Children's Images of Identity Jill Brown,Nicola F. Johnson,2015-06-25 The understandings which children have of Indigenous identity provide means by which to explore the ways in which Indigenous identity is both projected and constructed in society These understandings play a powerful part in the ways in which Indigenous peoples are positioned in the mainstream society with which they are connected The research presented in this edited collection uses children s drawings to illuminate and explore the images children both mainstream and Indigenous have of Indigenous peoples The data generated by this process allows exploration of the ways in which Indigenous identity is understood globally through a series of locally focussed studies connected by theme and approach The data serves to illuminate both the space made available by mainstream groups and aspects of modernity accommodated within the Indigenous sense of self Our aim within this project has been to analyse and discuss the ways in which children construct identity both their own and that of others Children were asked to share their thoughts through drawings which were then used as the basis for conversation with the researchers In this way the interaction between mainstream modernity and traditional Indigenous identity is made available for discussion and the connection between children s lived experiences of identity and the wider global discussion is both immediately enacted and located within broader international understandings of Indigenous cultures and their place in the world

Foucault and Fiction Timothy O'Leary, 2009-08-27 Foucault and Fiction develops a unique approach to thinking about the power of literature by drawing upon the often neglected concept of experience in Foucault s work For Foucault an experience book is a book which transforms our experience by acting on us in a direct and unsettling way Timothy O Leary develops and applies this concept to literary texts Starting from the premise that works of literature are capable of having a profound effect on their audiences he suggests a way of understanding how these effects are produced Offering extended analyses of Irish writers such as Swift Joyce Beckett Friel and Heaney O Leary draws on Foucault's concept of experience as well as the work of Dewey Gadamer and Deleuze and Guattari Combining these resources he proposes a new approach to the ethics of literature Of interest to readers in both philosophy and literary studies this book offers new insights into Foucault's mature philosophy and an improved understanding of what it is to read and be affected by a work of fiction      Chinese Spatial Strategies Jianfei

Zhu, 2004 How do the Chinese design a space What are the similarities and differences between spaces designed for palaces and cities How were the extension of the Great Wall the reopening of the Grand Canal and the building of Beijing interrelated By closely examining the buildings of Imperial Beijing 1420-1911 this book seeks to answer these questions by exploring whether there is a generic approach to spatial disposition in the Chinese tradition Chinese Spatial Strategies considers spatial design on many levels and in different aspects including The geo-political design of a map of Asia The layout of the city as a representation of imperial ideology The city as a social realm of interrelations between the central authority and local urban society The Forbidden City as an apparatus of power A comparison between European visual compositions and the aesthetic composition of Beijing Drawing upon recent work in social theory the author provides a spatial and political analysis of the Forbidden City and a realistic account of Imperial Beijing This book challenges the convention of formal description of Chinese cities and will appeal to all those with an interest in Chinese buildings and architecture      Night-time and Sleep in Asia and the West Lodewijk Brunt, Brigitte Steger, 2004-06-01

Ideas and practices concerning sleep and night time are constantly changing and widely varied in different cultures and societies What we do during the day and night is the result of much political struggle Trade unions political parties entrepreneurs leaders and schools boards all have an interest in questions of timing for the opening and closing of shops the starting hours of schools and factories and the number of hours people have to work and sleep By drawing together comparative case studies from countries in both Asia and Europe Night time and Sleep in Asia and the West allows the reader to track the differences in the cultural importance given to the night and to compare the ways in which the challenges and opportunities of modernity have been played out in the East and the West      A Teacher, His Students, and the Great Questions of Life, Second Edition John C. Morgan, 2017-01-13

Howarth, 2024-09-17 Live performance has changed poetry more than anything else in the last hundred years it has given poets new audiences and a new economy and it has generated new styles from Imagism to confessional to contemporary Spoken Word But the creative impact that public reading had right through the twentieth century has not been well understood Mixing close listening to archive performances with intimate histories of modernist venues and promoters The Poetry Circuit tells the story of how poets met their audience again and how the feedback loops between their voices the venues and the occasions turned poems into running dramas between poet and listener A nervous T S Eliot reveals himself to be anything but impersonal while Marianne Moore's accident prone readings become subtle ways of keeping her poems in constant re draft Robert Frost used his poems to spar with his fans and rivals while Langston Hughes wrote Ask Your Mama to expose the prejudice circulating in the room as he spoke it The Poetry Circuit also shows how the post war reading boom made new kinds of poetry involving their audience and setting in the performance such as John Ashbery's anti charismatic Poets Theatre Amiri Baraka's documentary soundtracks of the streets or the confessional readings of Allen Ginsberg which shame the listeners more than the poet Covering the first seventy years of the poetry reading The Poetry Circuit demonstrates that there never were page and stage poets the reading simply changed what every modern poet could do
