C. Emmerson,2020-05-24 Defined by borders both physical and conceptual the Roman city stood apart as a concentration of life and activity that was legally economically and ritually divided from its rural surroundings Death was a key area of control and tombs were relegated outside city walls from the Republican period through Late Antiquity Given this separation an unexpected phenomenon marked the Augustan and early Imperial periods Roman cities developed suburbs built up areas beyond their boundaries where the living and the dead came together in densely urban environments Life and Death in the Roman Suburb examines these districts drawing on the archaeological remains of cities across Italy to understand the character of Roman suburbs and to illuminate the factors that led to their rise and decline focusing especially on the tombs of the dead Whereas work on Roman cities has tended to pass over funerary material and research on death has concentrated on issues seen as separate from urbanism Emmerson introduces a new paradigm considering tombs within their suburban surroundings of shops houses workshops garbage dumps extramural sanctuaries and major entertainment buildings in order to trace the many roles they played within living cities Her investigations show how tombs were not passive memorials but active spaces that facilitated and furthered the social and economic life of the city where relationships between the living and the dead were an enduring aspect of urban life Out of Eden Alan Burdick,2006-05-02 In this stunning work of narrative nonfiction the author tours the front lines of ecological invasion in Hawaii Tasmania Guam San Francisco in lush rain forests through underground lava tubes on the deck of an Alaska bound oil tanker So Many Snakes, So Little Time Rick Shine,2022-07-05 Snakes are creatures of mystery arousing fear in many people but fascination in a few Recent research has transformed our understanding of the behaviour and ecology of these animals revealed their important roles in diverse ecosystems and discovered new and effective ways to conserve their populations and to promote coexistence between snakes and people One of the leading contributors to that scientific revolution has been Prof Rick Shine Based in Australia whose snake fauna is diverse and often dangerous his experiences and anecdotes will inspire a new generation of serpent scientists Spellbinding stories highlight the challenges frustrations and joys of discovery and give the reader a greater appreciation of these often slandered slithering reptiles Key Features Documents the important role played by a preeminent herpetologist Focuses on research conducted in Australia especially on snakes Summarizes highly influential conservation studies Explores the ways in

Tardif Lonkog,2014-08-23 With humour insight and irony Lonkog recounts the joys and contradictions of daily life in a Northern Cameroon village Living in Carrefour Poli in Northern Cameroon was never easy How far will one have to go for drinking water during the dry season Will there be money for kerosene to fill the lamp tank For batteries for the torch For a bowl of corn to make fufu for the family Will there be a night encounter with the poison of a snake or scorpion The man of Carrefour Poli imagines when he last had a bottle of beer and when he will next have another Children sit in class staring at the teacher while their work suffers People sit under trees for shade only to cut them down for firewood Ministers run up and down working very hard and sweating but little changes Day and night people turn around on the same spot It takes a long time to build a nation Everything is in limbo
