of a range of fictional works from monstrous rhododendrons in Daphne du Maurier's Rebecca and Mexican prickly pears in Olive Schreiner's Story of an African Farm to Algernon Blackwood's hair raising The Man Whom the Trees Loved and other obscure ecogothic tales This provocative contribution to ecocriticism shows plants as buttonholes between fiction and reality registering changes of form and content in both realms

Gothic Machine David J. Jones, 2011-08-15 This book provides new insights into how Gothic Horror as a whole started and encourages the reader to think of the relations between such books and films as one vibrant set of energies

Strange Gods Timothy L. Carens, 2021-11-28 Despite frequent declarations of the sanctity of love and marriage British Protestant culture nurtured the fear that human affection might easily slip into idolatry Throughout the nineteenth century theological essays sermons hymns and didactic fiction and poetry urged the faithful to maintain a constant watch over their hearts lest they become engrossed by human love guilty of worshipping the creature rather than the Creator Strange Gods Love and Idolatry in the Victorian Novel traces the concerns produced in Protestant culture by this broad interpretation of idolatry In chapters focusing on Charles Kingsley and Charlotte Brontë Mary Elizabeth Braddon George Eliot Oscar Wilde and Thomas Hardy this volume shows that even supposedly secular novels obsessively reenact an ideological clash between Protestant faith and human love Anxiety about adoring humans more than God frequently overshadows and sometimes derails the progress of romance in Victorian novels By probing this anxiety and its narrative effects Strange Gods uncovers how a central Protestant belief exerts its influence over stories about love and marriage

The Empire Inside Suzanne Daly, 2011 The Empire Inside is unique in its tight focus on the objects from one geographical location and their deployment in one genre of fiction This combination results in a powerful study with a wealth of fine formal analyses of literary texts and a similar trove of marvelous historical data Elaine Freedgood New York University In The Empire Inside Suzanne Daly does a wonderful job integrating an array of primary materials especially novels and journal essays to show the extent to which these foreign colonial products of India represented absolutely central aspects of domestic life at once part of the unremarkable everyday experience of Victorians and rich with meanings Timothy Carens College of Charleston By the early nineteenth century imperial commodities had become commonplace in middle class English homes Such Indian goods as tea textiles and gemstones led double lives functioning at once as exotic foreign artifacts and as markers of proper Englishness The Empire Inside Indian Commodities in Victorian Domestic Novels reveals how Indian imports encapsulated new ideas about both the home and the world in Victorian literature and culture In novels by Charlotte Brontë Charles Dickens and Anthony Trollope the regularity with which Indian commodities appear bespeaks their burgeoning importance both ideologically and commercially Such domestic details as the drinking of tea and the giving of shawls as gifts point us toward suppressed connections between the feminized realm of private life and the militarized realm of foreign commerce Tracing the history of Indian imports yields a record of the struggles for territory and political power that marked the coming into being of British India reading the novels of the period for the ways in which they infuse meaning into these imports demonstrates how imperialism was written into the fabric of everyday life in nineteenth century England Situated at the intersection of Victorian studies material cultural studies gender studies and British Empire studies The Empire Inside is written for academics graduate students and advanced undergraduates in all of these fields Suzanne Daly is Associate Professor of English University of Massachusetts Amherst

Romance and Power in the Hollywood Eastern Nalini Natarajan, 2020-11-07 This book develops the idea of the Eastern as an analytically significant genre of film Positioned in counterpoint to the Western the famed cowboy genre of the American frontier the Eastern encompasses films that depict the eastern and southern frontiers of Euro American expansion Examining six films in particular Gunga Din 1939 Lawrence of Arabia 1962 Heat and Dust 1983 A Passage to India 1984 Indochine 1992 and The English Patient 1996 the author explores the duality of the Eastern as both aggressive and seductive depicting conquest and romance at the same time In juxtaposing these two elements the book seeks to reveal the double process by which the Eastern both diminishes the East and Global South and reinforces ignorance about these regions histories and complexity thereby setting the stage for ever escalating political aggression

Mobility in the Victorian Novel Charlotte Mathieson, 2015-09-13 Mobility in the Victorian Novel explores mobility in Victorian novels by authors including Charles Dickens Charlotte Bront Elizabeth Gaskell George Eliot and Mary Elizabeth Braddon With focus on representations of bodies on the move it reveals how journeys create the place of the nation within a changing global landscape

Familial Feeling Elahe Haschemi Yekani, 2020-12-07 This open access book discusses British literature as part of a network of global entangled modernities and shared aesthetic concerns departing from the retrospective model of a postcolonial writing back to the centre Accordingly the narrative strategies in the texts of early Black Atlantic authors like Equiano Sancho Wedderburn and Seacole and British canonical novelists such as Defoe Sterne Austen and Dickens are framed as entangled tonalities Via their engagement with discourses on slavery abolition and imperialism these texts shaped an understanding of national belonging as a form of familial feeling This study thus complicates the rise of the novel framework and British middle class identity formation from a transnational perspective combining approaches in narrative studies with postcolonial and queer theory

Victorian Sensation Fiction Andrew Radford, 2008-12-15 A concise and lucid overview of the key criticism from early reviews to twenty first commentaries surrounding the popular genre of Victorian sensation fiction
