History of English and American Literature Henry Augustin Beers,1897 A History of American Literature Fred Lewis Pattee,1896 A History of American Literature, with a View to the Fundamental Principles Underlying Its Development Fred Lewis Pattee,1909 Brief History of English and American Literature Henry A. Beers,2025-07-09 Henry A Beers Brief History of English and American Literature provides a panoramic survey of literary evolution from medieval England to post Civil War America This academic yet accessible work traces the interplay between societal shifts and artistic expression positioning itself within categories like Literary Criticism Cultural History and Educational Textbooks Beers examines foundational texts such as Chaucers Canterbury Tales and Miltons Paradise Lost while contextualizing their creation within religious reforms and political upheavals The American section highlights Puritan sermons role in shaping early national identity and contrasts Emersons transcendentalist essays with Poes gothic tales Beers analyzes how industrialization influenced Dickensian social critiques and Whitmans free verse celebrations of democracy Chapters on the Romantic movement reveal connections between British poets like Wordsworth and their American counterparts such as Bryant emphasizing shared themes of nature and individualism Critical yet balanced the text evaluates literary movements without idolizing figures questioning for instance whether Hawthornes allegories reflect transcendental optimism or latent Calvinist anxieties Beers integrates lesser discussed voices including early African American poets and women writers like Anne Bradstreet enriching the narrative beyond canonical white male authors Thematic threads explore how colonization revolution and technological progress reshaped narrative forms from oral traditions to serialized novels This edition includes updated references to recent scholarship making it valuable for students and enthusiasts seeking a concise yet rigorous overview of anglophone literary heritage The Bulletin of the Hartford Public Library Hartford Public Library,1901

Catalogue of the Pedagogical Library Philadelphia (Pa.). Public Education Board,1907 General Catalogue Belfast Free Library (Belfast, Me.),1896 Schools of Fiction Morgan Day Frank,2023-01-09 Throughout history American literature has provided an escape from the classroom yet authors like Twain Melville and Ellison remain key figures in high school and college curricula This book offers an account of this paradox examining the contentious but ultimately generative relationship between literary and scholastic culture in the US

Unusable Past Russell J. Reising, 2013-11-05 First Published in 2002 Amongst a time of rapid and radical social change New Accents is a positive response to change with each volume seeking to encourage rather than resist the process of change to stretch rather than reinforce boundaries that currently define literature and its academic study This study offers the authors theories of American literature and more specifically his interest here is in how those theories define the canon of American literature and how those definitions influence our understanding and teaching of that canon

Catalogue of the Free Public Library ... Decatur (Ill.). Free Public Library, 1894

Predicting the Past Michael Boyden, 2009 Drawing from the social theories of Niklas Luhmann and Mary Douglas Predicting the Past advocates a reflexive understanding of the paradoxical institutional dynamic of American literary history as a professional discipline and field of study Contrary to most disciplinary accounts Michael Boyden resists the utopian impulse to offer supposedly definitive solutions for the legitimation crises besetting American literature studies by going beyond its inherited racist classist and sexist underpinnings Approaching the existence of the American literary tradition as a typically modern problem generating diverse but functionally equivalent solutions Boyden argues how its peculiarity does not as is often supposed reside in its restrictive exclusivity but rather in its massive inclusivity which drives it to constantly revert to a self negating beyond perspective Predicting the Past covers a broad range of literary histories and reference works from Rufus Griswold's 1847 Prose Writers of America to Sacvan Bercovitch's monumental Cambridge History of American Literature Throughout Boyden focuses on particular themes and topics illustrating the self induced complexity of American literary history such as the early Anglocentric roots theories of American literature the debate on contemporary authors in the age of naturalism the plurilingual ethnocentrism of the pioneer Americanists of the mid twentieth century and the genealogical misrepresentation of founding figures such as Jonathan Edwards Emily Dickinson and Robert Lowell

Gender and Rhetorical Space in American Life, 1866-1910 Nan Johnson, 2002 Nan Johnson demonstrates that after the Civil War nonacademic or parlor traditions of rhetorical performance helped to sustain the icon of the white middle class woman as queen of her domestic sphere by promoting a code of rhetorical behavior for women that required the performance of conventional femininity Through a lucid examination of the boundaries of that gendered rhetorical space and the debate about who should occupy that space Johnson explores the codes governing and challenging the American woman's proper rhetorical sphere in the postbellum years While men were learning to preach practice law and set political policies women were reading elocution manuals letter writing handbooks and other conduct literature These texts reinforced the conservative message that women's words mattered but mattered mostly in the home Postbellum pedagogical materials were designed to educate Americans in rhetorical skills but they also persistently directed the American woman to the domestic sphere as her proper rhetorical space Even though these materials appeared to urge the white middle class women to become effective speakers and writers convention dictated that a woman's place was at the hearthside where her rhetorical talents were to be used in counseling and instructing as a mother and wife Aided by twenty one illustrations Johnson has meticulously compiled materials from historical texts no longer readily available to the general public and in so doing has illuminated this intersection of rhetoric and feminism in the nineteenth century The rhetorical pedagogies designed for a postbellum popular audience represent the cultural sites where a rethinking of women's roles becomes open controversy about how to value their words Johnson argues this era of uneasiness about shifting gender roles and the icon of the quiet woman must be considered as evidence of the need for a more complete revaluing of women's space in historical discourse     The Methodist Review ,1888     Methodist Magazine and Quarterly Review ,1888
