Ken M.P Setiawan, Dirk Tomsa, 2022-03-28 In Politics in Contemporary Indonesia Ken M P Setiawan and Dirk Tomsa analyse the most prominent political ideas institutions interests and issues that shape Indonesian politics today Guided by the overarching question whether Indonesia still deserves its famous label as a model Muslim democracy the book argues that the most serious threats to Indonesian democracy emanate from the fading appeal of democracy as a compelling narrative the increasingly brazen capture of democratic institutions by predatory interests and the narrowing public space for those who seek to defend the values of democracy In so doing the book answers the following key questions What are the dominant political narratives that underpin Indonesian politics How has Indonesia's institutional framework evolved since the onset of democratisation in 1998 How do competing political interests weaken or strengthen Indonesian democracy How does declining democracy affect Indonesia's prospects for dealing with its main policy challenges How does Indonesia compare to other Muslim majority states and to its regional neighbours Up to date comprehensive and written in an accessible style this book will be of interest for both students and scholars of Indonesian politics Asian Studies Comparative Politics and International Relations

Investing in Indonesia's Education, 2007 What are the current trends and main characteristics of public education spending in Indonesia Is education spending insufficient Are expenditures in education efficient and equitable This study reports the first account of Indonesia's aggregated national and sub national spending on education as well as the economic composition of education spending and its breakdown by programs It presents estimations of the expected average level of education spending for a country with its economic and social characteristics This analysis sheds light on the efficiency and equity of education spending by presenting social rates of return by level of education by assessing the adequacy of current teacher earnings relative to other paid workers and the distribution of teachers across urban rural and remote regions and by identifying the main determinants of education enrollment It concludes that the current challenges in Indonesia are no longer defined by the need of additional spending but rather the need to improve the quality of education services and to improve the efficiency of education expenditures by re allocating teachers to undersupplied regions and re adjusting the spending mix within and between education programs for future additional spending in the sector The study finds that poverty and student aged labor are also significant constraints to education enrollment stressing the importance of policies aimed at addressing demand side factors

Deforestation and REDD+ in Indonesia David Aled Williams, 2023-06-01 This book reflects on Indonesia's recent experience with REDD Reducing Emissions from Deforestation and forest Degradation all set within a broader discussion of neoliberal environmentalism hyper capitalism and Indonesian carbon politics Drawing on the author's political ethnographic fieldwork conducted in Jakarta Central Sulawesi and Oslo where the author examined Norway's interests and role in implementing REDD this book discusses the long evolution of the idea that foreign state and private financing can be used to protect tropical forests and the carbon stored within them resulting in both local economic development and global climate benefits It shows how neoliberal environmental approaches to climate change of which REDD is a leading example increase the severity of political contestations that must be overcome to reach global climate mitigation goals and how recent incarnations of REDD have tended to forget earlier scholarly advice to couple anti deforestation approaches with policies that reduce industrial carbon emissions In Indonesia tectonic political and economic forces are shown to have negatively impacted REDD implementation Using a political ecology approach the book links the literature on REDD with that covering Indonesia's recent democratic regression highlighting how the country's environmental performance is inextricably linked to the timbre of its political governance Given the severity of the political contestations that must be overcome to reach its stated goals REDD cannot replace global policies that drastically reduce industrial carbon emissions This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of political ecology deforestation climate change environmental politics natural resource management and environmental conservation

Indonesian Chinese Descent In Indonesia's Economy And Political Stability DR. Ir. Justian Suhandinata, SE, 2013-02-06 For decades Chinese Indonesians have been in numerous harsh spotlights in their own country Starting from supposedly simple things like obtaining official documents to be legal citizens of Indonesia their only homeland now where they can be harassed and cornered which not seldom can extend to the extremes where they are made as victims and scapegoat particularly when issues related to racism arise Similar to other ethnic groups they also live in different economic classes Some are very wealthy some are rich some live in the middle class economy some dwell in their simple lives some are poor and some try to survive their abject poverty In the urban areas they are seen to live a good life some are very rich or even extremely prosperous Most of these people are businessmen ranging from a colossal size to a mere small business However reality also shows that many Chinese Indonesians in the suburb areas live an uncertain day to day life and some are even extremely poor Fishermen in Tangerang North Sumatra Riau Bangkaor pedicab drivers unskilled labor angkot a small public minibus drivers domestic maids office boys and blue collar workers in West Kalimantan Sambas and Singkawang and Bangka are factual examples of the grueling lives that they have to carry on striving In spite of all the facts people often forget or even intentionally ignore the facts that many Chinese Indonesians have also made positive contributions to their country in many different aspects such as economy sports culture science or political sectors to name a few These facts also need to be understood and enlightened to fellow countrymen in order to portray a more balanced objective view and non discriminatory judgment which in turn can prevent hatred dislike and other unfavorable prejudice against Indonesian citizens of Chinese descent due to the past inaccurate stereotype and labeling This book tries to present an objective portrait of Chinese Indonesians and their roles within their own beloved country and state with the very same goal of all proud Indonesian countrymen to create a stronger unity and integrity of Indonesia a country that highly values pluralism and the unity in diversity principle through the distinguished Pancasila philosophy

For the first time Indonesia has held the presidency of the G20 a forum formed to find joint solutions to global economic conditions This forum which represents 80% of the world economy 75% of international trade and two thirds of the world s population certainly determines the direction of world economic policy Indonesia as the only representative country from ASEAN which is a member of the G20 as well as a developing country can play a role in encouraging and determining the direction of discussion in the interests of developing countries In addition Indonesia has the opportunity to encourage the world s collective efforts to realize policies that can accelerate global economic recovery inclusively and sustainably Important agendas related to national interests that cannot be separated from global economic governance must also be voiced The big theme of the 2022 G20 Indonesia Presidency is Recover Together Recover Stronger this theme was translated into various issues in two tracks namely the Sherpa track and the financial track As the title of the book namely INDONESIA S STRATEGIC ROLE IN THE G20 ACCORDING TO THE VIEWS OF EXPERTS this book discusses in detail how Indonesia s strategic role in each of the issues in the sherpa track and financial track This book raises several issues in the Sherpa Track such as agriculture and food security energy transition environmental and climate sustainability and development issues such as inequality gender digital economy trade and investment In addition there are issues in the Financial Track that are written in this book namely the issue of debt challenges in countries especially developing countries cyber risk financial inclusion and scarring effects and exit strategies to recover and recover from the Covid 19 pandemic This book is the result of a real contribution of economists ideas on various topics especially the Indonesian economy and was prepared in preparation for the G 20 Summit to be held in Bali in November The diversity of backgrounds of the authors provides a new color and enriches the prospects in presenting leading thinkers to unravel Indonesia s economic problems As is well known the Covid 19 pandemic has had a scarring effect on the Indonesian economy resulting in an increase in unemployment poverty and inequality and has caused an economic slowdown

Some of the most impactful sectors are the accommodation and transportation sector the tourism sector to Small and Medium Enterprise SME UMKM Even developing countries are expected to suffer more injuries than countries with advanced economies More serious efforts are needed to support inclusive fair and sustainable growth The policy choices of developed countries to restore the domestic economy created new worries for the world This is because developing countries have a limited ability to provide policy support which is the factor behind the relatively slower recovery compared to developed countries Pandemic recovery is proceeding unevenly in each country requiring a different exit strategy depending on the economic structure quality of available resources and governance in making supportive policies It is very important for all countries to understand the problems facing the world and each country s policy choices for exiting and recovering from a pandemic not just G20 members Therefore Indonesia s presidency at the G20 Summit in 2022 is crucial in overcoming this problem because the G20 countries with the world s largest economic power must be the prime mover to help developing countries both get out of the pandemic crisis trap and face uncertainty due to various social economic problems and politics The main agenda of the G20 meeting is to encourage cooperation to create an inclusive strong and sustainable world economic governance Several agendas that can be agreed on globally such as climate change and green economy transformation towards digitalization of the economy global food security and precautionary recovery policies so as not to add to global problems There must be an understanding from all G20 members that there are problems and solutions that are unique in nature because of the different social political economic strengths and challenges in each country Actually the concept of green economy is not a new concept However recently the world has only recently realized the importance of transforming the global economic approach so that it becomes sustainable The G20 Forum is a kind of declarator again to encourage the implementation of this concept at the global level Moreover G20 countries contribute 80 percent of global carbon emissions and therefore G20 countries must show their seriousness to reduce global carbon by implementing various policies that support carbon reduction efforts In addition digital transformation is also a priority agenda in the G20 forum The Covid 19 pandemic which has escalated the acceleration of digital transformation has encouraged the adoption of digital technology by economic actors During the pandemic technology has opened up space for online marketplaces and services that are increasingly needed Even digital businesses run by women entrepreneurs in all developing G20 countries have significantly expanded during the COVID 19 pandemic The digital based economy continues to grow and is believed to be one of the drivers of future economic growth despite being faced with various challenges Even in the issue of world trade Indonesia needs to voice the importance of reviewing the direction and management of world trade after the Covid 19 pandemic in the G20 forum The G20 countries need to support a balance between the conventional principles of open trade and the needs of each country to achieve a stronger and more sustainable long term economic recovery There are still many other roles for Indonesia in voicing various issues at the G20 forum so what is Indonesia s other role in promoting an inclusive and collaborative post pandemic economic recovery for G20 countries and others      The Chinese in Indonesia, the Philippines and Malaysia Dr. Charles A. Coppel, Hugh Mabbett, 1982-01-01 In the first edition of this Report an appeal was made for the governments of the three countries to welcome at least the local boom Chinese as citizens It was argued that although adoption of the iussoli principle alone would not solve all the problems it was a necessary first step In the present edition it has been seen that the liberalization of access to citizenship for the Chinese in the Philippines and Indonesia has gone some distance toward bringing them into line with Malaysia thereby reducing the size of their alien minorities Although this process could and may well go much further the central issue in all three countries is increasingly similar the extent to which their governments discriminate between those of their citizens who are of Chinese descent and those who are not The goals of national policy in the three countries are frequently contradictory and inconsistent On the other hand a desire for a rapid economic development which can help to alleviate poverty suggests that the governments should make the best use possible of Chinese resources both of skill and of capital with their established network of relationships with Chinese elsewhere in the region including those in Singapore Although this is consistent with a growing regional integration among the ASEAN countries it is inconsistent with separate economic nationalism in those countries It also conflicts with the desire of governments to provide special opportunities for indigenous people to share in the benefits of economic growth On the other hand where they make special provision for access of the indigenous population to certain areas of the economy and educational institutions or restrict the access of Chinese to them to bring about the same result they depart from the principles of non discrimination among citizens regardless of race or ethnic origin to which they claim to adhere Discriminatory policies however benign in intent make it necessary to classify citizens in separate groups and this in turn conflicts with the goal of achieving national unity Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues      Indonesia's Ascent C. Roberts, A. Habir, L. Sebastian, 2015-03-10 This volume explores the domestic and transnational considerations associated with Indonesia's ascent referring to its rise in terms of hard and soft power and its likely trajectory in the future The range of contributors analyse economic resources religious harmony security regional relations leadership and foreign policy

Indonesia's Struggle Greg Barton, 2004 Traces the religious cultural and political development of JI and argues that it has important features in common with other organisations linked to al Qaeda Based on extensive research in Indonesia he assesses the level of support for JI and the Indonesian government's success in dealing with the threat it poses to stability Barton argues that while the Indonesian authorities reacted quickly to the events in Bali their response has not been as effective and timely as is commonly assumed in Australia      Investment in Indonesia United States. Bureau of Foreign Commerce, Ada V. Espenshade, 1956      Indonesia's Regional and Global Engagement Moch Faisal Karim, 2023-06-16 Karim examines the changes and continuity of Indonesia's foreign policy in the post authoritarian era under presidents Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono and Joko Widodo Indonesia conceptualised and aimed to adopt four principle roles after 2004 being a voice for developing countries being a regional leader being an advocate for democratic and human rights and being a bridge builder These roles however were by no means stable and were constantly being negotiated and contested Karim analyses the contested nature of Indonesian foreign policy and the limits this places on consistency in enacting these roles He highlights two drivers for such limitations conflicting role conceptions and state fragmentation He develops this argument based on four case studies of Indonesia's engagement in human rights governance and trade governance at both regional and global levels Essential reading for students and scholars of Indonesia's foreign policy that will also be of substantial value to those studying policy in Southeast Asia more broadly      The Effects of Indonesia's Decentralisation on Forest and Estate Crops in Riau Province Lesley Potter, Simon Badcock, 2001-01-01 Since early 2000 the Center for International Forestry Research CIFOR has conducted research on the decentralisation of forest administration and policies affecting forests in Indonesia This project has sought to document the real and anticipated impacts of decentralisation on forest management forest community livelihoods and economic development at the provincial and district levels During the initial phase of this research CIFOR conducted case studies in nine kabupaten or districts in four provinces Riau East Kalimantan Central Kalimantan and West Kalimantan These case studies were carried out in 2000 with follow up visits to some districts conducted in early 2001 As such the findings presented in the present report and the companion case studies reflect the conditions and processes that existed in the study districts during the initial phase of Indonesia's decentralisation process P iii      Transnational Islamic Actors and Indonesia's Foreign Policy Delphine Alles, 2015-12-14 The past fifteen years have seen Indonesia move away from authoritarianism to a thriving yet imperfect democracy During this time the archipelago attracted international attention as the most populated Muslim majority country in the world As religious issues and actors have been increasingly taken into account in the analysis and conduct of international relations particularly since the 9 11 events Indonesia's leaders have adapted to this new context Taking a socio historical perspective this book examines the growing role of transnational Islamic Non State Actors NSAs in post authoritarian Indonesia and how it has affected the making of Indonesia's foreign policy since the country embarked on the democratization process in 1998 It returns to the origins of the relationship between Islamic organisations and the Indonesian institutions in order to explain the current interactions between transnational Islamic actors and the country's official foreign policies The book considers for the first time the interactions between the parallel diplomacy undertaken by Indonesia's Islamic NSAs and the country's official foreign policy narrative and actions It explains the adaptation of the state's responses and investigates the outcomes of those responses on the country's international identity. Combining field collected data and a theoretical reflexion it offers a distanced analysis which deepens theoretical approaches on transnational religious actors. Providing original research in Asian Studies while filling an empirical gap in international relations theory this book will be of interest to scholars of Indonesian Studies Islamic Studies International Relations and Asian Politics.
